CLARA HAMON ON STAND TELLS HOW HAMON WAS SHOT

Testifies "Pistol Went Off When He Struck It, or I Pulled Trigger, or Something; I don't Know."

SAYS HE KICKED HER 'AGAIN AND AGAIN'

Declares She Was Unlocking Door When He Switched Off Lights and Swung Chair, Pistol Going Off.

By the Associated Press.

ARDMORE, Ok., March 15.—Clara Smith Hamon, charged with the murder of Jake L. Hamon, millionaire oil operator and Republican National Committeeman from Oklahoma, took the witness stand in her trial here today and told her story of the incidents of the day and night of Nov. 21 when Hamon was shot in rooms occupied by the two at a hotel here.

She answered a few preliminary questions and then launched into her story of their last day together.

When she reached the point in her story of the actual shooting, she left the witness stand, and, taking the pistol with which he was shot, in her hand, she illustrated how the shot was fired.

"I didn't go to do it," she said. "The pistol went off when he struck it, or I pulled the trigger or something—I don't know what."

After a few preliminary questions in which she said she was 29 years old, knew Hamon was married and that he had educated her so she might work for him, she was asked to tell the jury how it happened.

"In the morning," she said, and was told to "begin that morning."

"We had breakfast about 11 o'clock," she said. "I think we had breakfast about 11 o'clock; after breakfast Mr. Hamon left me; I presume he went to his office; he usually did on Sunday morning. I went back to my room and in the afternoon about 2:30 or 3 o'clock, I don't just remember, he came back to the room and we had a very pleasant conversation.

Tells of Hamon's Return.

"He lay down on his bed to rest and while he only stayed a short time, perhaps less than an hour, three-quarters of an hour, I would say, then he went back to the office, or he told me he was going back; said he had some friends waiting or some politicians, somebody. I don't just remember who. I was very busy cleaning up my room, reading newspapers and getting my clothes ready to go away to California for my trip, and I decided that I would like to have a little ride, so I got in my car and went for a ride. That was about 6 o'clock.

"I started for my ride about 6 o'clock, and I think I rode about an hour, perhaps a little more than an hour. It was about 7, dark enough for the street lights to be on, when I came back. When I drove up in front of the hotel, Mr. Hamon was sitting in front of the hotel in a chair. Between Mr. Hamon and the door of the hotel there was another chair.

"He immediately grabbed me as I passed and shoved me down in the chair and said he wanted to talk to me, and used profane language.

Testifies Hamon Cursed Her.

"I told him, 'Please don't curse here, don't make a scene. If you want to curse and be mean to me and abuse me, let's go to the room.' He continued to curse me and I noticed that the lights in the car were on and I said, 'Wait a minute. I want to turn the lights of my car off.' He turned me loose and I walked to the car and switched off the lights, and when I passed by him and turned to get through the door, he again grabbed me by the arm and jerked me down on a chair and again cursed.

"I said, 'Go to the room, Mr. Hamon, if you want to abuse me. There are some men standing there. You must not talk that way here in public,' so he got up and I went upstairs to my room. I was afraid of Mr. Hamon, very afraid of him. I saw a look on his face that I had never seen before. He was drunker than I had ever seen him in all the years I had known him. He was drunk and crazy. I don't think the whisky was good red whisky, as Mr. Nichols said. He usually drank good whisky and he wasn't usually crazy like that.

Says Hamon Slipped Into Room.

"When I got to my room the doors were locked between our rooms; that is, the bathroom door was locked. I rang for Bill, the porter. I thought I had better eat something.

"And when Bill came Mr. Hamon slipped in with him. I was afraid of Mr. Hamon. I wanted to keep away from him for 24 more hours so I could go to California and wait for

BYRNES STATES VIEWS ON ECONOMY IN CITY AFFAIRS

Democratic Nominee for Mayor Says it Means to Stop Waste and Spend Funds Judiciously.

James W. Byrnes, Democratic nominee for Mayor, today outlined, to a Post-Dispatch reporter, his conception of the meaning of economy in the city government. The first plank of Byrnes' personal platform is:

"Economical business administration."

"Economy does not mean penuriousness, or a small, peanut policy," the candidate said.

"Economy means to stop waste and spend judiciously.

"The Comptroller's report, which should show where all the city revenues go, is not in enough detail. But some things can be definitely learned from it, and if these are typical, they mean that there is waste in some places, and insufficient expenditures in other places.

Specific Figures Cited.

"The latest report shows an expenditure for salaries and wages of city hall janitors—if this includes the Municipal Courts Building it does not say so—of $109,200; and for salaries and wages at the city hospital, an estimate of $200,000.

"If the city should spend $109,200 for city hall janitors, it should spend $1,000,000 on the city hospital payroll. The hospital is for the poor. Its work should be extended, especially in maternity care.

"For medicines and all other materials at the hospital, the Comptroller shows an expenditure of $211,800. More than one-tenth as much is spent for soap to clean the city hall.

"Comparison with the Railway Exchange Building shows whether the item of $109,200 for city hall janitor service is needed or not. The Railway Exchange Building spends $70,000 a year for janitor service.

Difference in Efficiency.

"Now I recognize that you do not get quite the efficiency from employes in public service that you do in private business; but you ought to get at least 90 per cent as much.

"True economy is to get the proper relation of expenditures, and to put money where it is most needed. It is needed most for the health of the people. The city's best asset is the health of the people, and this is a thing that can be had by paying for it.

"The question is not, how much taxes, but how much do you get in return for your taxes? Economy is to make savings where they can be made, and to spend the money where it is needed."

An Increase of 1,645,849 or 22 Per Cent Over the Preceding Year.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Motor cars registered in the United States last year numbered 9,211,295, an increase of 1,645,849 over the preceding year, or 22 per cent, the Bureau of Public Roads announced today. The registration and license fees amounted to $102,024,106.

In New York State alone the number of cars registered in 1920 exceeded the total registration for the United States in 1910, and the revenue derived in the Empire State from this source was about equal to the entire registration revenues of the United States in 1913. Ninety-six per cent of the 1920 revenue was applied to road maintenance or construction.

FORMER TURKISH GRAND VIZIER ASSASSINATED IN GERMANY

Wife of Talaat Pasha Also Shot by Armenian Student in Street of Charlottenburg.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, March 15.—Talaat Pasha, former Grand Vizier and Minister of Finance of Turkey, was assassinated in Charlottenburg, a western suburb of Berlin, today. He was shot to death. The slayer, an Armenian student, was arrested.

The student accosted Talaat Pasha in the street and then fired the fatal shot. He also wounded Talaat's wife.

Talaat Pasha, with Enver Pasha and Djemel Pasha, formed the Triumvirate which controlled the Turkish Government during the war. In July, 1919, a Turkish courtmartial condemned the three men to death. At the time the sentence was pronounced, however, Talaat had already fled to Germany, in which country Enver Pasha and Djemal also took refuge. Responsibility for the massacres of Armenians was thrown on Talaat Pasha.

PACKAGE OF MAIL EXPLODES

By the Associated Press.

MADISON, Me., March 15.—Dr. John L. Pepper was severely injured this morning when a package he had received at the postoffice exploded as he opened it in his residence.

One hand was blown off, and his face was seriously lacerated. The room was wrecked, and bits of iron were imbeded in the woodwork and plastering.

Officials were able to trace the package to the Anson, Me., postoffice.

PRESIDENT BUSY ON TAX RETURN

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—While job hunters cooled their heels around the White House office today, President Harding toiled over his income tax return.

Like many other Americans, he had left the job to the last moment and only folks with urgent business got in to see him.

Danish King to Visit Greenland.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 25.—The King of Denmark, who is also King of Iceland, will visit Iceland, Greenland and the Faroe Islands in the coming summer with the Queen. This will be the first time any Danish King has visited Greenland.

VAN BLARCOM WILL LEAVES BULK OF ESTATE TO SON

Provides That Washington University Shall Get Heir's Share if He Dies Without Issue.

The will of Mrs. Mary G. Van Blarcom, filed for probate yesterday, leaves the bulk of her estate to be held in trust for her son and only direct heir, Frederick Van Blarcom, with a provision that if he dies without issue the estate is to go to Washington University.

Mrs. Van Blarcom was the widow of J. C. Van Blarcom, former president of the National Bank of Commerce. She died at her home, 1 Westmoreland place, last Friday. The son, Frederick Van Blarcom, is unmarried. The Probate Court adjudged him of unsound mind April 14, last. Thomas P. Gleeson, who was appointed guardian, resigned a week ago, and the St. Louis Union Trust is now guardian.

Husband Died in 1908.

Jacob C. Van Blarcom died in 1908, leaving an estate with a par value of about $4,000,000, which he willed to his wife. Though there have been several settlements in connection with the estate, it has never been formally closed. Claims of creditors amounting to more than $1,000,000 have been allowed.

At the time a guardian was appointed for Frederick Van Blarcom, it was said in court that his personal estate was valued at $11,000.

Mrs. Van Blarcom, in her will, makes the provision that in the event of Frederick's marriage and divorce no part of the principal of his inheritance from her is to be used in the payment of alimony. The principal may be drawn upon in any unusual contingency, such as the performance of a surgical operation on the son or for treatment in his illness.

To Draw Interest.

Frederick is to draw only the interest on the estate, except in such emergencies. If he should die leaving children they are to receive the interest until 21 years old and then receive the principal.

All personal property, wearing apparel, photographs and genealogical letters were bequeathed to Julia F. Hodge of Bloomington, Ill., a cousin, after the son has an opportunity to select such personal property as he desires. A life income of $100 a month is left to John Lewis, a negro servant.

SENATE EXTRA SESSION ENDS

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The extra session of the Senate which began March 4 ended shortly before noon today. After confirming a few additional nominations by President Harding the Senate adjourned sine die.

The last day's session was convened at 11 o'clock in the expectation that the President might be able to send in the nomination of Shipping Board members. The White House, however, telephoned Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, that there was delay in selecting the personnel of the board and Senator Lodge then moved sine die adjournment.

ELECTION BOARD BEGINS INQUIRY INTO PRIMARY

Judges, Clerks and Policemen of Six Polling Places to Be Called Before Commissioners for Questioning.

OFFICIAL COUNT OF BALLOTS COMPLETED

Kiel's Plurality Over Burkham Was 11,176; Nolte's Vote Greater Than Total for Mayoralty.

The Board of Election Commissioners today announced that it had begun the investigation of last Friday's primary by issuing subpenas for the judges, clerks and policemen who served at six precinct polling places to appear before the board at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

The locations and numbers of these precincts were not made public, but it was said that they were polling places whose returns showed suspicious discrepancies between the votes for the leading candidates on both the Democratic and Republican tickets.

The Board today completed the official count on the vote for Mayor and Comptroller. The vote on the Republican ticket was posted to be: Kiel, 70,424; Burkham, 59,248 and Nelsen, 703. Kiel's plurality over Burkham was 11,176. The total Republican vote for Mayor was 130,375 and the vote for Nolte, unopposed Republican candidate for Comptroller, was 131,305.

On the Democratic ticket the vote for Mayor was: Byrnes, 16,891; Lacy, 7968 and Payne, 646. The total vote was 24,405. The vote for Barngrove, unopposed candidate for Comptroller, was 25,595. The votes for the unopposed candidates are taken as the true index of the total vote of each party, as there was no chance that votes on these candidates would be nullified by mistakes in scratching and writing in names.

The unofficial count based on precinct returns sent from the polling places to the Election Commissioners' office the night of the election gave Kiel a majority of 10,935 and Byrnes a plurality of 8574.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN KILLED IN LEAP FROM BROOKLYN BRIDGE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 15.—A man, apparently 50 years old, today jumped off the Brooklyn Bridge and was killed on striking the water many feet below. His body was recovered. The man had only four nickels in his pockets.

Jumping from Brooklyn Bridge, made famous by Steve Brody's spectacular leap for fame, had been attempted many times by those who sought either notoriety or death. Brody was the first to leap into the East River from the bridge and escape with his life, but others also have done so. Several, however, have been killed in attempting to duplicate Brody's feat.

Madison Not Confirmed by Senate.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The special session of the Senate ended this afternoon without having confirmed the appointment of Charles C. Madison as Federal District Attorney for the Western Missouri District. President Harding may give Madison a recess appointment or he may send the name into the Senate again during the next session of Congress. The business of the District Attorneyship will be carried on by J. W. Sullinger, a Wilson appointee.

Today Is Last Chance to File Income Tax Return Without Penalty.

THIS is the final day in which to make State and Federal income tax returns and after today delinquents will be penalized, either by an added penalty of 25 per cent of the tax assessable in Federal returns or a fine by the State. The State law provides a maximum fine of $500 for individuals and $5000 for corporations, and the Federal law a fine of $1000 in aggravated cases.

Payment of the State tax becomes due June 1, and at least one-fourth of the Federal tax must be paid upon making the return.

GROUNDHOG'S "SIX MORE WEEKS OF WINTER" UP TODAY

Official Scorer Will Have to Charge Weather Prophet With an Error This Year.

Today marks the end of the "six weeks more of winter" which followers of the groundhog tradition shiveringly anticipated, when they saw the sun shining brightly on Groundhog day, Feb. 2.

The official scorer will have to charge the groundhog with an error this year. Since the groundhog did his little self-sunning act on Feb. 2, there have been only nine days when the lowest temperature has been below the freezing point, and only one day when the highest temperature has not gone above the freezing point, 32 degrees. The lowest point which has been reached is 23 degrees, and the only ice that has been seen was a thin film over puddles in sidewalk depressions and pavement shellholes.

The period since Groundhog day, which comprises nearly all of February and the first half of March, has merely followed the lead of January and December in mildness. February's mean temperature, 42.1 degrees, was the highest since 1882, and was 7.6 degrees above the normal average. January's mean temperature, 39.2, was the highest since 1914, and was 8.4 degrees above normal. December, 1920, with a mean temperature of 37.5, was also above the past average. The lowest temperature record of the winter was 5 above zero, on Dec. 28.

Still, it is too early to be singing paeans about the mildest winter. Blizzards have been known to interfere with St. Patrick's day parades in this part of the country, and snowstorms have broken limbs from Forest Park trees 'way along in April.

70,000 NEW YORK CENTRAL EMPLOYES REJECT WAGE CUT

Same Action Taken by Both Skilled and Common Laborers of the Railroad.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 15.—All skilled workers employed by the New York Central Railroad, with the exception of members of the "big four" brotherhoods, today announced that they, as well as unskilled laborers, would reject wage cuts proposed by the company. This announcement was made by William Parker, general chairman of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes and Railroad Shop Laborers, after representatives of common laborers had notified the company they would not accept the proposed cuts. Altogether, nearly 70,000 men now have made known their opposition to the plan.

Representatives of common labor employed by the road today promptly rejected wage cuts proposed by the road and declined to join in a joint request to the Railroad Labor Board to adjust the matter. Thereupon officials of the road notified the men the reductions would become effective April 1, in any event.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The Pennsylvania Railroad announced today it would post notices not later than Thursday informing all officers and employes that it proposes to reduce salaries and wages, effective April 20.

TWO WOMEN ON MURDER JURY

CLEVELAND, O., March 15.—Twelve jurors, two of them women, were tentatively accepted yesterday to try Mrs. Maude Miller, 36 years old, charged with the first degree murder of her husband, Peter Miller.

Mrs. Miller went on trial before Common Pleas Judge Florence E. Allen for shooting Miller Jan. 20, four months after their marriage. She says she thought he was a burglar when he forced open the door of their home. For the first time in the history of the county women jurors were asked if they objected to imposing the death penalty upon one of their own sex.

Wilsons Leave Cards at White House.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, when motoring today drove into the White House grounds. Their automobile stopped at the entrance of their former home and they handed an usher cards for the President and Mrs. Harding. The President had just departed for the golf links.

GERMANY CALLED ON TO PAY FIVE BILLIONS BY MAY 1

Reparations Commission Demands Execution of Treaty Provision by Which Costs of Armies Are to Be Met.

ANOTHER TOWN IN OCCUPATION AREA

Bill for Levy on German Goods Advanced in House of Commons After Much Criticism.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, March 15.—Germany was called upon yesterday by the allied reparations commission to carry out article 235 of the Versailles treaty, which stipulates Germany must pay before May 1, 1921, the equivalent of 20,000,000,000 gold marks ($5,000,000,000) in gold, commodities, ships, securities or other valuables. Out of this sum the expenses of the armies of occupation are first to be met.

The commission also took steps to carry out article 233, which provides that Germany must be notified before May 1, next, the total amount of war damage imposed upon her.

"If Germany persists in refusing to make payment," says the Petit Parisien, "she will force us to impose upon her the integral execution of the treaty."

In discussing the protest made to the League of Nations by Germany against enforcement of the penalties for failure to carry out her reparation obligations, the Petit Parisien remarks that the Germans are "losing time and trouble."

The Chamber of Deputies today ordered immediate discussion of interpellations on the recent reparation negotiations in London.

The House rejected Premier Briand's proposal for a postponement of the debate until there was a larger attendance

By the Associated Press.

DUESSELDORF, March 15.—The town of Hamborn, five miles northeast of Ruhrort, was included in the area of Germany under occupation by the allies in an order issued by the Entente military authorities here yesterday. A state of siege has been proclaimed there and all arms, including hunting pieces and sabers, must be turned over. Former German army officers must register before Tuesday night.

Night-long revelry, in which German civilians, German police and French, British and Belgian soldiers freely fraternize, holds uninterrupted sway in Duesseldorf's gay cabarets, huge dance halls and wine restaurants. The curfew regulations imposed by the French commandant have been lifted. The popping of champagne corks, the screeching of jazz music, the strident voices of girl entertainers, the beating of heavy boots on the dancing floors drown out the sounds of the French bugles blowing taps and continue until after the soldiers of occupation roll out of their bunks for reveille.

Radical communist carpenters invited a number of French soldiers to assist at a union meeting here last night. The soldiers, because of the revolutionary character of the addresses, refused to stay, and it became necessary to call in the local police to assist in quelling the fighting which ensued.

The city housing department has been thrown into consternation because of the request by the occupational authorities for 300 two-room apartments, a 16-room house and a number of flats, all furnished.

German Textile Firms Cancel Trade With Allies.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, March 15.—The textile industry in Barmen and Elberfeld, according to the Tages Zeitung's Elberfeld correspondent, is canceling all trade with the Entente nations.

Sentiment in Cologne Against Withdrawal of U. S. Troops.

By the Associated Press.

COLOGNE, March 15.—Discussing the recurring rumor that the American troops along the Rhine would be withdrawn, the Cologne Gazette says:

"Notwithstanding the hardships imposed on the Rhineland population through the forces of occupation, and granting that a general desire to have burdens lightened is most natural, nevertheless, it appears that our interests along the Rhine demand the presence of American troops for the time being at least."

THREE KILLED AND MANY HURT BY BOMB EXPLOSION IN DUBLIN

FARIS DISQUALIFIES HIMSELF IN THE LUMBERMEN'S CASE

"Paradise Lost" Quotation He Once Used Is Employed by Defendants to Induce Him to Withdraw.

A quotation applying to the devil in Milton's "Paradise Lost" that had been used by Judge Faris while on the Supreme Bench of Missouri in a proceeding against lumbermen several years ago was successfully employed today by attorneys for the Southern Pine Association to convince the same Judge in the Federal Court that he should disqualify himself from presiding in the suit of the Government recently instituted to effect the dissolution of the association.

After arguments by counsel for the Government and the defendants, Judge Faris ruled that he would disqualify himself and certify the case to the presiding Judge of this circuit for designation of a Judge to try the suit.

Prejudice Alleged.

The proceeding today was on a petition, supported by an affidavit, that Judge Faris was prejudiced and biased by reason of the fact that he had found against lumbermen defendants several years ago while on the Missouri Supreme Bench, and in a written opinion of that case said of five of the defendants that they were "facile princeps" in the organization and were "in bad eminence."

Assistant Attorney-General Henry S. Mitchell, counsel for the Government, argued that Judge Faris did not mean by the words quoted from "Paradise Lost" that he compared the lumbermen to the devil, but that what he really meant was that they were "in bad eminence" among heir fllow members of the lumbermen's association.

Mant to Challenge Court.

The quotation from Judge Faris' previous opinion was in the affidavit to the petition, and Mitchell contended that although the defense laid stress upon the quoted words, the real reason for the action was to challenge the jurisdiction of the Federal Court of the Eastern District of Missouri, and that the defense wanted the case tried in the Western District at Kansas City. This was admited by counsel for the lumbermen.

Judge Faris remarked in finding for the defense that he had read "Paradise Lost" previous to writing the opinion upon which the objection was based, and would not wish to plead ignorance of such good literature.

The result of today's action will be to assign the case to another Judge, before whom the defense will question the jurisdiction of this district.

PICTURE CENSORED BY PHONE

Duplicate Films Displayed in Pittsburg and Philadelphia.

By the Associated Press.

A "movie" billed by a Pittsburg theater for Monday had not been passed by the board, and in order that the show might be held, it was decided to do the censoring by telephone. A telephone circuit between this city and Philadelphia was set up, and duplicate films were displayed at both points. As the picture was censored in Philadelphia, the changes desired were telephoned to Pittsburg.

FOOD PRICES AND RAIL RATES

CHICAGO, March 15.—The responsibility for high prices of foodstuffs was ascribed to railway rates by speakers before the national shippers' conference yesterday speakers said that "cabbage selling in Chicago for 7 cents per pound is sold for $3.50 a ton in Texas, and oranges are rotting in the groves of California under signs reading, 'Too cheap to sell; help yourself.'"

Glen Plumb, author of the Plumb plan, told the conference that 22 officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad received 100 per cent more in salaries than the 22 highest Government officials, including the President.

Five Police Recruits Among Wounded—Explosion Occurs When House Is Being Searched.

TROOPS HELD IN READINESS FOR RIOT

Disorders Had Been Expected Following Execution of Six Men at Mount Joy Prison Earlier in Day.

By the Associated Press.

DUBLIN, March 15.—Five police recruits were wounded by the explosion of a bomb here last night while searching a house in Great Brunswick street. Three civilians were killed and several were wounded by the explosion.

All troops in Dublin were confined to their barracks last night, officers fearing that there might be disorders as a result of the executions of six men in Mount Joy prison earlier in the day.

The Dublin Corporation, which adjourned last week owing to the murder of several men in Limerick, readjourned yesterday because of the executions.

By the Associated Press.

CORK, March 15.—Several British officers who were wearing citizen's clothes were held up at Cross Haven last night. In the fighting Thomas Hennessy and Michael Murray were killed. John Moyasta, a farmer of West Clare, was shot and killed when he opened his door in response to a knock. Several other murderous attacks were reported here during the night.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, March 15.—The execution of six young men at Mountjoy prison in Dublin yesterday seems to have given a real shock to public sentiment in London.

"It is useless to pretend that these young men belong to a small gang of desperate criminals," says the Westminster Gazette. "Their death is regarded by the mass of the Irish people as martyrdom, and when execution becomes martyrdom it ceases to be a deterrent for crime. If men are to be shot and hanged in Ireland for behaving as rebels, then the mass of young men in Ireland stand under a potential death sentence and we are face to face with what may be a holocaust of executions."

Sir Horace Plunkett has an impressive letter in the Times today pointing out the utter futility of expecting Anglo-American relations to be placed on a friendly basis as long as the Irish sore is kept open.

"Until this very year," he says, "it was arguable by all these who did not know America from within that indignation over the treatment of Ireland was confined to Americans of Irish blood, or others who, from whatever cause, were anti-British. But now the feeling under discussion is wider and deeper than I have known it to be for 40 years. This is most strongly felt by people who earnestly desire friendly relations between the United States and Great Britain."

BRITISH BUY CABLE TO AMERICA

Purchase for $2,850,000 Announced in House of Commons.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 15.—Purchase of a direct cable to the United States was announced by H. Pike Pease, Assistant Postmaster-General, in the House of Commons last night during an explanation of postoffice estimates in the pending budget bill. He said the British Government had acquired the cable for £570,000 (normally approximately $2,850,000), including £100,000 worth of cable stock and three cable stations, at Ballinaskellings, Ireland; Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, and Rye Beach, N. H., and Halifax.

The cable that has been bought is intended as a reserve for the existing imperial cable, and has been leased for a short time to the Western Union company for £57,000 a year. Pease remarked that a new cable would have cost £1,000,000, and that, therefore, he considered the deal as most profitable.

ALERT CONDUCTOR LED TO ARREST OF ORGANIST'S SLAYER

Remembered Queerly Acting Negro Who Boarded Car Near Place in New Jersey Where Body Was Found.

DISCOVERED HIM IN NEGRO SETTLEMENT

Negro Confesses When Blood Is Found on Clothing and Says He Wanted Money to Buy More Gin.

NEW YORK, March 15.—A gin-crazed negro, waiting in the dark and rain storm for anyone to approach, so that he might wrench away money for more gin, was the situation, it developed yesterday, into which Mrs. Edith Wilson, the pretty and talented young church organist of Perth Amboy, N. J., innocently walked Saturday night. Her torn and lifeless form was found early Sunday morning on a lot within 100 feet of her home.

The negro—George Washington Knight—was caught yesterday morning. He confessed. He will be indicted Friday. By the same day of next week he will be on trial at New Brunswick, the county seat, for first degree murder.

Expects to Die for Crime.

Knight said, after he confessed, that he knew what would overtake him. He was going to die, he understood. He had been a soldier with the Ninety-second Division. He couldn't remember the number of his regiment.

"I done it," he said. "I killed the lady. Don't blame nobody else." Then he lighted a cigarette and smoked as he affixed his name to a typed statement.

The Perth Amboy medical authorities have decided that Mrs. Wilson died of shock before the culmination of the negro's attack—that her year heart gave way as soon as he seized her.

Knight stands only 5 feet 4, but he has the shoulder breadth of a man eight inches taller. He weighs 160 pounds. He said he was 22.

Conductor Brought About Arrest.

Knight's capture came about through the mental alertness of Charles Hauser, a young trolley conductor on the New Jersey Central's line which runs between Perth Amboy and Keyport. Hauser, who lives in Keyport, read the report of the slaying while he breakfasted yesterday morning. Hauser remembered that at 10:10 o'clock Saturday a queerly acting, queerly dressed negro had boarded his car at Smith and High streets, Perth Amboy. This was only a block away from the scene of the crime he was reading about. The negro first had sat nervously in the front of the car. Then he had walked to the rear platform and smoked. Next he had offered Hauser a 25-cent tip to speed up the car. He said he wanted to get home quickly to Cliff Wood, which is a brickmaking suburb between Perth Amboy and Keyport. He had alighted at this last-named place.

"I believe I can find the man who killed that organist," the young conductor said to his brother-in-law, Frank Mount, who is a policeman at Keyport. "Let's go through those negro shacks over at Cliff Wood."

The pair went. Hauser described to several negroes the man his car had carried. They said there was such a fellow about, called "George Washington." No one knew his last name. Hauser and Mount finally found Knight (whom Hauser at once recognized) in the shack of an old negress. He had on an apron and was helping her do her breakfast dishes.

A group of negroes gathered about as Mount told Knight he was wanted. Knight at first denied he had been in Perth Amboy Saturday night, but under the accusations of the conductor he finally admitted this much, but denied he knew anything about a woman's death. At Perth Amboy headquarters the prisoner was taken in hand by Chief Detective Long and his assistants. When his outer clothing was stripped and blood was found upon him he broke down.

He had been north from Newport News (where he used to work in the shipyards) only a brief time and had got a job in the Cliff Wood brick yards as a laborer. He and three other negroes, Bob Bates, Dick Henderson and Rogers Fault, had a little money Saturday night. They wanted to get some whisky. They trolleyed to Perth Amboy and got some corn whisky in a saloon near the Tottenville ferry.

Then they went to a place near the center of Perth Amboy and bought four pints of gin. They drank some of this on the premises, more outside. Then they got into an argument as to how much money they owed each other for the gin and what was each one's share of what remained. Knight finally told the others he was going to keep the pint of gin he had in his pocket and not pay anybody. He left them.

Negro Tells of Attack.

"I finished my pint of gin. I wanted more," he told the police. "I wanted to grab some dough. I didn't care who showed up. I didn't care if I killed anybody or not. The first one to come along I was going to get some money. This white lady come along. I grabbed her. She looked up at me once. Then she went dead."

The woman's husband, Harvey Wilson, from whom she had been separated for a considerable time, sat through the recital, pale and speechless. Knight told his story with considerable calmness and when it was reduced to writing he signed it.

The three negroes with whom Knight had been drinking were then brought in, to be held as material witnesses. They confirmed the story up to the point where he left them. One of them admitted having loaned him $2 on the diamond studded platinum watch which the murderer had wrung from his victim's wrist. Then the old negress in whose cabin he was captured was brought in. She had been given a wedding ring and a solitaire diamond Mrs. Wilson had worn.

U. S. DRY AGENTS COME HERE FOR A "CLEANUP"

Supervisor Gates of Southwestern Division in City When Force of About 30 Arrives.

A force of about 30 Federal prohibition enforcement officers, some from New York and some from Arkansas, arrived in St. Louis yesterday to participate in an enforcement "cleanup" here. David A. Gates, supervising Federal prohibition agent for the southwestern division, with headquarters in Little Rock, also arrived yesterday and after making preliminary arrangements for the "cleanup" and participating in one raid, he departed last night for Little Rock.

It is said that a large number of search warrants have been prepared for use by the visiting officers in making raids in St. Louis.

Gates, who has charge of prohibition enforcement in Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma, has a regular force of 48 officers for the five states. While here yesterday he said he had received orders from Washington to drop seven of these men. The order, he said, would go into effect today. Despite this depletion of the staff the work of enforcement will not be seriously hampered in St. Louis while the special force from New York and Arkansas remains here.

Gates Participates in Raid.

Gates and two of the Arkansas officers, J. B. Greeson and George M. Williams, took part with four other officers last night in a raid on John Jackson's saloon at the southwest corner of Ninth and St. Charles streets. They had a search warrant, but did not make the rail until one of the officers who entered alone reporte dto the others that the bartender, Terry Jackson, brother of the proprietor, had sold him a half-pint bottle of whisky. A search of the place was then made and the officers seized 21 bottles of a cough mixture whose label indicated that it contained 42 per cent of alcohol and several bottles of bonded whisky. The bartender was arrested.

Policemen who raided the home of Paul Bakitz, 1833A O'Fallon street, at 2 a. m. today, reported that they found two 50-gallon barrels of mash, seven bottles of alcohol, three bottles of coloring fluid, a small boiler and rubber hose and a number of empty barrels and kegs. They arrested Bakitz.

Arrests by Policemen.

John Miller, bartender at Martin Lohman's saloon, 2129 South Seventh street, was arrested after policemen found a one-gallon jar of what they said was moonshine whisky under a flight of steps leading from the saloon to the basement.

William Mangan, bartender at James Miller's saloon, 1428 Cass avenue, was arrested after policemen seized a bottle bearing the label of a once popular brand of champagne.

BILL DRAFTED TO BUY LAND FOR MISSOURI RIVER RESERVOIR

Director of Public Utilities Hook today submitted to the Board of Public Service the draft of a proposed ordinance providing for the purchase by the city of 52 acres of land in St. Louis County, part of a strip known as Stratmann Hill, which lies between Bonhomme and Link roads, south of Olive Street road, to be used as a reservoir when the city begins pumping water from the Missouri River.

As is known, the city for some time has had under consideration plans for obtaining a supply of water from the Missouri River and, according to a report made by Water Commissioner Wall in 1915, Stratmann Hill is an ideal location for a reservoir, the crest of the hill being about 300 feet higher than the river. The purpose in getting an ordinance for the purchase at this time, Hooke said, is to permit the city to get immediate possession of the land. The present owner, Mrs. Bock, who is the mother-in-law of Hospital Commissioner Shutt, has had an offer for the property from a syndicate desiring to establish a residence subdivision.

The capacity of the Chain of Rocks pumping station is 150,000,000 gallons daily and it has been proposed to build a pumping station in St. Louis County that will have a capacity of about 100,000,000 gallons daily. The city now has an option on the Stratmann Hill land and has agreed to pay $50,000 for it. Hooke's action today is the first definite step in anticipation of the ultimate use of the Missouri River as an additional source of water supply for St. Louis.

DEPRECIATION IN AUSTRIAN EXCHANGE ISSUE IN LAW SUIT

Merchant Sues Western Union for Return of $3000, and $5000 Damages for Alleged Delay.

Alois Schwartz, a dealer in women's furnishings at 1428 Washington avenue, today filed suit against the Western Union Telegraph Co. for the return of $3000 which he placed with the company, Nov. 10, last, for transmission to Alfred Schwarzbart in Vienna, Austria; also for $88, the company's fee for the service, and $5000 damages for the failure of a business deal, alleged to have resulted from delay in transmission of the money.

The petition does not go into details, but Schwartz's lawyer said that during the period while the money was in transmission, Austrian money underwent a heavy depreciation, and that when, after the deal had failed, it was sought to get the money back, the Austrian money which had been obtained in exchange would bring only $1600 of American money.

GERMANY CALLED ON FOR THE PAYMENT OF FIVE BILLIONS BY MAY 1

ion. The debate on the bill threw no new light on the measure, which was strongly criticised, mainly on account of its alleged futility to attain the desired end.

Former Premier Asquith expressed grave misgivings as to whether anything could be obtained by the measure to compensate for the adverse reaction on British trade.

Lloyd George, defending the bill, ridiculed the idea that it would pay Germany to send goods to the value of £50,000,000 to the United States and then back to England to evade the levy.

Replying to questions, Sir Robert Stevenson Horne, president of the Board of Trade, informed the House that British exports to Germany in 1920 were valued at £21,000,000 and imports from Germany at £31,000,000 ($155,000,000).

ST. LOUIS MEMBER IN FIST FIGHT OVER UNIT BILL IN HOUSE

Representative Straub and Hilker of Barry County Exchange Blows at Close of 3-Hour Debate.

RESOLUTION FOR AMENDMENT BEATEN

Opponent of School Measure Asked House to Provide for Referendum or County Option.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 15.—Representative Straub of St. Louis and Representative Hilker of Barry County had a fist fight on the floor of the House shortly afternoon today at the conclusion of a three-hour date on a resolution by Whitaker of Hickory County, renewing the opposition to the county unit school bill.

Whitaker's resolution asked the Senate to adopt an amendment to the county unit bill, providing either for a State referendum or local option, each county to vote whether to adopt the county unit system. The debate waxed warm at times, but neither Straub nor Hilker had participated in it. After the vote had been taken, Whitaker's resolution being voted down, Straub, whose seat is near Hilker's at the extreme north front of the House Chamber, exclaimed: "Well, we put a finish to that." Hilker had favored the resolution and Straub had opposed it.

Hilker, according to other members, replied to Straub: "I'm getting tired of you mixing in."

Fight Between Desks.

"You keep out of this or I'll knock your block off," Straub is said to have replied. He had hardly completed his words when Hilker struck him. Straub struck back, and they fought in a narrow space between the desks.

Leaving the House after adjournment, Hilker waited for Straub on the steps leading to the Capitol for about 15 minutes. To avoid further trouble Straub was induced to leave the Capitol by another door.

The administration forces, believing the adoption of amendments suggested in the resolution would destroy the bill, considered the most progressive measure of the Governor's program, fought Whitaker's resolution vigorously, trying to have it referred to the Committee on Education, which would have had the effect of killing it.

The motion to refer lost by a narrow margin, indicating a considerable change of sentiment on the bill since it was passed in the House. The vote was 59 to refer and 63 against. Surprised at the action, Speaker O'Fallon left the chair to take personal charge of the administration forces on the floor and attempt to stem the tide of opposition.

O'Fallon Defends Measure.

O'Fallon delivered a spirited speech, declaring the local option amendment would kill the bill and that the friends of the bill would vote against the bill if the amendment was added.

"The trouble with the gentleman from Hickory (Whitaker) is that he is entirely destructive and not constructive," O'Fallon said, "and I don't expect to convert him." He also attacked the representatives from St. Louis County, Stevens and Heege, who are really responsible for the renewed opposition to the measure.

After the bill was passed last week, Stevens exhibited a letter signed by G. R. Crissman of the Warrensburg Teachers' College leader for Gov. Hyde in promoting the county unit legislation, promising Stevens that in return for St. Louis County support for the bill, St. Louis County would be eliminated from the provisions of the bill. Whitaker used the Crissman letter to arouse sentiment among the members against the bill.

"Mr. Fair, chairman of the Committee on Education," Stevens said, "promised me a month before Gov. Hyde's special message that the bill would be amended to eliminate St. Louis County. Mr. McCullough of the State superintendent's office was present. Several weeks later they said they would not place the exemption in the county unit bill, but would place it in a separate bill.

Stevens' Statement.

"I did not make the deal because I would not vote to pass a law for other counties which I did not believe a good thing for St. Louis County. Then I received the letter from Mr. Crissman. He afterward tried to get the letter back, but I refused to give it to him.

"I have been asked why we did not offer an amendment to exclude St. Louis County. I will tell you. The Czar over in the Senate was cracking his whip for this bill and I knew there was no use putting on any amendments over here."

LIVING COST DATA PRESENTED AT FRISCO WAGE CONFERENCE

Brotherhood Officials Seek to Show Conditions Do Not Warrant Reduction at This Time.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 15.—No definite proposals to reduce wages were made by the representatives of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes of the Frisco line at the conference which opened here this morning. The conference was devoted to an exchange of views between Frisco officials and the union representatives and the discussion of the advisability of a wage reduction later.

Brotherhood representatives submitted living cost data tending to show that reductions in commodity price do not warrant a wage cut at this time. They also contended that this class of labor did not receive any increase in pay until commodity prices had nearly reached the peak. Frisco officials submitted revenue and operating figures to support their position that a general wage reduction is necessary to avoid a financial deficit.

A similar conference was held between Frisco officials and representatives of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers and Station Employes. This brotherhood is working under a contract with the Frisco signed last year.

Representatives of both brotherhoods informed the Frisco officials emphatically they would resist all efforts to reduce wages and announced they were in better position for resistance than ever before. The results of today's conferences, affecting about 11,000 Frisco employes, will be submitted to the United States Railroad Labor Board.

GRANDSON OF EARLY ILLINOIS SETTLER ENDS HIS LIFE

Abernathy Despondent Because of Inability to Obtain Work.

Samuel Abernathy, 55 years old, grandson of Miles Abernathy, one of the early settlers of Illinois, ended his life yesterday at a rooming house at 11 South Fourth street, East St. Louis, by swallowing carbolic acid. He was a carpenter, and was unable to obtain lucrative employment. During the past few weeks he sought to raise some money by selling land grants, signed by President James Monroe in 1814, giving his grandfather land in the Utah River Valley, in which, he said, was a placer mine from which ore has been obtained which assayed $350 in gold to the ton.

Abernathy made minute arrangements for his funeral, leaving a letter to an undertaker telling how he desired to be prepared for burial, and wrote letters to relatives and friends.

In a letter addressed to the public, he said, "Please do not allow any flowers around me when I am gone. If you cannot give to help when you are alive do not make a show when dead. I don't know where I am going but I will be on my way. I do not know how long it will take me, but I have gone to stay. Well, the stage is all set for the last act. Down goes the curtain at 2 a. m. DAD. Down and out—get out—gone."

80-YEAR-OLD MAN FINED $700 ON YOUNG GIRLS' STORY

Children Say He Offered Them Money to Go to His Room.

William McMaster, 80 years old, of 1803 Division street, was fined a total of $700 and costs amounting to $12 in Police Court today on charges of disturbing the peace and immoral conduct. McMaster was unable to pay the fine, and will be sent to the workhouse.

Fannie Weiner, 10 years old, of 1836 O'Fallon street, and Bessie Berger, 11, of 1929 O'Fallon street testified that yesterday McMaster met them on the street and offered them 5 cents each to go to his room to talk to him. McMaster denied the charge and said the children came to his room of their own accord.

McMaster was fined $50 on each of two charges of immoral conduct, and $300 on each of two charges of disturbing the peace.

MOVE FOR NEW STATE APPROVED

Idaho Governor Gives Consent to Take Matter to Congress.

By the Associated Press.

BOISE, Idaho, March 15.—Gov. Davis last night gave his approval to the joint resolution authorizing the appointment of a commission to direct the movement of the 10 Northern Idaho counties, which would be formed, with 10 counties of Eastern Washington, into a new State.

The resolution authorized the appointment of a commission of five to confer with a like commission, to be appointed by the Washington Legislature, for the purpose of deciding on the boundary lines and taking the matter of creating a new State directly to Congress. Under the plans so far made, Spokane is to be the capital of the proposed new State. The Northern Idaho counties are to be included, together with the territory in Eastern Washington comprising as many counties.

$10,000 DONATED BY WOMAN TO ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITY FUND

Mrs. J. L. D. Morrison Is Sixth Woman to Qualify as One of "Founders" of School.

At the meeting of the St. Louis University Endowment Fund Committee, to be held at the university tonight, formal announcement will be made of a gift to the fund of $10,000 by Mrs. J. L. D. Morrison of the Buckingham Hotel, who through this contributon becomes the sixth woman to qualify as one of the "founders" of the university.

The six women founders, Mrs. Julia Maffitt Walsh, Mrs. William C. McBride, Mrs. John L. Boland, "Patrona Indigena," Mrs. Morrison and "Galla Benegenita," have contributed a total of $140,000 toward a $3,000,000 fund in the past three months.

PROCEEDINGS IN STILLMAN DIVORCE CASE HALTED

By the Associated Press.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 15.—Court proceedings incident to the suit for absolute divorce brought by James A. Stillman, president of the National City Bank of New York, against his wife, the former "Fifi" Potter, were adjourned indefinitely here today before Supreme Court Justice Morschauser.

John F. Brennan of counsel for Mrs. Stillman, told the Justice that counsel for both sides had agreed to postpone indefinitely argument on an application concerning the examination of Stillman for the purpose of ascertaining his income, relative to determination of alimony and counsel fees.

When asked if this action was a prelude to dropping the entire case, Brennan made no reply and refused to discuss any other angles.

He also declined to discuss reports that the case might be taken to California or Nevada.

The motion before the Court today involved an application by the defense for $10,000 a month alimony and counsel fees amounting to $25,000.

WIDOW OF PIONEER RIVER STEAMBOAT CAPTAIN DIES

Mrs. Margaret L. McCord, 71 years old, member of a pioneer St. Louis family and widow of John T. McCord, a Mississippi River steamboat captain, died at 1:15 a. m. today of pneumonia at St. John's Hospital, after several weeks illness.

She was born in St. Louis and was the daughter of Capt. "Pat" Yore, founder of the Anchor Line Steamboat Co., and one of the earliest steamboat men on the Mississippi River. For the last 12 years she had lived in New York City with her daughter, Mrs. Walker Whiteside, wife of the actor. Capt. McCord died 19 years ago.

Mrs. McCord recently came here to visit her sister, Mrs. Sarah O. Walton, and became ill shortly after her arrival. She also is survived by a son, Lewis Powell McCord, and a granddaughter, Rosamond Whiteside. Mrs. McCord shared in the Yore estate, and owned much property in St. Louis.

The funeral will be at 10 a. m. Thursday from the St. Francis Xavier Church, Grand avenue and Lindell boulevard. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

PACKING HOUSE EMPLOYES TO TAKE VOTE ON STRIKE

East St. Louis Workers Will Consider Action at Meeting Tonight.

Employes of the packing houses in East St. Louis will meet tonight at Polish Hall, Seventh street and St. Clair avenue, to vote on a proposition to strike because of the reduction in wages which went into effect yesterday, and which the leaders say is contrary to the agreement entered into between the packers and their employes.

Last night the East St. Louis members of the Amalgamated Association of Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers of North America met in Polish Hall and heard addresses by Earl Jimmerson, international district president; Gus Mansfield, international representative, and J. J. Connors, president of the District Council. No action relative to the changed wages or working conditions was sought.

The meeting this evening is for members of all crafts employed in the packing houses, irrespective of union affiliation. About 85 per cent of the packing house employes are members of the Amalgamated Association. The vote tonight will be tabulated tomorrow and forwarded to the national headquarters in Chicago, and no announcement will be made of the result of the local vote. The total national vote will have to be tabulated to ascertain the sentiment of the workers.

ARMY MASCOT A POSTMASTER

President Appoints Porto Rican Who Came to U. S. After Spanish War.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Cornelio D. Vargas, who came to the United States at the close of the Spanish-American War as mascot of the Fourth Ohio Infantry Regiment, is going back to his home town of Guayama, Porto Rico, soon, to serve as Postmaster.

His nomination was sent to the Senate yesterday by President Harding, who was a member of the Ohio Senate when a special act was passed allowing the youngster to be admitted to the home for orphans of soldiers and sailors at Xenia. Vargas is now an employe in the post-office at Columbus, O., and he is the first postmaster to be named by Mr. Harding.

Your Will in the Courts

The man who leaves a will has the Courts on his side. If the instrument itself is clearly and properly drawn, the authorities will look with disfavor upon any efforts to break it.

It is a mistake to think that wills are easily broken, or that leaving a will in any way complicates the settlement of an estate.

On the contrary, a proper will is the sure way to simplify the settlement of your estate and to insure the full protection of the law for the people to whom you wish to give money or property. In nine cases out of ten you can save money by employing a lawyer to draw a will for you. In practically all cases this will save time, confusion and risk.

Our Trust Department will be glad to co-operate with your attorney.

Streets of Petrograd Strongly Patrolled — Refugees Say Soldiers Can No Longer Be Trusted.

By the Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, March 15.—Russian Bolshevik authorities seem to be losing control of the soviet troops, it is said in dispatches received here from Finland and Esthonia. These messages, for the most part confused and unreadable, were pouring into this city yesterday and last night.

Artillery fire from the fortress of Kronstadt was directed yesterday along the southern coast of the Gulf of Finland, between Oranienbaum and Petrograd. Bolshevik artillerymen in Krasnaya Gorka shelled and destroyed the lighthouse at Tollbaaken, off Kronstadt, during the day.

A man who had just arrived from Kronstadt was interviewed on Sunday night, and he emphatically denied Bolshevik reports that some of the Kronstadt forts had been captured by the Bolsheviki. He said the revolutionary leadership was wholly in the hands of laborers, and he declared the fight for the fortress would be a long one, as the garrison of Kronstadt was relying on getting food stores from the American Red Cross station at Viborh, Finland.

Refugees reaching Stockholm from Petrograd say that the streets of the city are strongly patroled by soviet troops, and they declare that the ordinary Bolshevik soldiers are no longer to be trusted.

"Mr. Hamon paced up and down, running his hands through his hair as he did when he was agitated, and the minute Bill went out and the door was hardly closed, Mr. Hamon said with an epithet: 'Where have you been?' and grabbed me at the same time and choked me until I was blind and I couldn't seem to think."

"I will finish the story, Mr. McLean," she said. "He took pains to kick me in the back and he kicked me and choked me and I struggled to get up and did get up and he choked me again and backed me up against the window and choked me again and again and slapped me and then again.

"He wasn't satisfied with that and he twisted the skin on my hand; he twisted and he wasn't satisfied with that, he bent my fingers back and tried to break them and then he said: 'I will cut your throat.' And he reached for his knife. The knife had fallen out of his pocket in the afternoon while he was lying on the bed and I picked it up and put it over on the table.

"He walked out of the room and then when he did not have the knife in his pocket, he reached for the knife I had given him on a little gold chain and somehow, someway, that knife wasn't there. He looked around and meantime he was choking me and beating me very bad. I cannot remember all of it. It is too much for anybody to remember. I endured that sort of torture."

"Did he make any remarks to you?" McLean asked.

"Well, I am getting to that, Mr. McLean," she replied, continuing: "He said, 'You have been riding with somebody, haven't you?' and I said, 'No, you know I haven't.' I knew that he knew I hadn't. He was drunken crazy. When he didn't find his gold knife and as I was going to tell you, he saw a knife on the dresser he had given me a long time ago. It was very, very sharp. He reached for that knife and said, 'I would just as soon slit your throat as draw on this cigar.' Anyway, when he reached for that knife I knew the time had come. Unconsciously or consciously, or somehow, I reached back and in my purse on the window sill, got my little gun. I asked him to stand back and let me pass."

"Held Gun on Him," She Says.

"Well, what did you do with the gun, with the pistol, when you got hold of it—what did you do with it?" McLean asked.

"What did I do with it? What would anyone do with it if they thought their life was in danger?" the young woman replied.

"Never mind that, what did you do with it?" her counsel asked.

"I held it on him," she went on. "He did back away sort of behind a chair and put his hand on the back of the chair. He did not raise his hands. I didn't ask him to. I passed him, too. I wasn't very far from him when I passed between the corner of the bed and Mr. Hamon and the chair to get to the door. He backed around to the door between our rooms and then I went to the door to get out. Holding my hand like this to back up to the door to unlock it. When he did that I could not see him, you understand.

"And, understand, when I unlocked the door to go, in that instant he turned off the light and raised the chair to strike me and did strike me. I could see from the light of the hall. He struck me with that chair and the gun went off."

The defendant left the stand and walked before the jury box to illustrate her version of it.

"And I was unlocking the door, like this, and, holding the gun on Mr. Hamon," she said, "he was just out of my sight for a minute and he got around the corner and the chair came down on me and it knocked the gun on the floor like that and it went off as it fell, or I pulled the trigger or something as he hit me. I don't know. The gun went off."

"Didn't Mean to Shoot Him."

"I had the pistol in my hand when Mr. Hamon hit me with the chair and it went off. I didn't mean to shoot him," she continued, closing her story.

She said her marriage to Hamon's nephew was for the former's convenience and that she "never lived with him a minute," and that it "was not supposed they would live together."

"I went under the name of Clara Smith part of the time and under the name of Hamon," said said. "I used the name Hamon for Mr. Hamon's convenience, when he wanted me to, and part of the time used the name Smith. I have given checks signed Clara B. Smith when I had the money in the bank as Clara B. Hamon; part of the time I used the name Smith and part of the time Hamon."

She told about having purchased the pistol with which Hamon was killed. She said: "Mr. Hamon gave me the money and told me to buy it.

After the Shooting.

"Upon the day Mr. Hamon was shot—that you shot him—when did you—after the pistol fired—what took place, what did you say to Mr. Hamon, if anything, relative to the light in the room?" queried her counsel.

The witness replied: "He said, 'Clara, you hit me!' or 'it hit me!' something like that; I don't remember positively.

"I said, 'Mr. Hamon, I am sure I did not hit you.' I said, 'Lie on the bed and I will call Dr. Hardy. I think I said Dr. Hardy; he was always our best friend and I think I said Dr. Hardy. He said, 'No, don't; I can walk to the hospital.' 'I said, 'But I must call the doctor if you are hit.' He said, 'Yes, I am hit, Clara, I will go to the hospital myself.' He raised his vest to show me where he was hit." He left the room, the witness said, weeping.

"'I will say it was an accident; if anyone asks you about this tell them it is all right; I will make the explanation,'" she quoted him as saying.

She said that after the shooting she changed clothes which she said had been torn badly in the fight, went out and put up her motor car and returned to her room, where she spent the night.

"Now, the next morning, did you go—what was the first place you went to the next morning?" McLean asked.

"I went to the hospital to see Mr. Hamon," she replied. "He had asked the nurse to call me."

She said she remained at the hospital only a few minutes and then went to Ketch's office.

"Now, you heard Mr. Ketch's statement on the witness stand as to what took place there. Was his statement practically correct in the main?" she was asked.

"No, I can't remember all of his statement, but I know much of it was incorrect," she replied.

Ketch, former business manager for Hamon and now administrator for the estate, testified he gave the woman $5000 on Hamon's instructions and had directed that she leave Ardmore and remain away.

After the noon recess the defendant related her visit to the hospital.

"Mr. Hamon held out his arms and pulled me down and kissed me and asked me to forgive him and said it never would have happened if he had not been drunk," she said Hamon told her at the hospital.

She said Hamon told her she should leave town to save scandal, but to come back that afternoon.

Tells of Receiving Money.

She described the conference with Ketch at which she was given money to leave Ardmore. She said when she got to Durant, Ok., after having missed the north train from Ardmore, she decided to return to Ardmore, but when in the car, changed her mind and went on south by motor car to Denison. From Denison she said she was driven by motor car to Dallas, where she tried to get an airplane to San Antonio. She said she could not get a plane for an hour and that then it did not look safe, so she started to motor to San Antonio. She said she was acting on instructions of Ketch, in whom she had implicit confidence as her friend and Hamon's friend.

She said Everett W. Sallis was her chauffeur from Dallas, but she denied she carried two pistols, as he had said. She said she was driven to Cisco, Tex., where she bought a ticket for El Paso. She said she remained in Juarez, across from El Paso, three days and then went to Chihuahua City.

Denies Saying She Shot Man.

She very emphatically replied "I did not" when asked if she had told Sallis she had shot a man, and that nothing had been said to Sallis about her having shot a man and that no discussion on the subject of weapons best for killing men was had.

"If that is true, I want to kill myself," she said she told Hamon when he said he had been shot and that Hamon took the pistol from her. She said she did not want Hamon to die. Her voice wavered again.

"Leave and never come back," the witness said Ketch told her, but that when her uncle, Ben Harrison, got to her she decided to return to Ardmore.

"While in Old Mexico did you meet a fellow going under the name of Sam Blair?" McLean asked.

"I did," she replied. She said she had read what purported to have been an interview with her, and that it was what she had told the court this morning. She said she never had got any money except $125 from her oil and motion picture properties, owned jointly with the Hamon estate and Ketch.

"He certainly was not," the witness replied to the question if Hamon was shot when lying on a bed.

Denies Putting Hand on Head.

"I certainly did not," she replied when asked if she had placed her hand on Hamon's head and fired the shot which killed him.

On cross-examination she said she was 29 years old and next October would be 30, and "had been living with Mr. Hamon eight or nine years."

"No, sir, not when I began living with him," Clara said when asked if she was 17 when that arrangement began. She said she began working for Hamon in 1913 and worked at least two years.

Met Him in Kansas City.

She said she frequently went to Kansas City to meet Hamon while she was attending a school at Lexington, Mo., but that he did not come to Lexington. She said he came to see her at Fort Worth.

"No, sir, I was not," she said when asked if she were jealous of Mrs. Hamon, the wife of Jake Hamon. She had admitted she knew Hamon was married and the father of two children.

Attorney-General Freeling read a letter introduced yesterday and the witness said "I will stop it one way or another," in the letter, meant she was ready to quit him at any time and permit him to return to his family.

"Well, I expect I was, but I don't recall why at this time," she said, she nasked if she had been jealous of any other woman, excepting Mrs. Hamon at any time.

"Is it the Enid matter or Mrs. H. which keeps me away?" she said meant was it a trial at Enid Hamon was in, or was it Mr. Hamon's wife.

"He did always," she said when Attorney-General Freeling asked if Hamon had promised to marry her.

"Were there anw children born of this relation?" Attorney-General freeling asked. "No," she replied.

The State yesterday introduced two letters written by the defendant to Hamon, postmarked in 1915, and a contract signed by Clara Hamon, dated Jan. 27, 1916, "in settlement in full for relations existing between us and for claims for money."

Letters Read Into Record.

Neither of the two letters read into the record yesterday bore a date line. One was mailed from Kansas City, Mo., April 8, 1915, it was written on the stationery of a hotel. Parts of it follow:

"I am so worried and so mad. Audrey came up last night and she told us that one of the boys at the academy told her that Mrs. H—— had written one of the boys there and told everything, and added a great many lies. Audrey never knew before that you were even married or anything, so you can imagine how I felt. It's awful and you stand for it. • • • It kills me to think my lovely friends at Lexington College will know that mess of stuff. • • • If you don't stop it I won't ever, ever come to Oklahoma and I never want to be your sweetheart. If your love for me is not the kind to protect me I can live without it. I won't stand that any longer—and I'm telling you for the last time. If you don't stop it I will one way or another—keep it in mind. If you ever do go to see her again, don't speak to me. • • • You never seem to think I must consider anyone in this world but you. You don't care whose heart I break if I do some crazy thing to please you. • • •

Letter by Special Delivery.

The other one, mailed special delivery from Kansas City, Mo., July 19, 1915, read:

"Monday. Dearest—I just received your letter. You complain of not hearing from me. Dearie, I've written you every day. • • • Say, I have decided to go home Wednesday or Thursday night for a few days, unless you think it best for me to stay away from Oklahoma on account of the Enid matter. If you think I had better stay here until after that is settled, call me, for otherwise I will leave here for Lawton Wednesday night. I am unhappy here. • • • Since I can't come to you now, I believe you would feel better if I were home. Can't you meet me in Oklahoma City? I will expect to see you there unless you wire me to stay here, on receipt of this letter. Is it the Enid matter that makes you keep me away, or is it Mrs. H——? To save any mistakes and troubles after I come to Oklahoma, you had better tell me truthfully before I come. If it is any other reason than what you have told, I will some day know and there will be trouble. I am forewarning you—I am telling you in plenty of time to save yourself. Remember it, my mind is fully made up, but it is with the understanding that you are to tell me no lies, either, about anything—that you do all you have promised every way. • • • You have been as much to blame as I for the ills of the past and you have as much at stake for the future as I. • • • You must be as good to me as you expect me to be to you, otherwise I am not the girl you're looking for. • • • With all my love, forever. Devotedly,

"CLARA."

5 PASSENGERS BURNED TO DEATH IN PULLMAN

Rear Coach of Denver & Rio Grande Train Destroyed in Colorado.

By the Associated Press.

PUEBLO, Colo., March 15.—Five persons were burned to death when a rear Pullman car on the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad caught fire about 2 o'clock this morning from the explosion of a gas tank beneath the sleeper when the train was between Pueblo and Walsenburg.

The train was traveling about 25 miles an hour. The Pullman, the Corona, was the last car on the train and was destroyed. The bodies were dragged out of the mass of fire and wreckage when the train stopped. The car ahead of the Corona was partly burned.

The train was bound from Denver to Alamosa, Colo. The fire was discovered by the engine crew of a northbound D. & R. G. train which signaled the other to stop.

Under regulations, the brakeman should have been riding on the last sleeper, but could not be found this morning, the assistant superintendent said.

The dead are: Francis S. Speelman of Pueblo, traveling freight agent, Missouri Pacific Railroad; Mrs. Winnie B. Comstock, wife of M. J. Comstock, Creede, Colo.; A. E. Jack, Manassa, Colo.; T. H. Downey, traveling salesman of St. Joseph, Mo., or M. Berry, representing Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., St. Louis; James Miller, Florence, Colo., traveling representative, Pueblo Auto Co. A. H. Hood of Trinidad, Colo., traveling Postoffice Inspector, was the only one to escape. He jumped through a window of the blazing car.

At the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co. it was said that M. Berry was a helper for the company's salesman, whose headquarters are at Denver. Berry resided there.

MAN SHOT IN FIGHT BEATS HIS ASSAILANT

Takes Revolver Away From Larger Man and Inflicts Probable Fracture of Skull.

Following an argument about trade unionism, Joseph Marki, 24 years old, of 1314 Menard street, was shot in the abdomen, and Joseph Brandel, 45, of 1725 South Ninth street, was severely beaten on the head in the 900 block on Lafayette avenue at 11:15 a. m. today. Both were taken to the city hospital, where it was said that Marki was in a critical condition, and that Brandel's skull probably was fractured. The men are laborers.

Policemen investigating the fight were told that Marki and Brandel had become involved in an argument in a saloon at Ninth street and Lafayette avenue, and were ordered out by the proprietor. Brandel went to his home, two blocks from the saloon.

A few minutes later Marki and another man were walking west on Lafayette avenue when Brandel stepped from an alley between Ninth and Tenth streets. He addressed a remark to Marki and the latter made a reply. Brandel then called Marki a liar, and drawing a revolver from his pocket, fired at Marki, wounding him.

Although wounded Marki, who is considerably smaller than Brandel, took the weapon away from the latter and struck him on the head with it several times. The third man, whose name the police did not obtain, wrested the revolver from Marki, and separated the two men.

HEART OF CHICKEN, TAKEN FROM EGG 8 YEARS AGO, ALIVE

Organism Still Functioning and Will Continue to Grow Indefinitely, Surgeon Says.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 15.—One of the most remarkable experiments in the indefinite prolongation of living tissues by artificial methods, it became known today, is the specimen of a chicken's heart extracted from egg in the embryonic state eight years ago, which has not only retained the spark of life, but had grown many times its original size. This minute organism was removed from its natural gestative place by Dr. Alexis Carrel, noted surgeon, in January, 1912, in an attempt to sustain its growth under scientific conditions.

Dr. Carrel has announced that the organism is still functioning and disbarring accidents will live and continue to grow indefinitely.

The organism has been nourished regularly while cultured in an antiseptical solution.

Dr. Carrel was awarded the Nobel prize in 1912 in recognition of his surgical achievements.

ANNUAL AMARYLLIS SHOW OPENS

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The greenhouse at the Department of Agriculture was ablaze with color when Secretary Wallace formally opened today the annual amaryllis show at which close to 11,000 plants, ranging in color from white to deep carmen, were on exhibition. The majority of the plants, all of which are from seedlings, and a result of crossings, are about five years old, but about 200 are blooming for the first time this season and have just reached their second anniversary.

The amaryllis or knight's star lily, is a native of Brazil. The parent plants of the present show came from England about a dozen years ago and grew into the present assemblage as a result of the close attention of the department officials. Some of the lilies have eight flowers on one stem, and one big red bloom measures 11 inches in diameter.

ELECTION BOARD RULING IS UPHELD BY COURT

Nomination of School Board Candidates by Petition Instead of Convention Favored.

The St. Louis Court of Appeals today decided that the Board of Election Commissioners was right in its contention that candidates for membership on the Board of Education should be nominated by petition and not by party conventions. The decision was handed down by Judges Allen and Becker.

The decision was made in the mandamus proceeding instituted by John R. Davis and William F. Glynn to compel the Board of Election Commissioners to call a primary for the purpose of selecting delegates to conventions to nominate candidates for the Board of Education. The Board of Elections Commissioners, backed by an opinion from Associate City Counselor Hamilton, contended that the Legislature had abolished conventions by adopting the general primary law.

The court's decision stated that it was clearly and manifestly the intent of the Legislature, in passing the primary laws and acts of 1919, to do away with the old system of nominating candidates for public office at party conventions.

Petitions requesting the Board of Election Commissioners to place on the official ballots at the municipal election April 5 the names of Mrs. Elias Michael, Mrs. B. F. Bush, W. Palmer Clarkson, C. W. Johnson and Harry Rosskopf as candidates for the Board of Education vacancies have been filed by the Citizens' Committee. Petitions urging Stephen Wagner to run for re-election were rejected by the Board of Election Commissioners because they failed to request that his name be placed on the ballot. Petitions in behalf of Charles J. Lammert, president of the Building Trades Council and a former member of the Board of Education, to run as organized labor's representative are being circulated.

Two Bills Before House Seek to Restore Convention Method.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 15.—Two bills are in the hands of the House which seek to restore the statute under which candidates for the Board of Education in St. Louis may be designated by party conventions, as in the past.

The bills are duplicates. One, introduced in the House by Representative Davidson of St. Louis, was reported out of the House Committee on Elections without recommendation, placed upon the informal calendar by Davidson and allowed to remain there. The other, introduced in the Senate by Senator Blodgett of St. Louis, passed the Senate and now is in the hands of the House Elections Committee. That committee will hold an executive session late this afternoon or tonight to pass upon the bill. Chairman Stockard having informed proponents of the petition plan that no hearing will be held. Frank Hiemenz, Republican member of board and author of the bill to restore the convention plan, is here.

SIX MORE COMPLAINTS AGAINST 'AD SWINDLER'

Man Who Advertised for Victims Reported Both Worried and Penitent.

More light was thrown today upon the career of Albert B. Schellenberg, 33 years old, who turned from the legitimate calling of hosiery salesman two months ago to "advertising swindler," as he has been indexed by the police, when six more victims who had been caught in the variety of Schellberg's schemes to defraud reported their experiences and losses.

Schellenberg is worried and penitent. He lived with his wife in a room at 5263 Vernon avenue, and she called on him yesterday at Page Boulevard Station and announced that she was through with being his wife and was going home to her parents, near Springfield, Ill. He has telegraphed his father, a grocer at Springfield, Mass., in the hope that his parent will make restitution for his thefts so that he may be released and effect a reconciliation with his wife.

As is known, he was arrested Sunday in a woodpile in the basement of the Vernon avenue address on complaint of two of his victims, one of whom, Mrs. Naomi Rogers, 3956 Delmar boulevard, reported Schellenberg had stolen her diamonds, valued at $2140. His plan was to answer advertisements of articles for sale and give worthless checks in such transactions, and to rent rooms and loot houses in the absence of other occupants.

His latest victims and their losses from bad checks are: David J. O'Brien, 2925 Harper street, $100 diamond ring; Mrs. Edward Doerr, 2623 Iowa avenue, two rings valued at $125; Mrs. Josephine Schollmeyer, 3918 Cottage avenue, $100 diamond ring; Herbert Brammer, 4560 Manchester avenue, $25 automatic pistol; Mrs. Margaret Ehler, 4570 Newberry terrace, two diamond rings valued at $235. He looted the home of Mrs. Ella Pearlas, 7404 Lavetta avenue, Richmond Heights, of articles valued at $300 after renting a room there.

ALLIES CONSIDER AUSTRIAN LOAN

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 15.—At a conference held in Downing street yesterday, which was attended, in addition to experts, by the British, French and Italian Ministers at Vienna and the French Ambassador in London, Austrian representatives asked for a loan of $50,000,000 with which to import food.

The Austrians offered as security allied control of the State railways and customs and of the salt and tobacco monopolies, on which they said the Austrian Government already was making a profit.

DETECTIVES NOW BELIEVE SWEENEY WAS GANG VICTIM

Theory Slayer Was in Crowd That Ran Into Cigar Store and That Group Is Concealing Identity.

MEN AT SCENE DENY SEEING ASSAILANT

Autopsy Surgeon Reports Lawyer-Politician Was Shot Only Once in Attack on Downtown Corner.

Detectives investigating the case of John P. Sweeney of 3958 Palm street, lawyer-politician, who was shot and killed last Friday night at his "open-air headquarters" at Sixth and Chestnut streets, are satisfied that the identity of the slayer was known to the group of men with whom Sweeney was conversing when murdered.

The detectives have concluded that Sweeney was the victim of a gang affair and consequently have about abandoned hope of apprehending the murderer. They base their latest theory on the fact that several persons, who were known to have been at the scene of the murder, and some of whom have admitted that they heard the shots and saw Sweeney fall, have insisted that they did not see the man who fired.

Dr. T. L. Carriere of 2128 St. Louis avenue, autopsy surgeon, has reported that Sweeney was shot only once, instead of twice, as the police stated in their reports. The bullet entered the back of the head about two inches behind the right ear and just below the level of the top of the ear, passed through the head and emerged at a point behind the left ear on a direct line with the entrance wound. The hole left by the bullet as it passed out of the head caused the police to believe that Sweeney had been shot twice.

Theory of Concealment.

The inquest testimony of Walter O. Plummer, proprietor of a cigar store on the corner where the shooting occurred, who said that immediately after five shots were fired his store was filled with men who ran in before policemen arrived, has led detectives to believe that the slayer made no attempt to get away, but mingled with the crowd that witnessed the shooting. The detectives now believe the slayer was among those who ran into the store, as the revolver from which the shots had been fired was found in the vestibule entrance of the store. The detectives also believe that the witnesses deliberately concealed the identity of the slayer from the policemen, who made the first inquiries after the murder.

In connection with this theory the detectives have concluded that the man with the light-colored raincoat who was seen by Carl Walker, a negro, running west on Chestnut street and north through an alley between Sixth and Seventh streets after the shooting, was Max Greenberg, an ex-convict, of 1417 Biddle street, who later was found in a drug store at Eighth and Pine streets with a bullet wound in his right jaw. Greenberg said that he ran west on Chestnut street to Seventh street, north to Pine street and west to Eighth street.

Saw Only One Man Running.

Walker saw only one man running away and the detectives are convinced that the man was Greenberg. They attach no significance to the discrepancy between Greenberg's statement and that of Walker. They are convinced that Greenberg has not told all he knows. He told detectives, who interrogated him a short time after the shooting, that he was standing a few feet west of Sweeney and heard five shots. He saw Sweeney fall and at the third shot felt a sting in the right side of his face. Realizing that he had been shot, he said, he ran away. He said he did not see the man who did the shooting but that he believed that the bullet which struck him was intended for Sweeney. His condition at St. John's Hospital today was said to be progressing satisfactorily.

William Egan, Constable in Justice of the Peace Gazzolo's court, and proprietor of a saloon at Fourteenth street and Franklin avenue, was taken by detectives to St. John's Hospital this afternoon and shown to Greenberg. The latter was asked if Egan was in the vicinity of Sixth and Chestnut streets last Friday night when Sweeney was killed, and Greenberg, who is unable to talk on account of his wound, shook his head negatively. Egan denied that he was at the scene of the shooting and said that he could throw no light on the affair. He was not held.

HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION MEETS

Scenic Highway Association convention, in session at Hotel Claridge, will stage a ceremony representing the joining of Port Arthur, Tex., with Port Arthur, Ontario, Canada, at a dinner to be held at the hotel tonight. Mayor I. L. Matthews of the Canadian city and the Texas Mayor will take part in the ceremony.

An extensive road-building program is being carried out in the Canadian provinces, Mayor Matthews says. In Ontario a 227-mile highway from Port Arthur to Duluth, along Lake Superior, has been completed recently. The Canadian Government contributes half of the road appropriations and the individual province the other half.

RAILWAY EMPLOYES ASK FOR "50-50 ENFORCEMENT OF LAW"

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., March 15.—Wage reductions by railroads without conforming to the provisions of the Cummins-Esch law should convince the American people of the insincerity of the railroads in their professions of obedience to the law, and railroad employes will not agree to any such jug-handled application of the law as certain of the railways have announced they intend to place upon it," W. G. Lee, president of the railway trainmen, said in a statement issued here yesterday.

Railway employes ask for fair dealing from their employers and a 50-50 enforcement of the Cummins-Esch law, he said.

If the railways insist upon violation of the law, railway employes will be fully justified in using every resource at their command to combat the proposals of the railroads, the statement said.

"They (the railroads) assume the same outlaw position that was denounced as illegal by every authority in the United States, including the Federal Labor Board, when the switchmen's strike of last year occurred," the statement continues.

"The railways are not contending for reduced prices of materials, taxes and other expenses necessary to operation, but presume to load every dollar of unearned costs on the shoulders of their employes, who have not as yet received any appreciable advantages in reductions in the bulk of their living costs, and without regard to section 307, paragraph D, of the labor provisions of the Cummins-Esch law.

"Is it the purpose of our people to confirm the railway interpretation of law, which is, that all its benefits are for the railways and all of its penalties for the employes?"

SHE IS GUEST OF HER MOTHER HERE

Mrs. John Storrs.

Social Items

Miss Dorothy Wray of 4375 Washington boulevard entertained informally at tea today to announce the engagement of her guest, Miss Louise Buffum of Louisiana, Mo., to George F. Ruth of Poplar Bluff. The date of the wedding has not been set. Miss Buffum was educated at Miss Shipley's School at Bryn Mawr. Mr. Ruth received his education at the University of Missouri. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Mrs. John W. Storrs of Bridgeport, Conn., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Thomas H. Wagner of 5046 Washington boulevard. Mrs. Storrs was Miss Catherine Wagner.

The wedding of Miss Nancy Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Hunt of Auburn, N. Y., to Allan Wyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Wyman of 5845 Cabanne avenue, will take place April 2 in Auburn. Among the St. Louisans who will be guests at the wedding will be Mr. Wyman's sister, Mrs. Frank Peckham, and Mr. Peckham and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Bitting Jr.

The engagement of Miss Natalie Ross, daughter of Mrs. A. D. Ross of 5536 Pershing avenue, to Harry H. Hawkins, was announced today at a small tea with which the prospective bride entertained at her home. The wedding will take place next month.

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Sparks, daughter of Mrs. Marion Sparks of Kansas City to Elbridge Witter Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Price of 5711 Cates avenue, was solemnized March 12 in Kansas City. The couple will reside in Kansas City. The bride is a sister of Mr. and Mrs. Frost Sparks of 4928 Buckingham Court.

Miss Mary Gilmer Moore of 6036 Washington boulevard will depart Friday for Rolla, Mo., where she will attend a dance at the School of Mines. She will remain in Rolla until next week.

Miss Natalie Ross of 5536 Pershing avenue will have as her guest for several weeks her cousin, Miss Ruth Muller of New York. Miss Muller is expected to arrive April 1.

M. U. LAW FACULTY SUED

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 15.—Dr. George L. Clark, who was discharged from the law faculty of the University of Missouri in November last and who recently filed a $50,000 suit against Dr. A. Ross Hill, late yesterday filed a suit against the members of the law faculty of the university, consisting of J. P. McBain, dean; Kenneth C. Sears, Stanley H. Udy and J. L. Parks. The suit is based on a publication and circulation of a letter by the four.

Dr. Clark alleges that the letter has proven injurious to him in the pursuit of his profession, that of a professor and a textbook writer. He asks for $25,000 actual and $25,000 punitive damages.

PANAMA-COSTA RICA DISPUTE BELIEVED TO BE NEAR SETTLEMENT

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—State Department officials are confident today that the way to an early adjustment of the Panama-Costa Rica boundary dispute has been opened by the American note dispatched to Panama yesterday.

It is believed that in agreeing to further discussion of the arbitral award of Chief Justice White as applying to the Atlantic end of the boundary, while adhering to Secretary Hughes' previous declaration regarding the Pacific end, the note offered a new basis of negotiation that would be acceptable to both Panama and Costa Rica.

Vigorous protest was made by Panama against the position taken by the United States in its previous note to that country that the White award must be put into effect in its entirety.

The note is considered by diplomats here to have dealt a death blow to any possibility that the League of Nations might be called on to act in the question by citing provisions of a treaty drawn in 1915 whereby Panama and Costa Rica agreed to submit disputes to the United States as mediator. This treaty, signed by the three Powers, was negotiated by William Jennings Bryan, then Secretary of State, as a means of safeguarding American interests in Panama.

PESKY BEDBUGS

(Pesky Devils Quietus) P. D. Q. is a new chemical that puts the everlasting to the Pesky bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants and cooties—impossible for the pesky devils to exist where P. D. Q. is used.

Recommendations of Hotels, Hospitals, Railroad Companies and other public institutions are a guarantee to the public that the safest, quickest and most economical way of ridding the pesky insects is by the use of P. D. Q. as this chemical kills the eggs as well as the live ones, and will not injure the clothing.

A 35c package makes a full quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas or cooties—and also contains a patent spout to get the egg nests in the hard-to-get-at places, and saves juice.

Special Hospital size $2.50 makes five gallons—contains three spouts—supplied by druggists or sent prepaid upon receipt of price, either size, by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind.—Never peddled.

CAREER OF DIRK FOCH, SYMPHONY CANDIDATE

Guest Director Who Will Conduct Friday and Saturday Concerts Holds First Rehearsal.

Dirk Foch, who is to conduct the Friday and Saturday concerts of the symphony orchestra as the third of the guest directors who are candidates to succeed the late Max Zach, held his first rehearsal this morning. He was unable to begin rehearsals yesterday because he is convalescent from a recent attack of grip. He has given to the Post-Dispatch the following facts about himself and his career.

He will be 35 years old next June, is unmarried, and pronounces his surname "Fosh," with the "o" as in "novice." He was born June 18, 1886, on the island of Java, Dutch East Indies, where his father was an attorney, and lived there until he was 11 years old. In the Orient, he says, he learned his love of color, which he considers one of the principal ingredients of orchestral music. He began playing the piano with one finger at the age of three or four, much to the disappointment of his parents, he relates, and also studied the violin as a child.

Studied Music in Berlin.

Leaving Java with his family, he traveled on the way to Holland through China, Japan and the United States. He remembers spending two days in St. Louis, 23 years ago. He continued his education in Holland, and recalls that at the age of 13 or 14 he was writing tragedies and composing music. It was intended that he should go to the University of Leyden and be trained as an electrical engineer; but after a domestic battle, he obtained permission to go to study music in Berlin.

He was briefly a pupil of Joachim on the violin, and of Humperdinck in composition, but had most of his training in the latter branch under Hugo Kaun. For several years he played as substitute concertmaster and one of the first violins in the Philharmonic Orchestra of Berlin, under Arthur Nikisch. This famous orchestral leader took a keen interest in the young Dutchman, and permitted him to attend him on his travels, to study his methods of conducting. Another director who was friendly and helpful was Dr. Karl Muck.

Opportunity to Conduct.

His first opportunity to conduct was created by himself. A violinist, living in the same pension, hired the Bluethner Orchestra of Berlin in order to present himself as a soloist. Several men whom he sought to engage as conductor disappointed him. Three days before the concert Foch volunteered his services. The violinist accepted him, saying that all was lost anyhow. Much to their surprise, the young conductor won warm praise from the critics. This led to his engagement as conductor for a private opera company in Berlin, and then as director of the Kurfuerstein Opera in the same city, where, he relates, he conducted the first performance anywhere of "The Jewels of the Madonna," which he repeated 45 times during that season.

Then there occurred a vacancy at the opera house at Muelhausen, and candidates for the position of conductor were invited to present themselves for trial performances. Foch got the place by his directing of "Die Walkuerie" and of Strauss' "Salome," and retained it for a year. He accepted an invitation to direct at the National Festival held in Sweden, and remained there during the years of 1911 and 1912, acting as guest conductor in many cities.

Following this, Willen Mengelberg, the eminent conductor of the Concertgebouw Orchestra in Amsterdam, invited his compatriot to appear as guest conductor with that orchestra. During 1916 and 1917 he conducted four concerts with Mengelberg's orchestra, besides directing at concerts throughout Holland. On one occasion, in the presence of Richard Strauss, he directed one of that master's symphonic poems.

Came to America in 1919.

In 1919 Foch came to the United States, and has since lived in New York. He directed some of the popular concerts at the Stadium two summers ago, and conducted the National Symphony Orchestra in a concert at Carnegie Hall.

His own idea was the organization of the American Orchestra Society of New York, of which Mrs. E. H. Harriman is president, and of which Foch is director. The purpose is to afford training for American musicians, to organize a school at which all the orchestra instruments will be taught, and to give young American conductors an opportunity to try their hands with the baton and to get in touch with the public. Facilities are also to be given to American musicians of all kinds for public appearances.

Foch has for years been industrious in composition, and is now in his twenty-sixth opus. He has published numerous songs and piano and violin pieces; one of the last, "Air Triste," was played by Michel Gusikoff at his Aeolian Hall recital. Germaine Schnitzer, a distinguished pianist, played this winter a piano sonata written by Foch 12 years ago. He has composed four pianoforte sonatas, a new violin concerto, in D Major, is working on a symphony, and has nearly completed an opera, "Hero and Leander," which he says he has good prospects of having produced next season.

CONSTANTINE SEEKS RECOGNITION

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Recognition of the Greek Government of King Constantine by the United States is expected to result shortly from active negotiations which have been instituted by the Greek Government with the State Department through the Greek legation here.

Letters from King Constantine of Greece and Queen Mother Olga, containing formal announcement of the ascension to the throne of the King, have been transmitted to the State Department by the Greek legation. One of the obstacles to recognition of King Constantine was the lack of receipt from the King of formal notification of his taking over of the Government. In addition, the Greek Government has presented a declaration made to the American Minister at Athens by the Greek Premier, in which the new Greek Government has acknowledged all obligations incurred by the Government of Venizelos, particularly its foreign loans. Included was an appeal to the United States for the payment of the fourth installment of the loan from the credit of $48,000,000 granted the Venizelos Government by the United States Treasury.

Rural School Destroyed by Fire.

The Virgin School, near St. Jacob, Ill., was destroyed yesterday by fire. The building, valued at $6000, was fired by sparks on the roof, and the teacher, Leo Daniels, was burned about the hands and arms trying to extinguish the blaze.

ONE OF 8 ACCUSED IN BANK ROBBERY GIVEN 40 YEARS

JURY DELIBERATED ONLY 30 MINUTES

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

UNION, Mo., March 15.—Emil (Feather Edge) Schneider, one of the eight men charged with the robbery of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of St. Clair on Feb. 8, was sentenced to 40 years in the penitentiary by a jury in the Circuit Court here today after it had deliberated but 32 minutes.

The jury retired to consider the evidence at 2:28 o'clock and promptly at 3 o'clock announced that it had decided on a verdict.

Schneider's mumbled remark, "That's rotten!" which was the only comment he made on the verdict, could be heard throughout the room.

Schneider was tried under an indistment charging burglary and larceny. The larceny charge was dropped and teh case tried on the burglary charge which provides a penalty of from two years to life, according to the nature of the offense.

Schneider was the first of the eight men to be tried and, as soon as the sentence was pronounced, work was started on the impaneling of a jury for the trial of George Ayers.

The only witnessos of the day were two women, clerks in a general merchandise store of Pacific, Mo., who testified that Schneider had purchased some victuals in their store "some time ago." They could not plate the date even in the month of February. The case concluded its testimony at 10:45 this morning.

The other men charged with the robbery are Robert Walsh, Joseph Brown, Charles Barrington, Walter Casey, George Ayers, John Maloney and Tom Montgomery. Brown and Walsh are charged by St. Clair County, Ill., authorities with the murder of an East St. Louis detective on November 14 last, and an effort is being made to extradite them regardless of the outcome of their trial here.

Night Sessions to Be Held.

The State's evidence in Schneider's case is typical of that expected to be presented against the other men. A session of court was held last night and night sessions will probably be held all week, court being in session 10 hours a day.

Schneider gave his name as Robert Hays when arrested at Fly's Rest, a Meramec River cabin near Pacific, as has been told, and the information gives him that name. Assisting Prosecuting Attorney Kassmann are W. L. Cole of Union, former chairman of the Republican State Committee, and James A. Booth of Pacific, representing the bank. The information charges the eight men with the theft of $32.30 lawful money, but the total of the bonds, stamps and other securities recovered at their cabin was $12,222.67.

Red Auto to Figure in Case.

Cole, in his opening statement, said the State would prove that Schneider was one of five men who visited St. Clair in a red automobile on Feb. 7, the day before the robbery, and that five men were seen leaving St. Clair in a similar car soon after the robbery and that Schneider was arrested at Fly's Rest.

Monroe W. Stahlmann, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants' Bank, testified to finding the rifled vault when he opened the bank Feb. 8. He found a nest of safety deposit boxes had been carted away. He found a steel punch on the vault floor. The morning before he had seen five men in a red automobile passing through town. Stahlmann said a back window had been broken open evidently with a spring leaf which he had found on the ground.

Julius W. Panhorst, a St. Clair merchant and a director of the bank, said he had sold Schneider a package of cigarettes on Feb. 7 and had directed him to St. Louis while several of Schneider's companions looked in the window. Panhorst was in the posse that arrested Schnieder and he told of speaking to him then—"I didn't think I'd come after you with a gun so soon after I saw you yesterday," he said he told Schneider, who he said replied, "I'm the guy."

Sheriff Tells of Capture.

Sheriff Gehlert of Franklin County told of taking the posse from St. Clair out on the Manchester road toward Pacific and finding the red machine abandoned later. As a machine with a posse from Pacific was approaching, two of the pursued men seen between the two machines and were arrested. These men, the Sheriff thought, were Walsh and Casey. Later he said the posse saw three more men carrying a sack approaching the cabin.

"Men, come out of there or I'll blow the building to a thousand pieces," he told them. Just then an explosion occurred in the upper part of the cabin, which later was found to have been caused by Barrington, whose right hand was blown off and eyesight injured as a result. Then Montgomery Schneider and Ayers walked out.

The Sheriff told the finding of the sack full of the loot and of finding two revolvers and two rifles and two watches in the cabin and a whisky still, at barley and mash outside. The weapons and a quantity of clothing found in the cabin were offered in evidence.

It was brought out that Schneider and Ayers left the cabin on the Sheriff's command without their shoes, and that their trousers were covered with yellow clay. The State hopes to show that the men accumulated the clay on the road from Union, and not in the black soil river bottom. The defense is expected to contend that the clay was accumulated while the men fished.

Farmers Met Red Auto.

George Gebhardt and his son, Robert, farmers, residing north of St. Clair, testified that on the morning of the robbery as they were driving toward St. Clair about 4:30 o'clock they met a red automobile coming "at a pretty good lick" from St. Clair.

Joseph Feltmann, near whose farm a red automobile was abandoned, testified that on the morning of the robbery he saw five men walking west of Pacific toward St. Louis.

W. F. Klenk of Hermann, Mo., testified that he saw five men walking on the Manchester road west of Gray's summit on the morning of the robbery and identified Schneider as one of the five.

Frank J. Fries, an automobile mechanic at Pacific, testified that two men, one of whom was Schneider, hired him to repair a red automobile on the day before the robbery, saying it must be ready at 6 p. m. as they had an engagement in St. Louis.

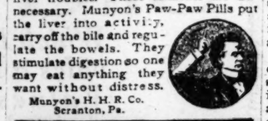

It will probably take at least all this week to finish the eight cases and determine the disposition of Brown and Walsh on the Illinois murder charge. Walsh is represented by Lawrence McDaniel, former Circuit Attorney of St. Louis, and Brown by Tom Rowe of St. Louis, both of whom arrived here today. Barrington has not appeared in court yet, being under care at the county farm. Casey is at liberty on $5000 bond, and the other six men are confined in the tiny county jail with several other prisoners, receiving two meals a day.

SAYS BELVEDERE RECEIPTS HAVE FALLEN SINCE RAID

Joe Gonnella Testifies to Taking in $11,000 in 20 Days Before and $6000 in 20 Days After Raid.

DECLARES WIFE IS PRINCIPAL OWNER

He States That Mrs. Gonnella Owns 14 of 19 Shares in Stock Company Operating Cafe.

Joseph Gonnella, testifying yesterday at the city hall in a hearing on his application for a permanent injunction restraining the police from raiding the Belvedere Cafe (formerly Cicardi's), at Delmar boulevard and Euclid avenue, said that the total receipts of the cafe for 20 days preceding the raid of Feb. 19 were more than $11,000, and that for the 20 days following the raid they were slightly more than $6000.

He attributed this falling off in business to the raids and to the visits which police made on the four nights after the raids, saying that people were afraid to patronize the place, and declaring that a continuation of the police visits would ruin business.

Gonnella explained at this point, however, that "Mrs. Belvedere Joe" really is the president and chief shareholder in the stock company which operates the cafe under lease. She owns 14 shares, their son, Christopher, owns one, and the other four are owned by Edward Alherico, the cashier, he testified.

Calls His Wife "Boss."

"She is the boss," said Gonnella, indicating his wife. "Me—— I have nothing. I am only the manager; I work for her." He further explained that the reason "Mrs. Joe" is not better known to customers of the cafe is the fact that she remains in the kitchen, checking up on the waiters, and seeing that orders are properly served. One of the lawyers remarked that this might account for the sign—"Nothing Worries Belvedere Joe"—which formerly hung on the front of the cafe.

Mrs. Gonnella, a robust woman with snapping black eyes, sat beside her husband and his counsel during the proceedings and occasionally offered whispered suggestions. She has exhibited symptoms of worry since the raid.

"What kind of a place do you conduct there?" he was asked. "The finest place in this town, bar none," he replied. "Some of the best people in St. Louis come to my place—or did, before these raids. I used to see them three or four times a week. Now maybe they come once in a while—maybe not. They're scared away."

Asked to name some of these customers, Gonnella replied that there was one party of 14 from the Racquet Club there when the raid occurred. In addition, he named a dozen or more persons.

"I will inform counsel right now," put in Blodgett Priest, of counsel for Gonnella, "that I intend to bring a lot of prominent people down here and put them on the stand to show the character of this place."

"It wouldn't surprise me," remarked Associate City Counselor Harry Hamilton, who conducted the defense.

Says Detective Drank Whisky.

During the raid, William Basil, the head waiter, testified, a detective found a bottle of whisky. Basil said the detective took a drink, and gave Basil a drink. Then he poured out drinks for two women customers who were standing near, and finally called a uniformed policeman from the kitchen to "kill the bottle," remarking that "it would be a shame to take all that whisky to the police station." Basil said he could identify the detective.

James Bates, a waiter, said he had not collected about $13 of his checks when the police came in and arrested him, and he asked for permission to collect. He said a detective answered: "To hell with your checks; we don't give a damn about them; you come along."

Hamilton asked him if waiters at the Belvedere kept notebooks containing the names and telephone numbers of women, which they furnished to male customers upon request. Bates said they did not. He said, in reply to another question, that he had never seen an intoxicated person in the cafe.

Admits Seeing Drunken Man.

Gonnella, when asked the same question, said it had only been necessary to eject one man for intoxication.

"Then you've only seen one drunken man in your place since it was opened last Thanksgiving?" Hamilton demanded. "Oh, I've seen a thousand, I guess," Gonnella remarked. "Only one got rough."

Describing his own trip to the Newstead Avenue Police Station, Gonnella said he was in a patrol wagon with the negro washroom attendant and a customer. After being locked in a cell, Gonnella said he asked Sergt. Charles Kelly, head of the cleanup division, the nature of the charge against him.

"We had orders to bring in Belvedere Joe. You're held for the Federal authorities. We'll give you something to worry about," he said Kelly replied.

Gonnella admitted that he had seen some of his customers drinking what looked like whisky, but said when he told them they could not drink in the cafe, they replied that they had doctors' prescriptions.

Citation for Commissioners.

A citation for their appearance next Thursday at 2 p. m. to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court was issued today for members of the Board of Police Commissioners and certain police officers by Circuit Judge Franklin Miller, upon an allegation that a visit last Saturday night by a squad of police to the Belvedere Cafe was a violation of a temporary restraining order issued by Judge Miller recently.

The charges are supported by affidavits of Joe Gonnella, proprietor; Sherman Parone, sidewalk attendant at the cafe, and Miss Elsie Keevil, in charge of the cloakroom. The affidavits declare that upon entrance of Sergt. Kelly of the police cleanup squad and several patrolmen, about 190 of the customers of the cafe rushed for their wraps.

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of someone who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear, which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula, which is used extensively in the damp English climate, is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. However, in Marmola Prescription Tablets all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise and have the added advantage of cheapness. A large case is sold by druggists at one dollar. Or if preferable, they can be obtained by sending price direct to the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Av., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of bad after-effects.

Mother! Look at Child's tongue

Give "California Syrup of Figs" only—Say "California"

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only genuine "California Syrup of Figs." Millions of mothers always keep this harmless laxative handy. They know children dearly love its delicious "fruity" taste; that it never fails to gently move all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile from the little one's system. Full directions for babies and for children of all ages printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits. Mother, you must say "California." If you don't see "California" you may get an imitation syrup.

SAYS MRS. STOKES WAS IN MAN'S APARTMENT

NEW YORK, March 15.—The trial of W. E. D. Stokes' action for a divorce flashed into a climax at the close of the fifth day, yesterday. Then the aged millionaire rose wearily from the counsel table, his faded blue eyes moist, his seamed hands trembling. Not far away, Mrs. Stokes sat, petulant as a child, plucking nervously at her gloves.

Stokes succeeded in merging the action in which he named Edgar T. Wallace as a corespondent into the overburdened present proceeding. Capping this, he had produced a witness, an architect's wife, in support of his charges.

Mrs. Zendas Matteosian, the only witness of the day, was never in the employment of the Stokeses. She entered the Stokes drama by stepping from her bathroom window to a roof extension on a sultry day in the summer of 1914. She occupied an apartment at 13 East Thirty-fifth street, directly over that of Wallace. One maid served the two apartments. Mrs. Matteosian had been inside Wallace's apartment and knew him casually.

From her vantage point, from which she averred she could see directly through the rear window of Wallace's apartment, Mrs. Matteosian swore she saw Wallace and Mrs. Stokes.

Previously, Mrs. Matteosian swore, she had seen Mrs. Stokes enter Wallace's apartment. Once she had seen her accompanied by "an elderly lady."

"Who is the elderly lady?" she was asked. "Mr. Stokes' mother," she replied.

Mother in Courtroom.

As the witness whispered the reply Mrs. Stokes sat bolt upright. Behind her sat "the elderly lady." The mother has been a constant spectator. She craned her neck, cast a sharp glance at the witness and turned to Hal Billig, one of the co-respondents, a flush surmounting her cheeks.

Mrs. Matteosian under direct and then cross-examination, proceeded. She had seen Mrs. Stokes in Denver, she said. She was certain of that, although no one had pointed out Mrs. Stokes to her.

Martin W. Littleton of counsel for Mrs. Stokes, objected to her testimony, as he had objected to the injection of the Wallace action into the case, but he conducted a cross-examination.

Asked how she knew it was Mrs. Stokes, the witness said she knew her by a picture that she had seen. When she saw her enter Wallace's apartment, she said, she knew the woman in Denver was Mrs. Stokes.

Asked to describe Wallace's apartment, the witness spoke of several things, including a picture of Mrs. Stokes in an evening gown which she said graced the dresser. She said she frequently went down to the apartment to consult the maid and to telephone when Wallace was out.

Littleton asked the witness to state what she did after her observations.

"I motioned to my husband," she said.

ACCIDENT VERDICT RETURNED

Six-Year-Old Boy Fatally Injured When Hit by Auto Sunday.

A Coroner's verdict was returned today in the death of Harry Jennings, 6 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jennings of 4036 Blaine avenue, who was fatally injured at 4:30 p. m. Sunday when struck by an automobile at De Tonty and Lawrence streets. The boy died at 9:20 p. m. Sunday at the city hospital.

The driver, Cornelius Sieges, 35 years old, of 5803A North Market street, a grocer, testified he was driving at a moderate rate and the boy ran directly in front of his automobile, crossing from the south to the northwest corner of the street. His statement was corroborated by Charles Hoelscher, his brother-in-law, of 5803 North Market street, a passenger in the automobile.

MRS. BERTHA VERVERS SOUGHT

Mrs. Grace Cummings of 160 East Main street, Benton Harbor, Mich., has written to the Post-Dispatch asking aid in her search for her mother, Mrs. Bertha Ververs, from whom she has not heard for five years. Mrs. Cummings wants her mother to know that she is in very bad health and needs her badly and that her granddaughter, Bertha May, also wants to hear from her. Anybody knowing of Mrs. Verver's whereabouts is requested to communicate with Mrs. Cummings.

DRIVES TRUCK INTO SHOE-SHINING SHOP

Carpenter Becomes Confused by Traffic at Sarah and Olive—Six Persons Injured.

The traffic at Sarah and Olive streets at 2:10 p. m. yesterday was too much for Vito Castelli, 33 years old, a carpenter, of 2833 Stoddard street, when he arrived there in his auto truck. He was driving south on Sarah street and planned to turn west into Olive street. He became confused and drove on the sidewalk on the southwest corner and into the plate-glass window of the Proctor Bros.' shoe-shining shop.

Before the truck stopped it had injured six persons and wrecked the shop. The injured are Patrolman Chris W. Behn, 47 years old, of 4231 Labadie avenue, attached to the Newstead Avenue District; Virgil Ballinger, 52, an engineer, of 4066 Enright avenue; Mrs. Reona Ballinger, his wife, 44; Mrs. Marguerite Hempelman, 38, of 4114 Farlin avenue; Alfred Proctor, 15, a negro bootblack, of 4029 Finney avenue, and Earl Carpenter, 18, a negro bootblack, of 4046 Cook avenue.

Behn and Mr. and Mrs. Ballinger were taken to the city hospital. Behn suffered scalp wounds and cuts and bruises about the legs and arms. Ballinger suffered a fractured right arm and cuts and bruises and his wife suffered injuries to her left side. Proctor was taken to city hospital No. 2 for treatment for injuries to his left side and Copeland and Mrs. Hempleman were given treatment in the neighborhood.

After the accident Castelli ran and the police took charge of his truck. At 5 p. m. he surrendered at the Newstead Avenue Station, where he gave bond on four charges, felonious wounding, leaving the scene of an accident, destruction of property and careless driving.

Boy, 13, Hit by an Auto Suffers Fractured Skull.

Arbra Wilkerson 13, of 1302 Chouteau avenue, suffered a fractured skull and scalp wounds at 4 p. m. yesterday when knocked down by an automobile driven by Mrs. Sadie Schultz, 1410 Chouteau avenue, who was driving east in front of 1336 Chouteau avenue. Mrs. Schultz told the police the boy ran from the north to the south side of the street directly in the path of her machine.

Alice Brendle, 4, of 2327 University street, suffered a fractured hand and scalp wounds when knocked down by an automobile driven by Arnold Schnider, 15, of 4125 Lexington avenue, who was accompanied by his mother. The accident occurred in front of 2320 University street and witnesses told the police the girl apparently became confused while playing in the street with her brother, John, and ran directly in front of the machine.

Two men in a stolen automobile belonging to Herbert G. Austin of 911 Locust street, taken earlier in the day from in front of 623 North Tenth street, were injured when the machine skidded on the wet street and turned over near King's highway and Milentz avenue at 2 p. m. The occupants of the car disentangled themselves from the wreckage and ran away, each holding his head.

SCHOOL PATRONS INDORSE PLAN FOR HIGHER SCHOOL TAX

Support of Alliance Pledged to Proposition to Be Voted on April 8.

The Board of Control of the St. Louis Public School Patrons' Alliance at a meeting last night in Central Library indorsed the proposition for an increased tax rate for school purposes to be voted on at a special election April 8 and pledged the organization's effort to obtain its adoption.

Assistant Superintendent of Instruction Bryan pointed out that Kansas City gives $1.30 per $100 of taxation for school purposes, whereas the constitutional limit here is 60 cents on the $100 valuation. The purpose, he said, is to increase the school tax here from 75 cents voted in 1919 for a one-year period to 85 cents.

He directed attention to the fact that because of lack of facilities more than 5000 children here are now being taught in portable schools, and more than 1500 are receiving only half-day instruction because school houses have not been provided.

18-YEAR-OLD BURGLAR KILLED

CHICAGO, March 15.—Three youthful burglars were surprised by the police in an attempt to rob the safe of the Hub Theater early yesterday and one of them, Hines Mielke, 18 years old, was shot and killed by Detective William Schultz, as the officer was climbing a ladder toward the roof coping over which the youth was leaning to pour a revolver fire down on the policeman.

The other two youths ran across the roof and jumped through the window of an apartment building, where they were captured. They told the police they climbed a water spout to the roof of the theater and broke through the skylight to get to the theater office.

DAIRYMEN CUT MILK PRICE

Belleville Association Members Announce 20 Per Cent Reduction

The Belleville Dairymen's Association yesterday announced a cut of 20 per cent in milk and cream prices. The price of milk in future will be 3 pints for 25 cents; 7 pints for 50 cents; and 14 pints for $1. Whipped cream will be $1 per quart and coffee cream 30 cents a quart. The new prices become effective immediately.

SOME PROVISIONS OF PRIMARY BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

PRESENT LIMIT ON EXPENSES ELIMINATED

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 15.—With the Republicans voting almost as a unit, the House yesterday afternoon refused to adopt an amendment to the administration primary bill which would have permitted a political party, under such condition as arose over Republican National Committeeman Babler after the Lowden slush fund disclosure last summer, to call a State convention to oust a National Committeeman. The bill was passed by the House.

The amendment was offered by Representative Ferguson of Ripley County, minority floor leader, and was opposed by Representative Morgan of Putnam County, majority floor leader, and recognized representative of Gov. Hyde on the floor of the House. It went farther than national committeeman, containing provisions under which State, county and city committees could remove members.

While no specific instances were mentioned in the debate, Ferguson's argument clearly was on the Babler episode and also on the assault on Chairman Neale of the Democratic State Committee in Jefferson City in August by persons said to be members of the committee. The amendment read:

"Any party may call a State Committee for the removal of any National Committeeman of such State on the ground of inefficiency, neglect of duty, corruption or misconduct in office after a public hearing held thereon. The rules and regulations of the State Committee of any party may provide for the removal of any national or State committeeman on the ground of inefficiency, neglect of duty, corruption or misconduct in office after a public hearing thereon, and such committee may appoint some suitable person to fill such unexpired term and may order an election to fill such vacancy. The rules and regulations of any county or city committee may provide for the removal of committeemen thereof on the ground of inefficiency, neglect of duty, corruption or misconduct in office after a public hearing held thereon, and such committee may appoint some suitable person to fill such unexpired term, or may order an election to fill such vacancy. All vacancies occurring otherwise may be filled by appointment by the committee in which such vacancy occurs."

Morgan, in opposing the amendment, said that it might result in injustice being done a member of a committee. The Republicans, as if by prearrangement in anticipation of the offering of such an amendment by Democrats, voted against it.

One Amendment Adopted.

The only amendment of importance adopted was the elimination of a section providing for the nomination of Supreme and Appellate Court Judges by conventions of elected delegates instead of at primaries. The bill previously had been changed to eliminate provisions for the nomination of Circuit Judges by conventions.

Gov. Hyde said after this amendment was adopted that while he had favored the bill as drawn, his only interest now was in obtaining its passage without further delay, which would be caused by reconsideration of amendments.

Senator Proctor of Kansas City, who fathered the bill, said he would insist in the Senate upon the convention plan for Judges of higher courts, and that he felt certain the Senate would refuse to concur in the House amendment. If it does not concur the bill will go to a conference committee for adjustment of differences.

The measure provides a complete primary system along practically the same lines as the present law, though there are some changes. There are provisions for the filing of declarations of candidacy and for the placing of names on the ballot by petition.

Lawful Expenses Defined.

It eliminates the present statutory limitation on the lawful expenditures of candidates for office, but stipulates that no candidate shall expend any money except for "lawful expenses," which are defined to be: Official filing fee; preparing, printing, circulating and verifying nomination papers; candidates' personal traveling expenses; rent and furnishing of halls for meetings; payment of speakers and musicians at meetings and their traveling expenses; printing and distribution of newspapers, pamphlets and hand-bills; candidates' share of the reasonable compensation for challengers at the polls; making canvass of voters; clerk hire; conveying infirm and disabled voters to the polls, and postage, expressage, telegraphing and telephoning.

Separate ballots for each party are provided for, and it is stipulated that each shall be of a different color or tint.

There is one provision which has aroused considerable opposition and which is looked upon by voters of the independent class as being intended to virtually eliminate them from voting in primaries. It provides that each person shall be required to state at the time of registration the party with which he or she is affiliated and at the primary no person shall be given any other ballot than that of the party which the registration books shows the voter is affiliated with.

Another provision will prohibit newspapers from printing sample ballots with names scratched, a practice followed by many newspapers in primary campaigns to indicate to voters candidates whose records make them undesirable.

Method of Voting at Primary.

The bill follows practically the same system for voting as the new blanket ballot law. Candidates' names will be printed and the voters' choice will be indicated by marking squares opposite names of the candidates voted for, instead of the present system of scratching out names of candidates the voter wishes to vote against.

In the cities having registration, ballots will be bound in books with stubs, which will be numbered with the same numbers as the corresponding ballots to permit a better record to be kept and to aid in avoiding fraud.

INGROWN TOE NAILS

Nail Turns Out Itself if you Toughen Skin Underneath

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe-nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

HAMILTON FINED IN CHICAGO

St. Louis Man Charged With Contributing to Girl's Delinquency.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Arthur H. Hamilton, a St. Louis real estate dealer, was fined $200 and costs in the Court of Domestic Relations yesterday for contributing to the delinquency of Edna Stewart, 17 years old, also of St. Louis.

Letters showed that the girl followed Hamilton to Chicago when he came here on business. They were arrested in a rooming house here. The girl will be returned to her home.

Hamilton, who is 46 years old, has a wife and two children living at 4113A Laclede avenue. The girl is the daughter of Mrs. Irene Stewart, 1225 Armstrong avenue.

What does an hour's ironing mean—in results?

By hand—

You can iron in one hour:

2 tablecloths
8 napkins
2 waists—with cuffs and ruffled collars
1 sheet

With the Western Electric Ironer—

You can iron in one hour:

2 tablecloths	1 child's petticoat—with ruffled edge*
8 napkins	2 pairs curtains
2 waists—with cuffs and ruffled collars*	20 handkerchiefs
3 sheets	2 aprons
4 pillowcases	3 shirts
1 bedspread	12 towels

The New Western Electric Ironer irons everything—

Ruffles and collar bands included. And it irons even the difficult pieces as nicely as they could be done by hand. Not only does it enable you to get through in a fraction of the time that ironing ordinarily takes, but it makes the actual work involved easier. You can sit beside it most of the time, control its working with a light pressure of the foot, and have both hands free to "feed in" the pieces to be ironed.

Chin-Ce-Ca Blood

When people have rheumatism, it signifies poor blood. Poor quality of blood, vitiated with accumulated poisons, cannot be corrected with ordinary medicine nor with harmful narcotics or poisonous medicines. Nature's herbs, roots, leaves, etc., supply vitamines which by action on the blood and glands drives poison and waste matter out of the system, so that Rheumatism, Boils, Pimples, Eczema, Old Running Sores, Ulcers and the like gradually disappear as the blood becomes purified by elixir Chin Ca. It is not a "cheap" medicine in price, but it is the cheapest for results. It has been prescribed by Dr. Lewis Baker for years, with remarkable success. ATTORNEY'S POLICY OF FEE-IN-ADVANCE DELAYS JUSTICE

PLEADED LACK OF TIME TO PREPARE

Records Show Lawyer Was Acting in Case March 5, but He Says Full Fee Had Not Been Secured.

A second continuance of the trial of two defendants accused of first-degree murder was obtained yesterday by their attorney upon his statement that he was employed in the case only last Thursday and had not had time to prepare, notwithstanding the fact that the record shows that on March 5 he was acting as counsel for the defendants.

The case in question was that of Thomas Creed, 2805 La Salle street, and his brother, Robert, 2930 Easton avenue, charged with the murder of Policeman George E. Geisler of the Central District, Oct. 31 last, in the saloon of William F. English, 2100 Clark avenue. The defendants were indicted Nov. 11 and the case was first set for trial on Jan. 3, on which date it was continued for the defendants.

When the case was called yesterday, Circuit Attorney Sidener, who expected to personally conduct the prosecution, announced ready for trial. Thomas B. Harvey, a former Circuit Attorney, entered his appearance as counsel for the defendants and asked for a continuance. He stated that James Lawson, a witness subpenaed by the State but not found, would give testimony valuable to the defendants. Sidener asked Harvey what he expected to show by this witness, and Harvey said he expected to show how the policeman's revolver came to be in the home of Thomas Creed, where it was found after the shooting.

Offers to Admit State of Facts

Circuit Attorney Sidener stated that in order to expedite the case he was willing to admit the state of facts that Harvey desired to prove by this witness. Harvey protested that Sidener could not admit it, but Judge Hall said such an admission was permissible.

Harvey then stated that another reason for asking a continuance, and the main one, was that he had not had sufficient time to prepare the case, having been employed only last Thursday. He mentioned the gravity of the charge and the fact that the crime of which the defendants were accused was one for which the death penalty might be imposed.

Judge Hall stated that when the defendants appeared before him, Jan. 3, and asked for a continuance, he understood them to say they had made arrangements to employ Harvey. Harvey denied that he was employed at that time. Judge Hall then announced that in view of the nature of the case he would grant a continuance and would set the case to be tried April 18 without fail. Harvey endeavored to have it delayed another week to avoid conflict with other engagements, but Judge Hall refused.

Harvey's Explanation.

Seeking further explanation of the question of the time element in the employment of counsel a Post-Dispatch reporter went to Harvey. Harvey stated that a brother of the defendants, who have been in jail without bond since their arrest, came to him in January and sought to employ him. He said he named the conditions and that the brother, in January, paid him a retainer. He added that it was not until last Thursday that the full amount of the fee was secured and that he did not consider himself employed until that time.

"The work in a case of this kind is so hard and of such a nature," Harvey said, "that a lawyer does not feel like giving his time to it until he is assured of his fee. In most criminal cases I require the full payment of my fee before I consider myself employed to try the case."

On March 7, five days before the date on which Harvey said he considered himself employed, he served notice on the Circuit Attorney that he would take depositions of certain of the State's witnesses and on March 8 he took these depositions in his office, acting as counsel for the defendants.

A number of lawyers with whom the reporter talked said they considered that when an attorney accepted a retainer in a case he was then employed.

TWO SWISS JUDGES READ OUT OF COMMUNIST PARTY

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Feb. 25.—Two Swiss Judges of the cantonal tribunal at Zurich have just been read out of the Swiss Communist party for having sentenced a Socialist workman to 10 days in jail for assaulting an unsyndicated worker in a strike at Zurich.

The Judges, Dr. Balsinger and Luchinger, were summoned to appear before the Socialist Communist Committee on a charge that the verdict was "incompatible with the communist doctrine." When the Judges refused to appear they were promptly ousted from the party.

Writing in the Volksrecht Journal, the Judges declare that though they are Socialists and demand liberty, they judge according to their conscience and law without regard to outside political pressure.

Many papers commenting on the incident state that this should be an example to Swiss voters of what the result would be if communists who received their orders from Moscow were to come into power in Switzerland.

The agrarian parties of several cantons have made a proposal that all communist employes should be dismissed as a danger to the state.

Fire Damages Barge at Cairo.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CAIRO, Ill., March 15.—Fire, believed to have been caused by a cigarette, at the terminal of the Federal barge line here this morning damaged a barge load of sisal. The fire was under control at 10 o'clock, with about half the cargo, valued at several thousand dollars, damaged beyond use. Efforts of the barge line towboats A. M. Scott and Advance to control the flames proved futile and the barge was towed to the city wharf, where the city fire department checked the flames.

ATTORNEY'S POLICY OF FEES-IN-ADVANCE DELAYS JUSTICE

ant to employ counsel or to pay the counsel's fees were accepted as a valid excuse for continuance a case might be delayed indefinitely in this way. The Court has power to appoint counsel for defendants who do not employ, and the courts usually adopt a lenient attitude to give the accused every opportunity to be defended by counsel of his own choice.

A number of cases were disposed of in the courts yesterday. A jury in Judge Hartmann's division found David Creely, 28 years old, of 5024 South Broadway, guilty of carrying concealed weapons, and fixed his punishment at a fine of $250. His attorney filed a motion for a new trial, and he was released on a bond of $750 signed by Mark Gumperts and Ben F. Carpenter, pending a ruling on the motion.

In Judge Landwehr's division Clarence Ebert, 19 years old; Harry Bender, 19; Arthur Schneider, 19, and William Meyers, 1[illegible], pleaded guilty to first degree robbery on Sept. 28, taking $900 intended for the payroll of Bemis Bros. Bag Co. Sentence was deferred.

George P. Gearhart, 24 years old, of 346 Spring avenue, pleaded guilty to robbery in the first degree in Judge Hartmann's court, and Louis Silver, whom he robbed of $85, asked for clemency for him, stating that he had known Gearhart since childhood.

A charge of robbery in the first degree against William Finnegan, 25 years old, of 1421 Cora avenue, was dismissed when Judge Landwehr sustained a demurrer following the presentation of the State's evidence before a jury. Finnegan was charged with holding up the saloon of Alphonse Devos at 222 North Seventh street on Oct. 27 and taking $65. Rubin Sloane of 2343 Chestnut street, a negro, who was the State's principal witness, failed to identify Finnegan, although he had done so at a preliminary hearing. Judge Landwehr ordered Sloane held for the grand jury and Assistant Circuit Attorney Boisseau said he would endeavor to have the negro indicted on a charge of perjury.

Give your Confidence to the Merchant who Merits it

A MAN usually devotes about five minutes to buying Underwear or Hosiery. He finds what looks like the kind he wants. Matters of cut, fit, finish, brand and money's worth are taken for granted.

A Merchant may well ask himself whether he always merits such implicit confidence!

The typical stock of mixed brands and lots and quantities can not do it. Nor anything else but concentration on a standardized line—the same all through the range of weights and sizes; always the same in quality, wear and comfort, no matter what the market conditions.

There is such a service.

It is more than thirty years old.

FEELING BITTER OVER APPROACHING SILESIA PLEBISCITE

BOTH ORGANIZING PEOPLE FOR CONTEST

Poles Contend Country Is Basically Polish—Germans See Industrial Ruin for It if It Joins Poland.

By ARNO-DOSCH-FLEUROT,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1921, by the Press Publishing Co. (The New York World.)

KATTOWITZ, Upper Silesia, March 13.—Barricaded behind iron grills that blocked the staircases, and with other bars protecting the windows, to prevent hand grenades being thrown in upon them, the chiefs of the rival Plebiscite Commissions, German and Polish, gave me interviews.

The Germans are in the small town of Veily, protected in the Hotel Gold Star. The Poles are in Beutzen, at the Hotel Lomnitz, in the narrow principal street which has already stood one all-night siege.

Of the two, the Germans are the less fearful, as the towns of Upper Silesia are largely German, but the Poles in Beutzen are in the camp of the enemy.

If, as some members of the Plebiscite Commission predict, riots break out between now and the voting on March 20, they probably will begin in the interior in the small towns and center in Beutzen.

Germans Gave Interview.

The Germans gave me a joint interview with Dr. Lukaschek and Dr. Urbauck. The substance of their remarks was this:

"When the question of giving Silesia to Poland was first raised at the peace conference there were such big mass meetings here against it that the statesmen at Paris had to give in to the demands for a plebiscite. When it became evident that Germany was to lose the western coal fields, Silesia became a national question, and for months we have been making every effort to show the necessity of unity between Germany and Silesia.

"We have been getting back the voters born here and have been busy showing the people that their prosperity lies in union with Germany. The people of this country are neither German nor Polish; they are Silesians, who long to be under German culture, and who prefer German order to Polish disorder. This will show in the vote.

"The question is less national than economic, although the former phase is temporarily being emphasized. The German national feeling is that, though Germany was broken by the war, reconstruction has set in. The Polish national feeling has been aroused by their new freedom, and has been able to make an appeal which began strongly, but which has gradually dwindled as the people see how badly things are going in Poland.

"If Silesia goes Polish it means her industrial ruin. If it goes German it makes the difference for Germany between barely existing and prosperity. The people may be 45 per cent Polish, but they are tied to Germany by ties of culture. The Poles have been promising land, but they have promised the same land three times over, and the peasants are already disillusioned.

"Voters Best Propaganda."

"By bringing back voters from other parts of Germany, we are spreading the best propaganda. As the people are neither decidedly German nor Polish, these returned natives, steeped in German culture, are going to make a big difference, as each of them will induce other home-stayers to vote for Germany. The returned natives are going to change the result of the vote in many places, for example, at Rybnik, where they have swelled the German vote by 20 per cent. Without them the country might go Polish.

"Where the English and Italian troops are stationed, there will be a fair plebiscite, but most of the troops are French, who openly favor the Poles, because if France can get Silesia for the Poles, then France can control financially the greatest coal area in Europe, making France the biggest economic factor on the Continent. French troops are largely in the towns where the German vote will be the heaviest, and few of them are in the country where the Poles are in control, and it is the evident purpose to intimidate the German. In the plebiscite area there are 50,000 French, two regiments of Italians and four regiments of English.

"The insistence upon two ballots, one of which must be brought from the voting booth, is merely a means of letting the Polish watchers know how each man voted. In a district where the Poles are strong it is going to make it dangerous to vote for Germany."

Talk With Polish Delegate.

After interviewing the Germans I went to Albert Korfanty, who was a member of the German Reichstag under the Empire from Upper Silesia, but who is now the Polish representative on the commission. He leads an adventurous life. His job is to make the Polish spirit strong and to talk down the German insistence among the people on their material welfare. The Germans pay him the compliment of fearing his influence. Sitting behind iron-barred windows and with three flights by grill-protected stairways between us and the street, he talked to me for an hour, of which the following is the substance:

"Silesia as a country is basically of the Polish race, though long dominated by Prussian lords. Sixty per cent of the land of Upper Silesia is held by 35 landlords, most of whom are German noblemen. The peasants know that if Silesia becomes Polish the estates will automatically be divided up according to the Polish law. This is an important influence on the sentiment of the peasants, which naturally we do not overlook.

"German functionaries were imported and there were few Silesian officials under the empire. Since the end of the war the officials have been German Socialists, but the interallied commission has left the Germans in control.

Secret Agents Watch Germans.

"I make no secret that I have organized the people as much as possible, and that I also have secret agents who watch the Germans to discover what plans they are making, particularly regarding shipping in arms. The chief Polish trouble has been the German organization at Heimmattreau, which a year ago was terrorizing the country, breaking up Polish organizations and destroying printing presses.

"In August Heimmattreau organized a meeting against the passing of allied troops through Silesia to help save Warsaw and the same organization attacked Italians and French and terrorized the Poles in Kattowitz. Then I ordered the villages to defend themselves and organized a secret service to watch the Germans.

"I discovered they were introducing quantities of arms into the area. Within the last few weeks I have been able to give the plebiscite commission information as to where they could find these arms, and one case addressed to the secretary of the German Prosecuting Attorney at Betheun was seized along with eight machine guns, 400 rifles, 100,000 cartridges and 2500 hand grenades. There were seven seizures of German arms on the first seven days of March, and the revolvers were made in Germany in 1920 and 1921."

Former Kaiser's League Story Contradicted in Count Witte's Memoirs

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The former Kaiser's proposal for a League of Nations, described in his book written with the object of showing that Great Britain was responsible for the world war, is definitely challenged and contradicted in the forthcoming memoirs of the late Count Witte, Russian statesman, distributed by Doubleday, Page & Co., New York. The former German Emperor asserts that he proposed a League of Nations consisting of the Triple Alliance and the French and Russian alliance, which was accepted by the Russian Emperor and Count Witte.

After detailing in an earlier chapter a proposal of the German Emperor for an offensive economic alliance between Russia and Germany against the United States, Count Witte referred to his so-called League of Nations proposal.

Rapprochement Desirable.

"He turned to the general political situation in Europe and reverted to our Peterhof conversation," said Witte. "I reiterated my belief in the desirability of a general rapprochement of Russia, Germany and France, this rapprochement tending to become a close union, which would be joined by other European Powers. Delivered from the burden of military expenditures, Europe would be enabled to create a mighty naval force which would dominate the world. His Majesty assured me that he shared my views and then declared that my scheme had finally been carried into effect at his meeting with Emperor Nicholas at Bjorkoe. His Majesty asked me whether I was satisfied with this development, and in my innocence I replied that his words had filled my heart with joy."

Upon his arrival in St. Petersburg (Petrograd), Count Witte had an interview with Emperor Nicholas. "His majesty told me," writes the Count, 'that he had received a letter from Emperor William. He was glad, he added, that I shared the views which were the foundation of his agreement with Germany. The text of this agreement, however, his majesty did not show me.

Sees Text of Document.

"The next day I met Count Lamsdorff, our Minister of Foreign Affairs. He asked me, his voice vibrant with ill-concealed indignation:

"'Do you really approve of the Bjorkoe compact?'

"I replied in the affirmative.

"'But have you read the Bjorkoe treaty?' he asked.

"I confessed that I had not, whereupon he handed me the text of the document. The Count looked excited and upset. As I read the document, I understood the cause. The substance of the agreement was that Germany and Russia obligated themselves to defend each other in case of war with any other European Power (including France). Russia pledged itself to make every effort to gain France over to this union (but whether this result was attained, the agreement between the two countries was, nevertheless, valid).

"This Is Monstrous."

"'This is monstrous,' I exclaimed. 'The treaty dishonors us in the eyes of France.'

"Count Lamsdorff said that he had been kept in ignorance of the matter.

"'Does not his majesty know that we have a treaty with France?' I asked.

"'Of course his majesty knows that,' he replied, 'but the fact must have slipped from his mind, or, what is more probable, his brain was befogged by William's verbiage and he failed to grasp the substance of the matter.'

"We put our heads together to find a way out of the difficulty."

It was through the influence of Count Witte and Count Lamsdorff that the treaty was eventually abrogated.

SENATE PASSES COMPENSATION BILL WITH "SAFETY CLAUSE"

Measure Cannot Be Submitted to Vote of People Under Referendum.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 15.—The workmen's compensation bill, carrying a "peace and safety" clause, which prevents its submission to a vote of the people under the referendum, was passed by the Senate this afternoon.

As enacted by the Senate, the bill is substantially what it was before the House inserted 13 amendments on engrossment. Monopolistic State insurance, as adopted by the House, was stricken from the bill, and competitive insurance, with participation by private concerns, and the State, but optional with the State, was substituted.

The amendments adopted by the Senate today were presented by Gray of Jasper County, who has led the fight for the bill throughout the session. The act as passed is substantially the same as jointly drawn by the State Federation of Labor, and the Associated Industries of Missouri, representing the employers. It fixes the rate for total disability at two-thirds of the wage, but not to exceed $20 a week.

Senator McCullough offered an amendment, which was adopted, giving preference to former soldiers, sailors or marines for appointment to membership on the board to enforce the act. The bill provides for four commissioners at a salary of $3500 a year.

The vote on the bill was 26 to 4. The following Senators voted against it: Kinney and Brogan of St. Louis, Proctor of Kansas City and McCullough of Knox County.

DEARING OFFICIALLY TAKES PLACE IN STATE DEPARTMENT

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Fred Morris Dearing of Missouri was sworn in today as the Assistant Secretary of State, filling a position which has been vacant since William Phillips was appointed Minister to the Netherlands nearly two years ago.

Robert Woods Bliss of New York, now chief of the State Department Division of Western European Affairs, was nominated today by President Harding to be Third Assistant Secretary of State. Bliss has been in the diplomatic service for 17 years. Bliss' nomination was confirmed immediately by the Senate. Bliss will succeed Van Santvoord Merle-Smith, who was appointed several months ago to succeed Breckinridge Long of St. Louis.

The appointment of Bliss completes the State Department list, as the post of second assistant, which has been held by Alvey A. Adee since 1886, is nonpolitical.

SCHMOLL AND MAYOR KIEL "KISS AND MAKE UP."

SCHMOLL AGAINST 3D TERM FOR MAYOR ONCE

Public Welfare Director Now for the Re-election of His Chief—No Announcement as to His Retention.

John Schmoll, Director of Public Welfare, and former chairman of the Republican City Committee, called on Mayor Kiel in his office late yesterday afternoon.

As Schmoll entered the Mayor's office those outside wore expressions of apprehension. They remembered the Mayor's announcement, last December, that he would not appoint Schmoll director if he should succeed in obtaining a third term, and they recalled Schmoll's refusal, after this, to attend the Mayor's New Year party, and his denunciations of the Mayor, which occurred, during the primary campaign whenever listeners were at hand.

But when Schmoll came out he was smiling and the Mayor was seen to be smiling also. It appeared that, after the manner of lovers, they had "kissed and made up."

"We talked politics," said Schmoll.

"We talked about the campaign," said the Mayor.

"I am a good Republican, and will support the nominee," said Schmoll.

Once Against the Third Term.

Schmoll probably was a "good Republican," but was fighting Kiel, three weeks ago, when he issued a Washington's birthday pronunciamento, against a third term for a President, or a Governor, or a Mayor. He argued then, that a third term was as bad in the St. Louis city hall as in the White House at Washington.

Schmoll, in his Washington's birthday paper, outlined the change which comes over a Mayor in his second term, when, according to Schmoll, he comes to feel that the city cannot run without him.

"This, of course, is ridiculous and a horrible delusion on his part, but it makes him arrogate to himself autocratic powers," Schmoll wrote.

"He now, of course, has made many promises and entangling alliances, which generally are not for the best interest of the public. Under this terrible handicap it is difficult for him to carry out many important projects for the benefit of the city.

"To obtain a third term he will do most anything, and in his frantic effort to continue in office he is willing to sacrifice his best friends, to sell them out for political support, compel employes who are a part of his machine to take out petitions and obtain indorsements against their will, and while he would not dare to directly threaten the employes, he will nevertheless let it be known through the heads of the divisions that they had better do as he requests. This, of course, is an unpardonable sin against the Constitution, which guarantees every man the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Schmoll for Kiel Now.

But why repeat these unhappy words now? Let them be forgotten. Schmoll is for Kiel, third term and all.

Whether Kiel is also for Schmoll, beyond his immediate desire for Schmoll's vote and support, has not appeared. When Kiel announced that he would not reappoint Schmoll it was still Kiel's hope to get Collector Koeln's support in the primary campaign. Instead, he lost both Schmoll and Koeln, for the time being. Since the Mayor did not receive the consideration which he hoped to obtain for throwing Schmoll over, will he now forget his harsh words, and will Schmoll be in line for a second term in case Kiel gets a third term?

City Conventions to Frame Party Platforms to Be Held Friday.

City conventions of the Republican and Democratic candidates, to frame the platforms of the two parties for the city campaign, will be held Friday, under the requirements of the State primary law. The candidates for Mayor, Comptroller and 14 members of the Board of Aldermen, will take part in the conventions.

Mayor Kiel said yesterday that he had in mind some suggestions for planks for the Republican platform, but that he would not announce them in advance of the convention. The place and the hour of the meeting have not been designated by

The Wives of the Candidates for the Mayoralty and Some of Their Views on Public Affairs

Mrs. Byrnes Modest About Her New Role

BERNARD SISTERS PORTRAIT. — STRAUSS PORTRAIT.

MRS. JAMES W. BYRNES. — MRS. HENRY W. KIEL.

Wife of Democratic Nominee, Although Retiring, Has Kept in Touch With Politics and "Knows Why She Voted for Harding."

By MARGUERITE MARTYN.

WHILE the wife of the Republican candidate for Mayor needs no introduction to the public, Mrs. Kiel having actually occupied the position of Mayor's wife for eight years, and having become a familiar figure at the side of the city's chief executive at most of its social appearances, the wife of the Democratic candidate, James W. Byrnes, on the other hand, must needs be brought out almost from seclusion. Rather unwillingly, at first, the morning after the primary elections, did Mrs. Byrnes consent to receive a newspaper reporter, having not yet thought of her self as a person in whom the public could have an interest and being, besides, by nature and habit, retiring and unaccustomed to publicity.

Mrs. Byrnes was Miss Genevieve von Phul of a prominent St. Louis family. Her maternal grandmother was a Saugrain, a name identified with the old French families of St. Louis.

As a girl, living at 3726 Delmar boulevard, she is remembered as a great beauty and a belle. Her name is on the rolls of the Women's Club, though she rarely attends a function there. But her social activities seem to have extended chiefly to an intimate circle of old friends and business friends of her husband. Not only has her picture never, until today, appeared in a newspaper, but it was found that her most recent photograph, previous to this, is one dated 1886.

It was only when convinced that it was the conventional quite-to-be-expected thing for her to do, that she agreed to an appointment for an interview. Once in conversation with her, though it was to be found that while personally out of touch, mentally she has kept keenly in touch with public affairs and questions and not a bit diffident about expressing honest opinions.

Voted for Harding.

She knew just why she and her husband had voted for Harding for President, though both always have considered themselves Democrats.

"I had objected to President Wilson's arbitrariness in refusing to consider modifications of the League of Nations covenant and to his autocratic attitude generally," she said. "I was afraid another Democratic President would just be dominated by him, and that the same Cabinet would be retained. I did not think it was for the greater good of the country that we have another Wilson administration.

"It is always considerations of the greater good which should prevail over partisanship, I think, and, the candidate above the party. It is true Harding was not the first choice of even his party," she admitted. "But I thought he could at least be expected to give us a strong Cabinet. You see, my husband worked during the war under one Wilson appointee, the Secretary of War, and we had occasion to observe inefficiency in that department.

Opposes Rigid Partisanship.

"Though traditionally I am a Democrat," she continued, "I think the modern tendency is, and ought to be, away from rigid partisanship. My husband did not hesitate to state after he had become a Democratic candidate that he voted for Harding. The newspaper which called him up asked him only if he had voted for Dwight Davis. He said 'Yes, because he is a personal friend.' Before another question was asked, he added, 'I also voted for Harding.' He was not obliged to make that admission. Nobody really knew how he had voted. But it is a principle with him, one that he is standing upon, that of opposition to rigid partisanship.

"I never have belonged to a political organization, but if I should, I would prefer the Women Voters' League, because I like that principle of standing for issues and men rather than parties."

Mrs. Byrnes said she was "very much pleased" when the suffrage was granted to women, though she never had taken any part in the movement. She would not, she said, take any part in the campaign, in which many other women will be active. "I do not think it would be becoming of me, do you?" she asked, "and one so inexperienced as I would certainly do more mischief than good."

Lives at 3800 West Pine.

Mrs. Byrnes presides over a large house at 3800 West Pine boulevard. It is a neighborhood in which there have been many changes in recent years. Her friends tell her, she says, it is time she was moving, but she declares the more modern, but less commodious, houses do not appeal to her. Contrary to the usual plaint, she had no difficulty in keeping help.

"The rooms are well filled with furnishings which suggest massiveness and richness. There are many large vases of cloisonne enamel and many paintings, some of them quite large, copies of old masters, or done in the manner of old masters, in richly carved and gilded Florentine frames. She explained that an uncle of her husband had bought them in Italy. Pictures adorn the walls of drawing room, library and dining room where there are some old family portraits. There are a few by local artists, among them two by John Wilton Cunningham, a blithe spirit who departed this life some years ago.

"He used to tell my husband," said Mrs. Byrnes, "that he would not live long and that his death would increase the value of his pictures. I presume he thought that idea would appeal to my husband's business sense, but we bought them and have kept them because we like them."

The candidate's wife is fond of music and believes every encouragement should be given to the Symphony Orchestra.

Always Well Dressed.

One of the first comments the mention of Mrs. Byrnes inspires from those who know her is that "she is always so well dressed. Not that she is what you call 'dressy,' for she affects the tailor-made, but she is always immaculately groomed."

When interviewed she was wearing a tailored crepe blouse and cloth skirt. It would not be easy to believe the early portrait which shows her as a grown young woman really was made in 1886, had the artist not been so inconsiderate as to date it. Naturally curly hair, only slightly touched with gray, clear blue eyes, straight nose, small mouth, regular features, in short, and a slender, erect figure make her seem much younger than the date on the early portrait would indicate.

Mrs. Byrnes was educated at St. Vincent's Seminary, formerly at Grand and Lucas avenues. She has no children.

Hard to Find Vacant Moment.

In contrast with the experience with Mrs. Byrnes, Mrs. Kiel's reluctance to see the reporter was due only to the difficulty of finding a vacant moment on her calendar. Ten-thirty Sunday morning was the only time in sight. At that hour, after an evening that had included attendance at no less than three social functions and ceremonies, she was the only member of the family astir, bells in the house being muffled while the others slept. Eight years since I interviewed her the first time have made few visible changes in Mrs. Kiel.

"The experience has not caused me to lose a pound in weight," she said with mock seriousness, "but then, neither have I gained a pound," she added, laughing.

The house no longer rings with the footsteps and voices of half-grown children as it did then, Miss Edna, then a girl of 12, being the only one of the four children yet unmarried. The Mayor's residence at 1625 Missouri avenue is one of four three-story houses, all precisely alike, facing Lafayette Park. The drawing room, a long and lofty apartment with windows reaching from floor to 12-foot ceiling, was fragrant with floral offerings this morning. It is a cheery, homey room, looking much as I remember it eight years ago.

I was moved to remark that eight years in public life had seemed to make little difference in the Mayor's manner of living.

"There are boarding houses and rooming houses all around us now," responded Mrs. Kiel. "But we have no intention of moving away. It is rather hard to 'treat,' as the decorators say, these large rooms with their high ceilings, but I think it a mistake to be always moving about. That is one cause of the housing problem, I think. People want to move every time they see something new in architecture or decoration. They demand a lot of improvements upon every house they move into. The wall paper must match their carpets or curtains or something. The landlord makes the improvements and of course he has to charge for them. If people would only stay put for awhile it would help to stabilize land values and bring down rents."

"The servant problem," I suggested, inevitably.

HOUSE MAJORITY SUBMITS TO LLOYD COMBINE IN SENATE

As Forecast in Post-Dispatch Last Friday, Lieutenant-Governor's Scheme to Control Legislation Works.

PARTY REGULARITY THE WHIP USED

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 15.—The Republicans of the House of Representatives cringed under the lash of the party whip in a caucus last night and agreed to carry out the demands of the Lloyd Senate caucus combine to pass the administration consolidation or "job bills" with maximum salaries demanded by the Governor. Details of the Lloyd scheme were given exclusively in the Post-Dispatch Friday.

With Speaker O'Fallon and Representative Morgan of Putnam County, Republican floor leader of the House, demanding united party action following closely upon a day occupied by Gov. Hyde and Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd in impressing the administration plan upon the House members individually, the Republicans voted 29 to 14 to recede from the House demands for reductions in the salaries and voted to pass the bills in the House as they are passed in the Senate.

Break Considered Unlikely.

The action means that unless there is a break between the Governor and the Lieutenant-Governor within the next day or two, a very remote possibility, over the motion picture censorship bill, the Lloyd caucus of Republican Senators will amend all the consolidation bills passed by the House to restore the salaries demanded by the Governor, the House will concur in the Senate amendments and the Governor will get his legislative program virtually in the shape he asked.

The Senate caucus scheme, outlined in the Post-Dispatch, was carried out almost to the letter. The Governor and Lieutenant-Governor were engaged nearly all day Sunday and the Governor all of yesterday morning in searching out House members and laying before them the administration demands for the bills. The idea was impressed upon them that if they did not accede to the demands they would be charged with having aided in destroying the purposes of the Hyde administration.

Shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Morgan, in moving a recess until after dinner, announced that a caucus would be held immediately. While more than half the Republicans did not remain for the caucus, there were 53 in the room when a count was taken, and on the vote on the resolution to support the Governor's program without change, 43 votes were recorded.

This would leave more than half the Republicans unpledged by the caucus, no member not present being under a definite pledge. In most cases, and there is no reason to believe it will be otherwise in this, the absent members abide by the caucus decisions.

Partisan Arguments Used.

O'Fallon and Morgan in the caucus, which was in session two hours, used all the political partisan arguments they could muster to whip the low salary men into line. As was forecast in the Post-Dispatch would be done, they declared that if the House refused to recede from its amendments lowering salaries the Legislature would be kept in session a week or more longer than if the amendments were agreed to, and that during such time the members would receive only $1 a day salary.

This made the anticipated impression and brought the House members into line, though Representative Whitaker of Hickory County, Representative Dunlap of Daviess County and Representative Farquhar of Madison County insisted the House should maintain its stand for lower salaries and should not be swerved from its position by demands from the Senate.

The effect of the caucus action means that the salaries of the heads of the various departments to be created by the bills will receive salaries of $4000 to $5000 a year each, instead of lower salaries fixed in the House figures, and that salaries of employes under them will be at a higher figure than fixed by the House. It also means that the demand of Chairman Hughes of the Republican State Committee, who is to be Commissioner of Finance, that he be given 20 bank examiners in-

MAN, 73, DIES IN WAITING ROOM OF PHYSICIAN'S OFFICE

Street Sweeper Had Been Run Down by Auto Last Nov. 8, Police Report States.

Murdock McLeod, 73 years old, of 3013A North Twentieth street, a street sweeper, died suddenly at 3:40 p. m., yesterday, when sitting in a waiting room of the office of Drs. Gray C. Briggs and G. C. McCormack in the Wall Building, Olive street and Vandeventer avenue. The body was taken to the morgue and an autopsy was ordered to determine the cause of death.

At 11:30 a. m., last Nov. 8, McLeod was knocked down in front of 4240 North Grand avenue by an automobile driven by Burton W. Elgin, 30, of 5630 Pershing avenue, an automobile tire salesman. His right arm was fractured and he was cut on the head and right hip.

McLeod called at the office of Drs. Briggs & McCormack yesterday to have an X-ray taken of his injured arm. He was sitting in an anteroom, awaiting his turn, and when his head suddenly dropped to his chest other patients in the room believed that he had fallen asleep. When his turn came it was discovered that he was dead.

At the time of the accident Elgin informed the police that he was driving north on the east side of Grand avenue and that McLeod stepped into the path of the automobile. He said that he tried to stop the car in time to avoid the accident but that the street was wet and that the car skidded. He was not held. In reporting McLeod's death to the Coroner the police submitted a copy of the report of the automobile accident.

stead of 15, as fixed by a House amendment, will be consented to.

It remains to be seen to just what extent the caucus action will be interpreted to apply, and whether it will serve to carry out Gov. Hyde's original plan for a strictly partisan management of the penal institutions. As the bill was introduced at the instance of the Governor, five commissioners, all Republicans, were to be appointed by him, each with a salary of $5000 a year. The House amended the bill to require that not more than three of the five commissioners should belong to one political party, and also to provide that the chairman should receive a salary of only $4000 a year and the other commissioners $3000 each. Some of the Republican members of the House said if the Senate restored the provision for five Republicans at $5000 each, they would feel bound by the caucus action to agree to it.

Complete Lloyd Victory.

The caucus action is a complete victory for Lloyd, who has been the dominating figure of the administration as well as in the Legislature throughout the session. Through his organization of the 19 Republican Senators into a caucus combine, he has controlled legislation in the Senate easily. This control has been recognized and encouraged by the Governor who saw in it an opportunity to get through his legislation without danger of a collapse of any of his program so long as he maintained a friendly relationship with the Lieutenant-Governor.

As a result there have been very few administration actions without consultation by the Governor with Lloyd. The Governor has visited Lloyd's office on the third floor of the Capitol several times nearly every day and Lloyd has visited the Governor's office on the second floor frequently daily. In addition, there have been numerous night conferences at the Governor's mansion, Lloyd being called into consultation not only on matters of legislation but also upon questions of appointments.

There have been rumors the past few days that there were developing signs of a breach between the two, but if there is a basis for the rumor there are few public evidences. The rumor is based upon some slight activity of the Governor in support of the motion-picture censorship bill, to which Lloyd is said to be standing in opposition with Senator Warner and other Senators from St. Louis. The Governor has caused it to become known that he is in favor of the bill, but appears to have done nothing more than that.

Governor's Program Safe.

In some quarters, this threat to put the force of the administration back of the censorship bill, which will have the support of a number of Democrats and a number of Republicans from the rural districts and the small towns, is looked upon as a maneuver by the Governor to make certain that there is no backsliding by the controlling forces of the Senate caucus combine on his legislative program.

It may be said that no evidences of an abandonment of the Governor can be found, and that there is every indication that the Governor's program will go through as he wants it.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Willie Meehan Has a Fat Chance to Reduce and a Slim Chance to Succeed

St. Louis Boxer Surprises Armory Spectators by Fine Showing Against Man Who Owns Two Decisions Over Jack Dempsey —Visitor Very Fat, but Takes Punishment Gamely.

By John E. Wray.

Prodigies may come and go, but it will be a long time before St. Louis fans will see another athlete as strange and as grotesque as one Willie Meehan, the San Francisco boxer, who was outpointed by a local heavyweight, Herman Heitzenroeder, at the Armory last night, with a packed auditorium roaring its approval.

When Willie entered the ring the crowd opened its eyes in surprise for, above the service shirt which he wore to protect him during the preliminary arrangements, it was seen that Meehan had a cascade of double chins and chops that hung down like the jowls of a corn-fed Poland-China prizewinner.

But when he stripped for action there was a derisive buzz and a ripple of laughter at the amazing torso exhibited. For Willie bore a midsection that would have shamed the driver of a brewery wagon in the days of 4½ per cent.

Normally about a 175-pound man, Meehan carried all of 25 to 30 pounds of superfluous blubber between his neck and his hips. He was, for an athlete, seemingly too unspeakably gross to make even the pretense of a fight. As he lined up in the center of the ring alongside the blond giant Heitzenroeder, a perfectly-trained athlete, it seemed as though the mockery of a fistic exhibition were in prospect.

And then the fun began!

Heitz Floors Meehan.

At first it appeared that the worst fears of the fans would be realized, for, after Meehan had cavorted with an amazing agility in one so constructed, slapping Heitzenroeder with swinging sideswipes that resounded as only an open glove can boom, the St. Louis heavyweight warmed up and sailed into his foe surprisingly. He cracked him on the jaw with a left and down sank the man who faced Jack Dempsey six times. The blow was a staggering one and hurt; but no weakling is this boy Meehan, but a game bird, despite his physique.

He shakily rose to his feet at the count of three and doubled over with gloves covering his face to wait the charge of the excited and eager Heitzenroeder. Heitz drove and slammed at Meehan savagely, slipping some blows through his guard and banging him against the ropes. Meehan finally opened up long enough to fall into a clinch—the first of a long line of lingering clinches that marred the bout.

That first blow took considerable out of Meehan, and he was slow in regaining his elephantine friskiness. Heitzenroeder, beaming with delight at his unexpected success, charged like a bull and showed surprising cleverness, battering Meehan with terrific rights in the second round and at times outboxing him. Near the close of the second round he put up the shutters on Meehan's right eye, which was barely open for the remainder of the fight.

Meehan, Battered and Cut, Displayed Great Gameness and Rallying Power

For the next three rounds, although Meehan bestirred himself, Heitz punished Willie savagely. His punches lifted a mule kicker, and several times the Heitzenroeder right smashed flush against the Meehan jowl or against that soft commissary cushion.

Heitz also split Meehan's cauliflowered left ear and in the final round he hit him a smash in the left eye, that optic immediately swelling and turning purple. In short, Meehan took a good gruelling, one that any athlete in perfect condition might have been excused for flinching from. But there was no flinch about the fat boy. In the face of it all he fought back, from the down in the opening period to the end, with good wind and a stout heart.

Meehan, carrying the attack, was fully as ludicrous as his physical contour. Willie had a system. He divided each round into periods of rest and periods of activity. During the passive periods he was inclined to use Heitz as a lounge and he reclined against him as long as Referee Leo Shea would permit. Then suddenly he would back off and begin to jump around after the manner of an aldermanic Harry Greb, springing forward with amazing speed, swinging both hands sideways as he came and landing resounding wallops to head and body.

Heitz's Wind Fails.

In the earlier stages Heitz was too good for him and he landed few clean blows; but after the fourth round Heitzenroeder began to lose wind and the surprising Mr. Meehan's endurance seemed to improve.

He evened up the fifth round by cuffing Heitz about the ring in the last half and in the sixth and seventh it began to appear that Willie was rounding into the form that gained him a decision over Jack Dempsey after the latter won the title. Heitz's right hand at this period seemed useless to him and his breath was in the short pants stage of decline. He was taking a good mauling and but for the fact that Meehan does not strike a clean hard junch, he might have gone down under the pounding.

In the final round, which saw Meehan surprisingly at his best. Heitzenroeder rallied and took the lead away from Meehan, despite the latter's evident intention to finish his foe if he could. Meehan, in his anxiety to land, left an opening and a dying Heitzenroeder right came through like a 16-inch shell, plopping on Meehan's inadequate eye. That stopped William's offensive for the evening and he clinched and held for the remainder of the round, which was Heizenroeder's.

After it was all over the spectators, including many notables of the business and professional world, wondered how in the world Meehan had ever managed to stand up to Jack Dempsey in six fights and win two decisions while losing but one himself.

As far as can be learned, Meehan was nearer a knockout last night than in any of his battles with the present champion. Ability to take punishment, despite his impossible appearance, is one explanation.

Heitzenroeder surprised his St. Louis friends by his showing. Although he was fighting his fourth professional bout, he displayed more speed and accuracy than was expected and looks by far the best heavyweight in this vicinity. Heitzenroeder for years has specialized as a wrestler and was rated first class, locally.

Ringside Notes

It was announced at the Armory, last night, that Jimmy Murphy and Bud Taylor of Terre Haute would box in the feature next Monday. The boys fought a rousing battle last time. Jimmy Kerns and Johnny Lucas and Johnny Collins and Grub Whalen will be two other features.

The next bout on the week's card will be Thursday, at the South Broadway, when Mike O'Donnell and Bill Burns meet again.

Garrison's Finish.

One-Round Garrison's monaker should be changed to "Half-a-Round." That's about as long as he lasts. When he quit to Smith in the first bout last night he told the referee "his elbow and shoulder were broken." When he returned from the dressing room to explain, he was rubbing the uninjured shoulder.

Chaney Challenges Bandy.

Eddie Mead, manager of Andy Chaney and Champion Joe Lynch, has wired the Future City Athletic Club a challenge on behalf of Chaney, against Kid Bandy. In part Mead's message reads: "When Chaney and Bandy met before, Chaney was just getting over an illness and had not quite regained his form. We will guarantee that Chaney will stop Bandy, if Bandy consents to another fight."

Bandy did not seem to be in any danger of a knockout when they met recently at the Coliseum.

New Referee Is Good.

Leo Shea, batting for Walter Heisler as referee for the National Sporting Club, won the applause of the crowd for his handling of the evening's program. Shea, nattily attired in white shirt and white flannel trousers, managed to avoid occasional carmine splatters.

He had tough sledding in parting Meehan from Heitzenroeder, both being powerful men and willing at times to hang on, but he did a good job of it. Shea does not allow the seconds to linger in the ring talking to their proteges any longer than is necessary.

CICOTTE, WILLIAMS AND JACKSON WILL DECLINE TO INCRIMINATE SELVES

CHICAGO, March 15.—Responsibility for delay in the trial of the indicted players and others in the baseball scandal was thrown upon the State by President Ban Johnson of the American League in a statement made public today. He declared there would have been no controversy such as caused the postponement of the opening hearing yesterday until Thursday, if the cases had not been bungled when they first came up before the grand jury. He added:

"Judge Charles F. Barrett has been retained by the American League as special assistant to the prosecution. All that he has asked is time to collaborate, to the end that sufficient new evidence shall be produced to insure successful prosecution of the indicted men.

"It is entirely within the limits of probability that the names of several players who have not been mentioned in connection with the cases will be uncovered before we get through with them."

The testimony of Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams and Joe Jackson, who confessed before the grand jury their share in throwing the 1919 world's series, is lost to the State, it was said in court yesterday, as they would refuse to testify on the ground they could not be forced to incriminate themselves.

Kelleher Back at Short.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Johnny Kelleher, hit in the eye by a batted ball a week ago, was back at shortstop yesterday for the first time, according to dispatches from the Chicago Cubs' training camp at Pasadena, Cal.

Reds Trounce Columbus.

The Cincinnati National Leaguers invaded the Ranger training camp of the Columbus American Association yesterday and won a 20-to-4 victory.

Armory Results

HERMAN HEITZENROEDER, St. Louis, outpointed Willie Meehan, San Francisco, in five out of eight rounds; weights: Heitz 185, Meehan over 200.

Kaiser Knocks Out Spack in Seventh

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 15.—A right cross flush on the chin by Johnny Kaiser, St. Louis bantamweight, sent Joe Spack of Oklahoma City down for the long count here last night in the seventh of a scheduled eight-round bout. Spack had been knocked down in the sixth for the count of eight and was still in bad shape when he answered the bell for the seventh. Kaiser, realizing he had his man, carefully measured him and let fly with a right cross that hit Spack flush on the jaw. Spack dropped in a neutral corner, completely out.

Spack was bleeding profusely when the bout ended from the steady pounding that Kaiser had dealt out to his face and nose. Kaiser left the ring without a scratch.

Kaiser carried the fight to Spack all the way with the exception of the fifth round when Spack made a spurt and took the session by landing a series of lefts, while Johnny was taking things easy. It was the only round Spack had out of the seven, he fighting a defensive bout in every other chapter.

Kaiser showed a lot of speed and was in and out all the way, hooking and jabbing Spack and making an effort to get Spack to stand up and fight. Spack was repeatedly hissed by the fans because of his unwillingness to stand toe to toe and mix it with the classy little St. Louisan. It was this finally that apparently aroused him from his lethargy in the fifth and made him fight. Spack is a southpaw and used his left hand exclusively, never once leading with his right.

GREGSONS AND WELLSTONS WIN BASKET CONTESTS

The Gregsons and Wellstons won their games in the Girls' Municipal Basketball League doubleheader at the Mullanphy Gymnasium last night. The former team defeated the Mullanphy 'Tis to 14; while Wellston's victory was over the C. W. A. five. The score was 17 to 13. Both games were close throughout.

Miss Donohue, left forward for the Wellston team, was high point scorer of the evening, with 13. She scored four field goals and five free tosses.

Al Badoud Quits Ring.

PARIS, March 15.—Al Badoud of Switzerland and Paris, who has held the title of welterweight champion of Europe since 1912, has announced his retirement from the ring. Badoud, never quite recovered from the terrific lacing Johnny Griffiths gave him last year in Paris, when the Akron (O.) boxer, during 20 rounds, hit the European champion with every variety of blow known in the science of boxing, from all angles and distances, without being able to put him down for the count. Badoud, with little science, relied exclusively on landing knockout blows.

Baseball Leagues Meet.

Phil Kavanaugh has called a meeting of four leagues, connected with the Municipal Baseball Association to be held in a short time. The Manufacturers' League of eight clubs will gather tonight, the Bankers meet tomorrow afternoon and the Mercantile tomorrow night. The Empire League will gather next Monday. All the meetings will be held at 921 Locust street.

Lewis to Wrestle Pesek.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, world's heavyweight catch-as-ctach-can wrestling champion, will meet John Pesek of Ravenna, Neb., in a finish bout here, April 4, it was announced today.

Caddock Has Eye Trouble.

WALNUT, Ia., March 15.—Earl Caddock, former heavyweight wrestling champion, is suffering with temporary blindness in his right eye. He denies, however, the rumor that "Strangler" Lewis' headlock was the cause of the injury.

Iowa Trims Northwestern.

IOWA CITY, Ia., March 15.—Iowa University defeated Northwestern last night, 33 to 17, in a Big Ten basketball game.

Missed Fly Digs Up $500 Diamond Ring Lost by Ross Young

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 15. ROSS YOUNG lost a $500 diamond ring while playing right field the first day the Giants practiced here. He threw a ball, the ring slipped off his finger, and while 40 ballplayers and Henry Fabian searched a total of 40 hours, the ring wasn't found.

Two heavy storms have soaked the ground since then, four crowds of fans have tramped through right field to the exit gate.

But yesterday "Cosy" Dolan, while batting flies to Eddie Brown, clouted one that Brown missed. The ball hit the ground, there was a sparkle in the air and behold—there was the ring.

"Cosy" says that for proper inducements he'll take his trick bat and ball to any field and find anything.

Cardinal Hurlers Yield Only Four Hits in 11 Frames

Haines, Walker and Riviere Pitch Great Ball in Defeating Mack's Team, 2—1.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

ORANGE, Tex., March 15.—The recent good showing of Pitchers Roy Walker, Arthur Riviere and William Pertica of Branch Rickey's newcomers may mean a bad omen to certain other huskies who have been drawing pay as members of the Cardinal twirling corps. By the time the National League curtain rings up, April 13, it will be necessary to cut down the number of athletes now harbored here. It is a certainty that a continuation of the good work displayed by Walker, Riviere and Pertica means that these fellows will tarry with the club.

It is therefore up to the other fellows to bear down if they hope to do likewise. In this group is Marvin Goodwin, the once marvelous Marvin of other years. Goodie hasn't cut loose as yet. He reported this spring feeling better than he did a year ago, when he was of little, if any, use. Goodwin claims that during the winter his home doctor found a dislocated rib that was causing all his trouble last season. He replaced same and now Goodwin expects to go. Then there is Jakie May, who since 1917 has been trying to show why he should be classed as a major league hurler. Jake has had several outings to date, but has been an in and outer. Then there is Lou North, the husky purchased from the Milwaukee (American Association) club in midseason. North did good service as a finisher last season, but hasn't done a lick down here because of a lame arm. It is unfair to Lou at this date to say that he will not help the club. Another pitcher who must show is Mike Kircher, the big southpaw, who was with the club for several months at the windup. Kircher, like North, gives promise, but hasn't shown a great deal of stuff in the South.

Cardinals Defeat Athletics.

That some of the second-string men of Rickey's staff will have to hustle was again demonstrated yesterday, when the Cardinals bagged their second successive game from the Athletics, the score being 2—1 in 11 innings. From the Cardinal standpoint, it was the best-pitched game of the series to date.

Big Jess Haines pitched five innings and showed better than in any of his previous outings. One scratch hit that could have been scored as an error for Johnny Lavan, was all the Athletics obtained off Haines. Then came Roy Walker. He pitched three innings and permitted two hits. One of these was a home run drive over the left-field fence by Frank Welch that threatened trouble for the Cards for a while. The last hurler was Art Riviere, who toiled two innings, holding the Athletics to one hit.

Bryan Harris started for the Macks and blanked the Cards for five rounds. Then Roy Moore, the left-hander, took up the burden. He dished out goose eggs until the ninth, when a smashing drive to right by Hornsby tied up the count. Fournier had opened with an infield single and moved up on Toporcer's sacrifice. Hornsby followed with the drive to right that scored Fournier.

Galloway's Fumble Fatal.

In the tenth Dilhoefer strolled, but was forced by Heathcote. Cliff swiped second and Riviere walked. Joe Schultz followed with a single to right, but Welch made a great stop and throw, getting Heathcote at the plate and cutting off what would have been the winning run.

In the eleventh, Toporcer started the winning rally by coaxing a pass. Hornsby rapped a double to right that sent "Specs" to third. Then McHenry smashed a grounder at Galloway and Toporcer ambled home, with the winning marker. Galloway fumbled.

The Houston club will call at Orange for the first of a three-game series with the Cardinals today.

It will be Hornsby-Ruth day at Lake Charles tomorrow when the Cardinals tackle the New York Yankees in a single game. They have been selling standing room for this game for a week. Towns for miles around will declare a half holiday to see the two greatest hitters in baseball perform.

Toporcer had another great day in the field. He figured in three double plays, starting two and serving as pivot man in the third. He didn't get a hit, but figured in the scoring of the two Cardinals' runs. Once he laid down a sacrifice hit that put Fourier in position to score on Hornby's hit and in the eleventh his walk was turned into the winning run. He looks like the find of the season.

Shocker to Face Brooklyn Club in Opener in Series

Fohl Will Use Regulars Only, in Tilts With Champions of National League.

BOGALUSA, La., March 15.—Manager Wilbert Robinson, with 35 members of the Brooklyn National League club, arrived here this morning, ready to tackle the Browns in the first of a four-game exhibition series. Another game will be played here tomorrow, while on March 28 and 29 the Browns will tackle the Brooklyn champions at New Orleans.

Manager Lee Fohl will use only his regulars against the National Leaguers, and Urban Shocker and Hank Severeid will be the battery for St. Louis when Umpire Bill Klem calls play ball. Shocker will pitch the opening four rounds of the game and then Allan Sothoron will be sent against the invaders.

Despite the fact that Bogalusa was visited with a heavy rainstorm Sunday night, Lee Fohl sent his men through a long workout yesterday afternoon. What is known as the wrecking crew, consisting of Lee Fohl, Lefty Leifield, Jimmy Austin, Hank Severeid, Trainer Bierhalter and Manager Bob Coleman of Terre Haute, worked with pails, shovels and rakes all morning, putting the playing field in shape.

Vangilder Works on Hill.

The work yesterday consisted of a lengthy batting practice, winding up with a peppery session of fielding work. Bill Burwell tsarted on the hill and he served up his very best assortment of benders for the batters to hit. After Burwell had finished his turn on the firing line, Bill Bayne faced the batters and Harry Rush, Nick Cullop, Elam Vangilder and Steve Ferrell took turns.

Not until yesterday was Vangilder, the husky righthander, shown anything. Manager Fohl allowed Vangilder to take his time about getting into shape and for almost a week the big fellow has complained of a sore arm. Yesterday he was burning the ball over the plate and some few of the batters had difficulty in connecting. Johnny Tobin, in uniform, the speedy little outfielder stating that he did not care to lay off as the result of having hurt his wrist Sunday in the game against Milwaukee. Tobin took part in both the batting and fielding practice.

ICE SKATING TOURNEY WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 15.—The international indoor ice skating titles for both men and women will be decided at Duquesne Garden here tonight, when a score of racers, representing the United States and Canada, will take the field. The races opened last night when Joe Moore of New York City and Gladys Robinson of Toronto, Canada, won honors in their respective divisions. Moore, who entered two events, won both, while the Toronto skater took three firsts in as many races.

The final program for tonight follows: One mile championship, 440-yard championship, 660-yard ladies' international, one mile ladies' international, three-mile championship, 100-yard ladies' international.

Lewis Orders Airplane.

WICHITA, Kan., March 15.—After taking a ride in an airplane, Ed ("Strangler") Lewis, world champion heavyweight wrestler, today placed an order for a machine, and stipulated that it be delivered to him as soon as possible. He did not say whether he expected to use the aircraft in flying between cities to keep his wrestling engagements.

Indian Hurlers Cut Loose.

President Dunn of the Cleveland club arrived in Dallas yesterday and was enthused over the condition in which he found the players. The pitchers cut loose with curves for the first time and Coveleskie, pitching hero of the world's series with Brooklyn, had his "spit ball" working.

Drake Defeats Grinnell.

GRINNELL, Ia., March 15.—Drake University of Des Moines, defeated Grinnell last night in a Missouri Valley Conference baseball game.

Wilson 7 to 5 Favorite for Coming Championship Contest With O'Dowd

Middleweight Titleholder Will Receive $40,000 for 15-Round Tilt With Fighting Harp of St. Paul Thursday Night.

By Robert Edgren.

(Copyright, 1921.)

NEW YORK, March 15.—Madison Square Garden Thursday night will see the most suddenly arranged world's championship bout on record, when Johnny Wilson defends his title against Mike O'Dowd.

"I'd been trying for months to get Wilson," Tex Rickard told me last night. "I had offered him as much as $35,000 to meet O'Dowd and couldn't get a rise out of him. I'd about given it up when all of a sudden Wilson called me on the long distance.

"'I see Leonard is sick and can't go on on the 17th,' he said. 'What about putting me on with O'Dowd?'

"I fixed it up with him right there on the phone. Just to show you how things fall into a fellow's hands, that night Pat Mullins, O'Dowd's manager, walked into the Garden. I made him a proposition.

"'I'll have to talk it over with O'Dowd,' he said. 'I'll let you know in the morning.'

Champion to Get $40,000.

"Next morning O'Dowd accepted. I'm paying $60,000 for the fight—$40,000 to Wilson because he is the champion and $20,000 to O'Dowd. That's pretty good money for a fight arranged overnight and going on at a moment's notice, but the advance sale shows that people around here don't care how short notice they get so long as you give them what they want."

In spite of Mike O'Dowd's popularity and the way he has beaten Jeff Smith and a lot of other good middleweights around New York, Mike is the short ender in this bout and Wilson has been picked as favorite. Only in Mike's home town, St. Paul, has there been any even money betting. In Boston and New York the theoretical odds are 7 to 5—Wilson favorite.

O'Dowd Trains With Wills.

Mike O'Dowd has been doing his training at Grupp's Gymnasium. Mike is a rough bird and he doesn't care who hits him. His daily training stunt has included three two-minute rounds with big Harry Wills, the gigantic black boxer, who has made good his claim to the colored heavyweight championship. Wills is a clever boxer and a heavy hitter. Mike bores in and it's give and take while the training lasts. Mike seldom takes a backward step in a fight and he has the same disinclination to back up, even in training.

Wilson was to have come down to give New York an eye full by doing a little training near the battleground, but changed his plans and is shaping up at Charleston. Very likely he doesn't care to give O'Dowd a line on his recent improvement. Wilson is said to have been working hard to perfect a hard punch with his right hand. He's a southpaw and boxes with the right foot and arm extended. Some of the fans from Boston say that Johnny can poke with that right arm as hard as he can with his left, and that he spends hours punching the heavy bag with it.

Wilson Thinks He'll Win.

Wilson's only comment on the coming championship battle sounds like business.

"I don't care whether people like my fighting style or not," he said a couple of days ago, "but there's one man I can beat any time I start, and that's O'Dowd. As far as Mike is concerned, I'm a permanent champion."

The Wilson-O'Dowd crash is scheduled for 15 rounds.

Mike O'Dowd can be depended upon to put up the scrap of his very scrappy life. For a long, long time it has looked as though Mike would never be given a chance to regain the middleweight title. Wilson has been coy. It took $40,000 to bring him out and if he manages to stow Mike away his price may go up. Incidentally, Mike said a lot of things about Wilson and that Boston decision, and it is up to him to make good or take to the woods.

Dempsey-Carpentier Fight to be Held in U. S., Rickard Decides

NEW YORK, March 15.

THE world's championship match between Georges Carpentier and Jack Dempsey will be held in America, Tex Rickard, promoter, announced today.

Rickard said he was not ready to give his answer to promoters interested in holding the bout in Canada.

Carpentier, he said, would arrive in the United States May 1 to start training.

ARGENTINA IS LATEST COUNTRY TO CHALLENGE FOR DAVIS TENNIS CUP

NEW YORK, March 15.—A Davis Cup challenge from Argentina, the first from a South American country in the history of the international competition, was received yesterday by the United States Lawn Tennis Association. The entry list, which closes today, was brought to 12 by the challenge, forwarded by John A. Gibson of Buenos Aires, secretary of the Argentine Lawn Tennis League.

"The record number of entries already received shows how firm a hold the sport has upon the people of all nations," said Julian S. Wyrick, president of the association. The challenge is considered by the association as an indication of the development of the game in South American countries.

HARLESS NEW SECRETARY OF WESTERN GOLF BODY

CHICAGO, March 15.—It was officially announced last night that the board of directors of the Western Golf Association had selected a new secretary and two new directors because the men elected in January had retired for business reasons. William W. Harless of the South Shore Country Club, Chicago, became secretary in place of R. W. Newton of Chicago; J. K. Wadley of Texarkana succeeded Thomas B. Paine of Atlanta as director and Sam Reynolds of Omaha supplanted John W. Hughes of the same city.

Both Wadley and Reynolds are excellent players and both are in the lumber business. Wadley had made the best showing in national tournaments of any golfer from the Southwest, while Reynolds has held the Nebraska, Transmississippi and the Lumbermen's golf championships.

EARLY DATE TO BE SET FOR TRIAL OF SOX STARS

CHICAGO, March 15.—Despite protests of the State's Attorney's office, counsel for six of the eight indicted Chicago American Baseball League club's former players were successfull yesterday in forcing an early trial before Judge William E. Dever in the Criminal Court.

Judge Dever announced that the case would be called on Thursday and that an early date for the trial would then be set.

BRENNAN KNOCKS OUT SMITH IN THIRD ROUND

HAVANA, March 15.—Bill Brennan, Chicago heavyweight, won by a technical knockout from Sergt. Ray Smith, the American Army champion, in the third round of a scheduled 15-round bout here last night. Brennan weighed 198 pounds and Smith 191.

Tony Caponi, Rock Island lightweight, was awarded the decision on a foul over Spider Roach of California in the fourth round of a bout scheduled to go 10 rounds.

Judge Signs Contract.

Joe Judge, Washington first sacker holdout, has signed up. Walter Johnson arrived at the Washington training camp yesterday completing the crew with the exception of Jimmy O'Neill.

FORMER NOTRE DAME ATHLETES TO COMPETE AT MUNICIPAL GAMES

The Epsilon Eta track and field team will show two new runners at the Municipal Athletic carnival at the Coliseum, Saturday night. Coach Staley has secured John Jenny and William Weis, two former Notre Dame runners, to compete in the mid-distance runs.

Jenny took third place in the Western Conference mile run in 1919 and was considered the best distance man at the Indiana school. He will be entered in the 600-yard event. Weis has never placed in a Conference meet, but won several races in Notre Dame's dual affairs. He will represent the Red and White in the 1000-yard event.

"These two athletes received their aris' degree at Notre Dame and are now attending the St. Louis University Medical School. They cannot represent the Billiken institution as they have served their full period in intercollegiate competition.

Lewis Defeats Perry.

DETROIT, Mich., March 15.—Kid Lewis of New York, outpointed Jack Perry of Pittsburg, in a 10-round bout here last night. Lewis took eight rounds and two were even.

Veteran Zbyszko Defeats Stecher In Wrestling Go

40-Year-Old Star Throws Former Champion With Crotch Hold and Wrist Lock.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, the 40-year-old catch-as-catch-can wrestler from Poland, defeated Joe Stecher, former world's champion, in a one-fall match here last night. The veteran gained the victory with a crotch hold and wrist lock in 2 hours 16 minutes 10 seconds. Zbyszko weighed 225 pounds and Stecher 208.

The veteran exhibited a perfect defense against Stecher's dangerous body scissors. He appeared to be in danger of defeat by such a hold at one time, but succeeded in raising himself upright, at the same time obtaining a crotch hold. Zbyszko followed this by throwing Stecher to the floor and pinning him with a wrist lock.

Zbyszko broke from the two other body scissors by sheer strength with his arm and elbow and also by resorting to the toe hold.

Stecher was the aggressor for the first hour and a half, Zbyszko getting behind his opponent only twice. The veteran's marvelous strength, however, succeeded in wearing down Stecher.

John Pesek of Ravenna, Neb., threw Tom Draak of Holland in 20 minutes and 55 seconds, with a wrist lock hold. The Westerner displayed great strength and agility.

Jim Londos, the Greek champion, won from Louis Romani of Italy in 10 minutes and 30 seconds, with a jiu-jitsu leg and arm hold, which forced Romani to quit.

WEBSTER GROVES FIVE WILL PLAY IN PIKERS SCHOLASTIC TOURNEY

The Webster Groves High School basketball team, champions of St. Louis County, will compete in the Washington University interscholastic tournament for Illinois and Missouri schools, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

It had been practically decided to send the Webster quintet to the State championship at Columbia, which is to be played on the same days; but a change was decided upon yesterday.

The winning and runner-up teams of the Cape Girardeau district sent in their series yesterday. Jackson defeated Illmo in the final round of the sectional tournament last week. Jackson decided to come here, so Illmo immediately sent in its entry in order to get another chance at its rival.

The Belleville (Ill.) team sent word yesterday that it would be unable to compete here, but its place was immediately taken by Benton, Ill., the runner-up in its sectional tournament. The entry has now reached 22.

First round drawing is set for Thursday morning, when all of the coaches will convene for their first meeting. The referees for some of the games were announced yesterday. They will be Charlie Weber, Ernie Hausman and Carl "Teddy" Kamp.

MISS ZINDERSTEIN WINS TWO NET MATCHES IN WOMEN'S INDOOR EVENT

BOSTON, Mass., March 15.—The national indoor women's singles tennis champion tournament was begun on the covered courts of the Longwood Cricket Club yesterday.

Mrs. Molla Bjurstadt Mallory of New York, former title holder, seeking to regain her laurels, had strong opponents in the lower half of the draw, among them Miss Edith Sigourney of Boston, Miss Florence Ballin of New York, Miss Marion Zinderstein of Brookline and Miss Martha Bayard of Short Hills, N. J.

Mrs. Helene Pollak Falk, last year's winner, will not defend.

Miss Zinderstein won two matches, while Mrs. Sigourney reached the third round on defaults. Mrs. Mallory, Miss Ballin and Miss Sigourney drew byes in the first round.

TRADING ACTIVE ON EXCHANGE WITH RAILS HIGHER

NEW YORK, March 15.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Trading on the Stock Exchange continued on a moderately active basis, with the shorts renewing their pressure against individual issues, but with the market showing a firm undertone in the early dealing. Mexican Petroleum, Atlantic Gulf, Reading and United Fruit were sold heavily and sustained substantial losses, while in the afternoon American Sugar and American Woolen were attacked. Toward the close, however, the rails were uniformly higher, gains of about 1 point being frequent. The industrials were more irregular, but advances predominated. Call money was at 7 per cent all day.

Weakness in French Francs.

"Weakness in French francs, which continued yesterday until the close of the exchange market, was still apparent this morning, the opening quotations being 6.89 cents. While this price is 1 cent above that at the end of the year, it is a full half cent below that reached at the top of the rally in January, just before the reparations conference opened.

"London cables stated that the French were still selling francs there and mentioned embarrassment in French finances due to failure to reparations payments to materialize. Such a circumstance is not unlikely, since the French tax on business has turned out to be very disappointing and since the Government has been forced to borrow heavily from the Bank of France. Sterling advanced 1 cent in selling at $3.89¾ and then lost half the gain, while francs picked up 3 points at 6.92 cents. Marks were off a point at .57 cents, dealing in them continuing dull, while Swiss francs showed unusual strength.

386,000 Bales of Cotton Used.

"The figures for the country's consumption of cotton during February show that our manufacturing establishments used 386,000 bales exclusive of linters, which represents a gain of about one-fifth over the rate in January. At the same time, the new figure is about one-quarter less than it was in February a year ago, when our cotton textile mills were running at a rate which compared favorably with that reached during the active period of war production. Stocks of cotton held in manufacturing establishments and warehouses, meanwhile, decreased only slightly during the month and are 27 per cent greater than a year ago. In addition, our exports of cotton since Aug. 1 are one-fifth less than in the corresponding period last year.

"These circumstances adequately explain the present situation in the raw cotton market. With our own consumption insufficient to reduce stocks materially, and with European demand practically suspended, the position of the commodity naturally is unpromising. If any doubt of the inter-relation of our own markets with those of Europe, and of our prosperity with that of the rest of the world, they can find a full and convincing answer in the existing predicament of our cotton growers."

Wall Street News and Comment

—SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The stock market today was another one of the type which has now become familiar. Operators on the short side continued to search about for vulnerable stocks and succeeded in uncovering enough of these to keep the general list uncertain without, however, bringing about any weakness. The unfortunate Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies shares made a new low record with the same lack of resistance that the stock has shown all through its 40-point decline in the last two months. United Fruit was another one that yielded readily to attack and Mexican Petroleum and the Pan-American selling their quarterly dividends, were definitely weak. General Asphalt and Vanadium were others which melted away under pressure.

The stock market movement became irregular late in the day. On the one hand there was the continued weakness in the Mexican oils, in General Asphalt, in American Sugar, in American Woolen, in Atlantic Gulf & West Indies and some of the tobaccos. On the other hand there was the equally clear fact that the weakness in these and a few other special issues was having no effect in other quarters of the list. Announcement that the unskilled employes of the New York Central had refused the company's new wage scale and that the question would be taken before the Labor Board had been so well anticipated that it did not influence the market. Railway stocks continued steady throughout the afternoon, evidently registering the conviction that the Philadelphia gathering between the railway executives and the brotherhood heads was of more consequence than the attitude taken by the New York Central men. The quiet strength of Steel common, of most of the independent steels, of the coppers and most of the equipments along with the better tone of the railway shares were features that stood out prominently in the afternoon trading, as they had been in the operations in the forenoon.

The Bond Market.

The bond market had a rather better tone today for two reasons, first, because the chances seemed rather better than they had yesterday of a compromise being reached in the railway wage controversy, and, secondly, because of the expectation that after the next few days when the tax payments will be out of the way, money rates will work lower. Liberty Bonds led the way with a rise of some 20 cents or so, the second and fourth 4¼s being the most active. Among the rails the only weak spot was the Pennsylvania 10-year 7s, which had sold down to 100 yesterday, were back to 101. New York Central 7s were also stronger above 101, while the 6-per cent debentures rallied ⅜ of a point of 88⅜. St. Louis & San Francisco issues had a fair recovery with the adjustments at one time up to 65½, that is a point above last night, although part of this gain was lost later in the day. The income 6s also gained a point at 46½. The $7,000,000 San Joaquin Light and Power 7 per cents offered to the public this morning were reported late in the afternoon as going rather slow. Their principal attraction apart from the strong measure of security back of them, is that they have until 1951 to run. Otherwise it might seem as the price of 97.50, where the yield is 7.20 per cent, is a bit high.

French 8s were a bit steadier at 97½. Norway 8s were also up a fraction at 97. United Kingdom 5½s of 1937 were unchanged at 85¼. Japanese 4s were steady at 64. Paris 6s continued to be picked up around the 96 level.

Reading.

Reading at its new low established today was selling at the equivalent of 52, counting in the value of the rights to which present purchasers of the stock are entitled. This means a return of nearly 8 per cent and puts the stock nearly on a par with Southern Pacific, which at today's price returns 8¼ per cent, and relatively cheaper than Atchison, returning 7¼ per cent. As an investment proposition, therefore, Reading might appear attractive to any who sold out in the 80s, knowing ahead of time the terms of the segregation plan. In addition to the fact that the shares are quoted reasonably low on a strictly investment basis, there is the possibility, constituting an extra attraction from a speculative standpoint, that the terms of segregation scheme may be upset and a new project for separating the coal properties worked out which will be more in favor of the holders of Reading common.

Pacific Oil.

The story persists that Standard Oil of California is still in the market picking up the shares of the new Pacific Oil Co. The Rockefeller company was reported to have been a heavy buyer of Southern Pacific rights and was also said to have taken quite a bit of Pacific Oil stock at higher prices.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Total sales on the New York Stock Exchange today were 761,400 shares, compared with 717,400 yesterday. Sales to 2 p. m. were 541,100.

CURB DEVELOPS STEADY TONE IN AFTERNOON

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 15.—For a time in the early dealings on the Curb Market today the tone was uncertain and price changes were irregular, but when only a moderate demand developed it was noted that offerings were withdrawn and prices advanced fractionally. This caused a steady tone in the afternoon trading. Business was moderately active between professionals and between one of two insiders. Commission had few orders and the belief therefore gained ground that selling for the purpose of realizing funds for tax payments and margins on Stock Exchange speculative accounts had been responsible for the outside supply in the past week or 10 days.

Carib Trading was actively traded in at a new low record, but Carib Syndicate rose a fraction on a moderate demand. Texas Co. rights were fairly active and firmer, and a steady tone was shown in Columbia Emerald, International Petroleum, Skelly Oil, Elk Basin, Producers and Refiners, Ryan Consolidated and several others. The Standard Oils were higher, advances being recorded in the New York and Indiana shares. Midwest Refining and Anglo-American, Boone Oil was in supply and reactionary. Durant Motors was the feature of the miscellaneous list, advancing nearly a point to a new high record, but easing fractionally on profit-taking. Reading rights were dull and slightly higher. Acme Packing, Sweets Co., United Profit-Sharing, United States Ship Corporation and United States Steamship were steady. United Retail Candy continued heavy.

Mining stocks were again active and the recent leaders continued firm. Boston and Montana was active and higher and an advance of several points was recorded in Florence Goldfield. Official announcement of the sale of 250,000 shares of Treasury stock by the Eureka Creosus Mining Co. under conditions which preclude the possibility of the new stock coming on the market caused an upturn to a new high record for the movement in that stock.

Trading was smaller than usual in bonds. Prices generally were unchanged and slightly lower.

SHORTS COVER AND PRICES RISE IN COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 15.—Steadier Liverpool cables and reports from London that Great Britain might soon sign the trade agreement with Russia, promoted covering and some scattered investment buying in the cotton market today. The opening was 3 points lower on March, which was influenced by notices, but generally steady at an advance of 8 to 16 points above last night's closing. The census report showing domestic mill consumption of 395,563 bales for February against 515,699 last year, was rather more favorable than expected.

Liverpool was a good buyer here during the first hour, while there was a scattering demand from shorts or commission houses. In the absence of any important hedge selling, this carried the market up to 11.75c for May and 12.22c for July or about 22 to 26 points net higher.

No new fresh feature developed during the early afternoon, with May ruling around 11.70c and July 12.16c, or about 20 points net higher. It is reported that the final Government estimate places the East Indian crop at 3,556,000 bales, or 35,000 bales less than the December forecast.

Cotton futures closed firm; May, 11.84c; July, 12.30c; October, 12.73c; December, 13.02c.

St. Louis Spot Cotton.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Cotton consumed during February amounted to 395,563 bales of lint and 33,893 of linters, compared with 515,599 bales of lint and 26,893 of linters in February last year, the Census Bureau announced today.

Cotton on hand Feb. 28, in consuming establishments, amounted to 1,335,435 bales of lint and 205,646 of linters, compared with 1,869,368 of lint and 283,206 of linters a year ago, and in public storage and at compresses holdings were 5,497,019 bales of lint and 323,447 of linters, compared with 3,530,654 of lint and 368,970 of linters a year ago.

Exports amounted to 493,426 bales of lint, including 9713 bales of linters, compared with 640,320 bales of lint, including 6,217 of linters in February last year.

CATTLE MARKET IS SLOW AND TENDENCY DOWNWARD

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., March 15.—Today's estimated receipts: Cattle and calves, 5000; hogs, 11,500; sheep, 1800; horses and mules, 500.

CATTLE—A slight increase in cattle receipts today put the day's supply at approximately 5000 head, the largest in several weeks. Another slow market prevailed, with the tendency lower in most departments. Beef steers, yearlings and good cows averaged 15@25c under Monday. Canners and cutters and stocker stuff held steady, while bulls and veal calves weer steady to 25c lower.

Quote: Beef steers, bulk, $8@9, asking $10 for top; stocker and feeder steers, bulk, $7@8; butcher yearlings, bulk, $6.50@8.75; butcher cows, bulk, $5.50@7; cutter cows, $3.25@4.25; canner cows, $2.50@3; bulls, $5@6.75; veal calves, bulk, $11@11.50.

HOGS—With 11,000 hogs on sale, market opened slow and weak, with later trading largely at a 25-cent decline. Top $11.35, with best light hogs from $11.10@11.25 largely, good butchers from $10.75@11, medium weights $10.25@10.75 and heavies from $9.75@10.25.

SHEEP—An estimated run of 1800 sheep and lambs sold at steady to 25-cent lower prices. Best lambs sold from $10@10.25, heavy kinds $9@9.50 and culls $8@8.50. Fat sheep sold from $5.50@6.

HORSES AND MULES—Selling in horses this week thus far has been slow, barely steady. Moderate receipts have prevented any serious congestion of supplies, and several hundred head have already been cleared through auction.

HORSE QUOTATIONS—Good to choice drafts (1400 to 1800 pounds), $125@215; Eastern chunks, good, $100@140; choice Southern horses, $80@115; fair to good Southern horses, $50@70; common to medium Southerners, $25@40; plain Southern horses, $15@25; plugs, $5@15.

MULE QUOTATIONS—16 to 17 hands, $125@270; 15 to 15½ hands, $115@225; 15 hands, $100@150; 14 to 14½ hands, $50@100; 13 to 13½ hands, $25@60.

Metals at New York.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Copper dull; electrolytic, spot and March, 12@12½c; second quarter, 12½@13c. Iron nominal; No. 1 Northern, $28; No. 2 Northern, $27; No. 2 Southern, $25.50@26.50. Tin easy; spot and nearby, $28.25@28.50; futures, $28.25@28.50. Antimony, spot $5.25@6 nominal. Lead dull; spot $4. Zinc quiet; East St. Louis delivery spot, $4.75@4.87½.

Foreign Exchange and Domestic Money

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The foreign exchange market was irregular, with the volume of business far smaller than was transacted yesterday. French exchange, which had a further decline last night to 6.89c, rallied to 6.92c. The statement was made by banking dealers that the continued selling of French exchange in London was on account of a disturbance of financial arrangements by the delay in making payment on Germany's reparations account, which had been relied upon to furnish funds for nearby requirements. At the same time the Government has increases expenses to meet on account of the military demonstration on the German border. Sterling was strong, demand advancing to $3.89⅞ on selling of dollars in London by New York interests.

A feature of the market was the strength in Swiss exchange, which advanced to the highest level noted in a long period.

PRICES TEND HIGHER ON LOCAL EXCHANGE

Wheat futures recovered a part of yesterday's decline today while corn futures also were higher on the Merchants' Exchange. Covering by shorts comprised much of the buying. Future export sales of wheat helped the market to rebound. Talk of insects in Oklahoma also was a factor.

Initial quotations showed only fractional changes from last night, but further gains were recorded in the forepart of the trading. May wheat opened at $1.45½, May corn 41½c, July corn 41c, September corn 42c and May oats 42¼c.

The moderate early recovery in wheat futures after the severe break yesterday followed report of the British Commission taking 1,600,000 bushels overnight. There was some early covering by shorts. Corn was helped some by the wet weather in the corn belt which, it was thought, would be reflected in the movement.

The Canadian visible supply of wheat was reported showing increase of 2,140,000 bushels.

Grain Statistics.

St. Louis grain receipts today were: Wheat, 59 cars local and 39 through. Corn, 58 cars local and 35 through. Oats, 23 cars local and 34 through. Hay, 28.5 tons local and 337 through.

Northwestern car lots today were: Minneapolis, 219; Duluth, 41; Winnipeg, 555.

Grain stocks in St. Louis public elevators today are: Wheat, 417,190 bu. Corn, 342,333 bu. Oats, 675,190 bu.

Primary receipts were 671,000 bushels of wheat, 1,042,000 corn and 628,000 oats.

Clearances were 554,000 bushels of wheat, 947,000 corn, 32,000 oats and 81,00 barrels of flour.

MODERATE GAINS IN WHEAT ON FRESH EXPORT BUSINESS

CHICAGO, March 15.—Fresh export business led to moderate upturns today in the price of wheat. Realizing on the part of sellers, however, took place on the bulges, and brought about reactions. Later, a renewal of reports about green bugs in the Southwest tended somewhat to favor the bull side of the market. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 1¼c higher, with March $1.55 to $1.55½ and May $1.47 to $1.48, were followed by a general sag and then by upturns again.

Subsequently, estimates that export buying in the last two days totaled 5,000,000 bushels caused sharper gains to develop. The close was unsettled, 1¼c to 2¾c net higher, with March $1.55½ to $1.55¾, and May $1.48¾ to $1.49.

Corn paralleled the action of wheat. After opening unchanged to ¼c higher, including May at 68c to 68¼c, the market declined a little and then scored a material advance.

Lightness of receipts had considerable bullish effect in corn. The close was steady at ¼c to 1¼c net advance, with May 69c.

Oats were governed by the course of other cereals, starting ¼@¾c off to a like advance, with May 42¾c to 42¼c, and after weakening temporarily, went upgrade.

Employs Men as Servants.

"I solve that by not employing girls, but men."

I pricked up my ears for a bit of news. Some iconoclastic reform being launched by the Mayor's wife?

"Oh, it is nothing new with me," she added disarmingly. "I have had one of my men, my cook for 27 years, or ever since I've been married, and he worked for my mother before me. My houseman, I've had for several years, also, ever since housemaids began to complain of washing these long windows. I find men more efficient at housework in the same way that they are more efficient than girls in many other kinds of work. Their minds are not distracted at their tasks by a thousand other interests. While girls are thinking of beaux, engagements, their looks, men seem to be able to postpone their personal interests and affairs until after their work is done."

Her greatly increased acquaintance with people and affairs, here in St. Louis and in many other cities whither she has accompanied her husband on official missions, seems not to have made the slightest difference in Mrs. Kiel. She is apparently just as much interested in the little homely phases of life. She always was fond of people, always what is termed a "good mixer," and her capacity for friendship is far from overtaxed. But I do not believe even she, without experience, could have become the good politician she now shows herself to be. Any bitterness of the recent campaign seems not to have touched her at all.

You could not draw her into personalities.

Member of Voters' League.

"Yes, I belong to the Women Voters' League," she said. "I belong to the women's Republican clubs and many, many other organizations. Oh, I belong to them all, though I am not an officer in any of them. I think the women's organizations are fine and the women are doing splendidly with their new political opportunities. I do not blame any of them for investigating and discussing and comparing records of the candidates —far from it. I certainly would not enter into a business contract with anyone without investigating every angle. I believe I can think of the candidates as impersonally as anyone, even though one of them is my husband. He is my Mayor, on the one hand, and my husband on the other. And if I did not consider him a good Mayor, I certainly would not vote for him.

"That is what association with politics has taught me—to separate the personal from the public matter. All the hard words that go with the campaign are just part of the rather rough game. Each side is trying to score and nothing personal is intended by the players."

Asked if she would take any part in the campaign, she replied:

"Not any more than I always have, except that I can vote this time, where I haven't been able to do so before."

Pleads Guilty of $45,000 Swindle.

By the Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 15.—Joe Furey, who was arrested in Jacksonville, Fla., after a 12 months' chase by his alleged victim, pleaded guilty yesterday of defrauding Frank Norfleet, Hale County rancher, out of $45,000 by fake stock deals and was sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary. The swindles were engineered in Fort Worth and Dallas. Furey on the witness stand described in detail the transactions.

Here we are at St. Patrick's Day again, and a fine day to make merry it is, whether you've a strain of the Irish in you or not.

BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU WASH YOUR HAIR WITH

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleans the hair thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

WOUND LEADS TO ARREST FOR HOLDUP

Youth Shot in Left Shoulder Said to Have Confessed to Robbery Committed Month Ago.

Upon information that he had been suffering from a bullet wound, the police last night arrested Raymond Garner, 21, of 7211 South Broadway, who, they declare, confessed that he and Orville O'Keefe, 18, 7317 South Broadway, whom they arrested later, had held up and robbed Freeman Gardner, 7502 Virginia avenue, in front of 7303 Virginia avenue, on Feb. 11, taking $15 and a watch and chain.

The holdup was observed from a front window of his home by Charles Watkins Jr., 7305A Virginia avenue, who fired shots at the fleeing robbers. He said that one fell, but got up and ran on. The police found that Garner had suffered a bullet wound in his left shoulder, which now is nearly healed. The youths said, according to the police, that they were out of work, but that the shooting in connection with their effort to get money by robbery had cured them of that method.

Robbers Get $140 From Couple in Rear of Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Neff of 3029 North Newstead avenue were held up in the garage in the rear of their home last night at 11 o'clock upon their return in an automobile from a theater, by two men who appeared at the door with revolvers. They took $140 and a $2 check from Neff, made no attempt to molest Mrs. Neff and departed, instructing the couple to remain in the garage five minutes.

Two men hired the service car of Edward Holloway, 3958 North Market street at Vandeventer and Enright avenues at 10 p. m. and at 11 p. m. at Clara and Natural Bridge avenues forced Hollaway to leave the car at the point of revolvers and drove away.

Negroes Hold Up Youth.

Three negroes took $3 and a watch from Clinton Norfleet, 18, 1215 North Twenty-first street, at Twentieth and Carr streets at 10:30 p. m.

Two men entered the grocery of Otho Barnett at 525 Biddle street at 7 p. m., took $4 from Barnett, $2 from a customer and, leaving both unguarded, approached the cash register. The customer ran out, shouting, and the two robbers fled.

Donald Baker, 5142 Cabanne avenue, was held up as he went toward his home at 1 a. m., after leaving a street car at Cabanne avenue and Hodiamont way by four men who took $4, overlooking 75 cents and a watch.

A negro at 7:30 p. m. snatched a purse valued at $16 and containing $3.50 from Mrs. Elizabeth Rose, 2545 Benton street, near her home.

Burglars Take Whisky.

Burglars found two one-half pint bottles filled with whisky in a closet in the home of Mrs. A. Horn, 1727 North Thirteenth. They took a swig from each of the bottles, leaving them on a kitchen table. They did not return for them, but carried away two five-gallon jugs and one two-gallon jug filled with the same brand of whisky. They also took $15 in cash.

OFFER TO ABANDON FIGHT FOR FEDERAL MOVIE CENSORSHIP

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The campaign led by Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, of the International Reform Bureau, for the establishment of a Federal moon picture censorship law will be abandoned provided motion picture producers place a ban on all pictures which deal too broadly with sex and crime. This announcement was made here yesterday following a conference between a group of reformers headed by Dr. Crafts and a body of film producers led by William A. Brady, president of the National Association of Motion Picture Producers.

Three proposals offered by Dr. Crafts as part of the bargain were accepted. They include the organization of women's clubs to boycott theaters which offer objectionable pictures, the granting of police power to revoke licenses of theaters showing pictures included in a list of 13 sorts characterized as objectionable, and the creation of arbitration boards to pass on disputed questions.

WAR ON JUDAISM PLANNED

By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, March 15.—World-wide war on Judaism was contemplated in resolutions passed at the closing session of the Austrian Anti-Semitic Congress yesterday. A world anti-Semitic congress was called to meet in Budapest next autumn, and a central bureau was created to get in touch with anti-Semitic centers throughout the world.

Provision was made in the resolutions for anti-Jewish demonstrations similar to the one that occurred here on Sunday in every provincial capital of Austria once each month. The resolutions call on the Government to expel all alien Jews by April 1 or accept responsibility for grave consequences and also to impose exceptionally severe penalties on all alien Jew offenders.

FIREMEN SAVE FOUR FROM BURNING HOUSE

Two Women and Two Men Carried Down Ladder After Stairway Had Been Destroyed.

Firemen carried two women and two men down ladders from upper-story windows of the rooming house at 4439 Delmar boulevard at 1 a. m. today, after flames had made the stairways impassable.

Miss Verna Lloyd, 23 years old, a model at the Silk Exchange, was burned about the hands and body before she was rescued, and was taken to the city hospital for treatment. Her room was on the second floor of the house. She said at the hospital that when she woke her room was full of smoke and that she fell in trying to reach the stairs, lying until a fireman came.

Joseph Dyson, 32, an instructor at the Racquet Club, rooming on the third floor of the house, was aroused with difficulty by the firemen and suffered burns of the feet and hands before the firemen got him through the window and down the ladder.

Miss May Jones, rooming on the second floor, and Joseph Dances, whose room was also on the second floor, were rescued by the firemen, but neither of them was injured.

Mrs. Charlotte Maeders, who conducted the house, and her mother, Mrs. Katherine Deadman, 75 years old, were sleeping in a room on the first floor, and were taken out by Mrs. Maeders' son, Paul Wohnlich. He discovered the fire when he entered the house about 1 o'clock, and after he had rescued his mother and grandmother, he found that he could not get up the stairs to help the others.

Crossed electric wires in the basement are supposed to have caused the fire, which spread first to the rear stairway and then upstairs. The interior of the house was burned out, with a loss of $2000 or more.

MIRTH AND SYNCOPATION ON ORPHEUM PROGRAM

Victor Moore and Emma Littlefield supply a large share of the fun on this week's Orpheum bill with their burlesque sketch, called "Change Your Act or Back to the Woods." The action is supposed to take place after a Monday matinee with no audience present. Stage hands are busy clearing the stage, while Jim Jazzbo and Em Hookum are making a desperate effort to hold their jobs by rehearsing a new act for the evening performance. There is rich comedy here. It is greatly enhanced by the comings and goings and cutting remarks of the property man, excellently impersonated by Maurice Elliott.

Harry Santrey and his syncopated band are a feature on the bill. Santrey has a remarkable baritone voice, which he uses extravagantly, and his band is one of the best of its kind.

John and Nellie Olms are skillful and diverting sleight-of-hand performers. Mrs. Gene Hughes and her company have a fairly amusing sketch called "Contented Peggy." Harry and Ann Seymour sing and dance and exchange breezy persiflage. Billy Montgomery and Minnie Allen exploit the talents of George Kirby (Little Elmer), an elongated youth with a baritone voice. Hubert Dyer has an acrobatic act in which Ben Coyne injects the comedy element.

YOUNG AMERICANS CRITICISED

A criticism of the younger generation of Americans for frivolity and of their parents for indulgence was made yesterday by the Rev. Frederic S. Fleming of Chicago at the noonday services of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew at 411 North Seventh street.

"What is the man who toiled and sacrificed to get on in life thinking of when he says that he wants to spare his own children the hardships he went through?" the Rev. Mr. Fleming asked. "Those very hardships made and strengthened his character and yet he indulges his own boys and girls to the point of weakness. Look at the young people today—foolish, flippant, dodging the real issues of life! We are not true Americans until we realize that the family is the bulwark of the nation."

HENRY S. STIX DIES AT HOME

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Clara F. Stix; a daughter, Mrs. Helen Stix Kuh, and two sons, Charles H. and Harry F. Stix of the firm of Stix & Co., bond brokers.

The funeral will be held from the residence at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Funeral of Mrs. Mary Crane Lee.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Crane Lee, 80 years old, who died Sunday of pneumonia, was held today from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas T. Fauntleroy, 5716 Enright avenue. The body will be taken for burial to Somers, N. Y., where Mrs. Lee was born. Mrs. Lee was the widow of Dr. Charles E. Lee, formerly of St. Paul, Minn. She had resided here with her daughter since the death of her husband several years ago.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

YOU CAN'T BRUSH OR WASH OUT DANDRUFF

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Press Congress Appointments.

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 15.—Invitations were sent today from the office of Dean Walter Williams, president of the Press Congress of the World, to the Governors of each state to appoint five newspaper men or women to represent the state at the 1921 congress in Honolulu, Oct. 4 to 14. Similar methods of choosing representatives are being carried out in foreign countries, it was stated, as a result of the resolution adopted by the United States Senate on March 5, requesting foreign nations to send delegates.

MAN TAKES HYDROCHLORIC ACID

Decided to Beat Alleged Plot to Kill Him.

Fearing that he was to be slain within 24 hours, Louis Bantle, 47 years old, of 1243A Wash street, swallowed a small quantity of hydrochloric acid at 7 o'clock last evening and lay down to die. He did not become unconscious and could not sleep from writhing in pain which became so intense that he decided at 2 a. m. to seek medical aid. A policeman at McKinley Station sent him to the city hospital.

Today he is much improved and will get well. Bantle said he heard people living in the same house say last night they were going to "get" him within 24 hours and he thereupon decided to "beat them to it" and take his own life.

Prisoner Tries to Hang Self.

Frank Walden, 47 years old, of 1111 High street, a prisoner at the Carr street station, charged with peace disturbance, attempted to hang himself to the bars with a strip of his shirt last night. He was discovered by turnkeys and taken to the city hospital. Walden had been arrested on complaint of Mrs. Owen Richards, 1107 High street.

The Apache Trail

FORTY years ago a handful of nameless, blue-clad troopers won for you the site of one of the wonders of the modern world—won it from the merciless Apache by tracking him down and fighting it out, hand to hand.

Stop off a day in Arizona on your "Sunset way" to California and see the marvels of this Apache Trail—the thirty mile, man-made lake beneath whose waters are buried the windings of Geronimo's last war trail—the famous Roosevelt Dam, whose foaming cascade overtops Niagara.

Ride in a comfortable motor car over the most ancient highway on our continent—see cliff dwellings older than Babylon—glory in gorgeous vistas of mesa, peak and canyon more vivid than any painting.

MRS. JONES.—Any of the orphan homes in St. Louis would probably take your children.

LONESOME CONVICT.—A legal notice is not required in an application for pardon or parole.

MISS LARSEN.—The marriage would be legal, unless the divorce should afterwards be set aside.

A READER.—You are only allowed to take off the cost of repairs to the portion of the flat that you rent.

J. G.—You will have to wait until the Blind Pension bill passes the Legislature and is signed by the Governor.

READER OF P.-D.—The teacher should make an income tax return, but she need not pay any tax.

R. A. T.—A person has to be a resident of Missouri for one year, before he is eligible for divorce in the State.

L. L. L.—You can find out the date of your birth at the Recorder's office at the city hall. There will be no charges.

U. R. OUT.—Under the circumstances mentioned you cannot claim income tax exemption as the head of the family.

DISTRESSED.—Your husband cannot claim a savings account in your name if you notify the bank not to pay him.

IGNORANT.—When you move, pay only for the time you actually remained over the regular date for payment of the rent.

OLD READER.—The bank would be responsible for the check if it was paid on a forged indorsement, or to a different payee.

HARRY B.—It would not be legal for the landlord to force you to vacate, unless he had given you a written notice to move.

F.—If your income for the past year was $1800 and you are unmarried and have no dependents, your income tax would be $32.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS.

(Answers prepared by a physician of authority. Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnoses or treatment of individual cases will not be given. Questions that cannot be publicly discussed, if showing evidences of sincerity, will be answered when accompanied by stamped envelope.)

WORRIED MOTHER.—Take your baby to a physician. There is something radically wrong.

E. L. S.—There are many and varied sensations in such a period, and the ones you mention could be accounted for by such a condition. The "shots in the arm" might be called anything, but they are likely injections of corpus lutea, which is largely used in such conditions, and with benefit.

A POOR GIRL.—There is such a condition as an indigestion caused by a derangement of the nervous system, which might also cause shortness of the breath. You should be carefully examined and any defect in your general health corrected. There may be some organic trouble present.

MOTHERLESS ED B.—For many years there has been a Government hospital (Marine Hospital), on Marine avenue, near 3600 South Broadway, Maj. L. P. Bahrenburg being in charge now. This is the only hospital in the immediate vicinity that we recall, except the Alexian Brothers Hospital, which is on Broadway not far south.

INDIANA.—You should have your general health looked into and any departures from normal should be corrected. Do not wash your hands any more frequently than is necessary, especially with warm water. Formalin soap is useful when washing. The following is a very effective lotion: Tannic acid, 1 dram; alcohol, 8 ounces; the hands then being dried and the following powder used: Pulverized salicylic acid, pulverized zinc carbonate praecip and pulverized magnesiae-ustae, using 4 drams of each ingredient and adding to this, pulverized amyli, 15 drams, and talcum powder, 20 drams.

FIVE MILES OF USED CARS

passed in review last week through the Automobile Columns in the "Wants" department of the POST-DISPATCH in the form of 2503 announcements offering used cars for sale.

697 MORE than the record of ALL of the other local newspapers COMBINED!

Did you get yours? If not, don't blame the automobile—it was there.

City News in Brief

A RECITAL FOR THE BENEFIT OF the Blind Girls' Home, 6235 Page boulevard, will be given Friday evening at Rose Hill Hall, Maple and Hamilton avenues. Pupils and friends of Miss Edith Gibbins will be assisted by Mrs. A. Epstein, soprano; Mrs. Frank Clifford, story teller; Bonnie O'Neil, dansetuse; Peggie Rosenthal, reader, and the Temple Male Quartet, Edward Baker, John A. Rohan, George M. Ravold and Dr. Howard Schilling.

CHURCH SCHOOL CHILDREN OF ST. Paul's Episcopal Church will give a picturesque costume play tomorrow evening which will be open to the public. A processional of the children depicting forms of church service will be made through the church and old hymns will be sung during the play.

THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY OF THE 128th Field Artillery will give a card and lotto party tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at Cinderella Hall, Cherokee street and Iowa avenue. The proceeds will go to the relief and entertainment fund for the former service men.

ASSISTANT HEALTH COMMISSIONER Jordan will speak before the Public Welfare Committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Francis home at 8:15 o'clock tonight on "The Local Milk Situation."

NORMAN LEWIS WILL ADDRESS THE Junior Advertising Club at the Hotel Statler tonight on "Advertising and Salesmanship in 1921." A round-table discussion of sales letters will be held.

Spring Brings Fickle Weather

Users of Coke have no trouble in keeping just the right kind of fire to meet the changing weather conditions of early Spring. In mild weather you can keep a very slow fire that is ready to burn up briskly the first cool morning. Burn Coke, the adaptable fuel. No smoke, no soot, few ashes.

Prove to yourself that Coke is the most economical and satisfactory fuel for any season of the year. Instead of ordering coal to finish the season, tell your dealer to deliver a load of Coke. Then call Main 83, and let one of our fuel experts show you, free of charge, the best way of burning Coke in your furnace.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Ireland's Right.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I am in grave doubt as to Ireland's right to demand independence and as to Great Britain's right to deny Ireland independence. While I am entirely in accord with some of your recent expressions denouncing the British strong arm methods in Ireland, I confess to being very uncertain as to whether the right to self-determination exists in the case of Ireland, situated at England's back door. Supposing, for the sake of argument, that Long Island decided to secede from the United States and to set up an independent republic within hailing distance of New York, what would we say as to that kind of self-determination? I think we would tell them what Lincoln told the South. Would we not? I would like to hear from other readers of the Post-Dispatch on this question.

AN AMERICAN.

Teaching the Germans.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Is not the enormous indemnity exacted from Germany necessary to counteract the effect of the teachings of Frederick II of Prussia, usually called The Great?

For a hundred and fifty years, Prussian advocates of war had been able to silence the pacifists by pointing to the gains made in the various wars undertaken. The electorate had robbed her neighbors until she was large enough to be a kingdom, and the kingdom continued the process until it became practically the empire.

But we have changed all that, and to make the change an enduring one we must teach the rising generation the hardships which war brings in its train. Let the people of Germany feel the heavy burdens which the war, begun by them, has laid upon them; let those burdens be felt while the makers of the war live, while their children live, in order that none may be persuaded that it is to the interest of their country to make war on others.

Let France and Belgium, rising from their ruins, forget the horror of war so that they can in time forgive their enemies; but let the Germans feel it until they are ready to say that they have done with war for all time.

STUDENT.

More Rent.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

My landlord tells me every time the police get a raise in salary I must share his prosperity and I get a raise in rent. Firemen get eight hours—three shifts—which means nearly half a million more in taxes. More prosperity. I get a raise in rent. One hundred and fifty more policemen for city. More rent. From $65 to $85 school tax. More rent. The President of the Police Board said he would recommend an increase in the number of police. More rent. When is the rent hog going to stop?

Dwindling Storage Stocks.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

As to statements that "strikes or labor trouble would be welcomed by meat packers as an aid in disposing of big accumulations."

The great bulk of the meat eaten by the American public is not kept in cold storage. It is fresh meat and it has to be kept moving from the time of slaughter until it is on the dealer's block. According to the Government's March report the cold storage stock of meat, lard, etc., was 250,000,000 pounds less last month than it was the corresponding month a year ago, and this situation has not materially changed this month. It is equally absurd to say that present accumulation of hides have been inventoried at low values in order to show losses. We invite those who are so stating to buy or find a market for these hides, and the prices which we will take to get rid of them will show the utter absurdity of the charge that an artificially low price has been put on them.

Ninety per cent of our employes appreciate that lower production costs are essential and justifiable, and we do not believe they are going to be swayed by a few self-styled leaders whose jobs and salaries are always in danger except when there is conflict. Our action with regard to wages is a definite part of the whole nation's campaign to get back to normal.

Sell by Weight.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In answer to the smooth farmer. There is nothing smooth about the farmer, at all. The customer said he bought a box of sweet potatoes, and got all small ones on the bottom. That has always been a custom with the producer to top vegetables and also fruit, and I guess it always will be, till there is a law to compel the producer, to have a fair-sized average, all through the box or basket. There should be a law to have all goods sold in boxes, marked with a minimum weight, and sold by weight, whether sold wholesale or retail. With a law of this kind a customer would get her weight and also a good run of vegetables through the box.

While the country is going through a readjustment, why can't we settle this argument? It will be good for the housewife, for the retailer and also for the producer.

GARDENER.

CLEVELAND'S HOUSECLEANING.

Cleveland, like St. Louis and other American cities, has worried along indefinitely under the yoke of the usual local political machine, and, in all probability, would have worried along henceforth indefinitely had not the indictment for murder and the trial and acquittal under challengeable circumstances of the Chief Justice of its Municipal Court brought it to a shocking realization that its citizenry were living close to the brink of anarchy and the law of the jungle. The happy circumstance of a wealthy local charity sufficiently desirous of correcting conditions to throw its resources into the balance completed the combination necessary to organize the mightiest blow against bad city government that any American municipality has been prepared to deliver.

The point for St. Louis and other American cities to take notice of in connection with this master stroke to get at the bottom of bad government and paralyzed justice is that the Cleveland survey, to be conducted by the foremost experts of the nation and the world, is not for Cleveland alone, but for any or all American cities which will take the trouble to apply its findings. "This is not a man hunt," says one of the directors of the survey. "It is not a grand jury inquisition. We are not interested primarily in what specific bad and incompetent men, if any, are occupying office. But we are profoundly concerned as to why and how bad and incompetent men get into office, and what measures must be taken to keep them out of office in the future."

Those reasons—"why and how bad and incompetent men get into office"—will apply quite as appropriately to St. Louis as to Cleveland. It requires no expert to inform us that the principal reason "why" is that disinterested public opinion is never organized, while the forces of corruption and private interest always are.

Unless the forecasts of the best qualified authority are disappointed there will be much for every city to learn in the Cleveland report which will be available to the public some time during the approaching summer. Even then it will remain for public sentiment to apply the newly acquired knowledge. And public sentiment too commonly waits for some desperate scandal to arouse it to the realization that vigilance is the price of good government as well as of liberty.

BEWARE THE COLONEL.

What means this insurgency in the Senate over the proposed appointment of Col. Harvey to the court of St. James? Could any real friend of the Harding administration be so unforgiving, in view of the conspicuous services of the chief Wilson baiter of them all, as to remember that he once aspired to the sole authorship of the late administration and even since our declaration of war claimed credit for the same, likening himself to James Russell Lowell as the discoverer of Lincoln?

Good politicians, it is true, must have good memories. But memory is a vain blessing when it functions not to some purpose. The thing for Mr. Harding's political friends to remember is that the worthy Colonel, once crossed in his ambitions, becomes a remorseless enemy. Tantalized by the ambassadorial plum and then thrown back to the drab routine of an editorial office, there is no predicting what new and terrible form his literary genius might assume.

To the disinterested onlooker the pyrotechnic possibilities contingent upon adverse action in the Senate are fascinating. But the faithful will be guided by the expediencies alone. Only in the more terrible event that they should regard the Colonel's fulminations of disappointment as inconsequential will they persist in their objections to the administering of an ambassadorial sedative.

THE ARMOUR PLAN.

To the assertion of Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the railroad brotherhoods, that the packers had "joined with the Morgans and Garys and railroad heads in a concerted attempt to ruin labor unions forever," the action of Armour & Co. might be offered in rebuttal. Armour & Co. has called upon the employes of all its plants to elect representatives who will have equal voice with the employers as regards working conditions, wages and hours. The call further stipulates that when an agreement cannot be reached the question will be referred to arbitration.

How the industrial democracy contemplated by the Armour plan will work out in actual practice remains to be seen. Granting the company's sincerity, the plan theoretically offers labor a bigger voice in industrial management than any responsible American labor leaders have demanded. So far from being antagonistic to union labor, it predicates the operation of the business on terms of equal administrative partnership with labor.

That there are bourbons among capitalists who feel the destruction of labor unionism desirable and practicable cannot be denied. Such men, for all their business capacity, are unable to interpret the meaning of the times; the lessons of economic, industrial and social evolution are over their heads. But such bourbons are no more out of touch with things than are the extreme radicals who think that any demand labor may make is sacrosanct, and that any refusal to comply with such demand is inspired by destructive hostility to labor.

It is not through the Garys or the Frank Walshes that progress will be made industrially and socially. The leadership that will bring about fairer economic opportunity, that will establish a practical industrial democracy, will be found in responsible employers and employes who, realizing that no system is final, are also aware that betterment can be had only by cautious experimenting and only by degrees.

The Armour plan, as an effort to give labor a larger measure of industrial responsibility, is of commanding interest.

DARK OUTLOOK FOR POLAND.

Foreign news advices inform us that France and Poland have just concluded a treaty of alliance by which, in return for reorganizing the Polish army under French officers and supplying considerable stocks of war materials, France is to receive privileged treatment in regard to Polish tariffs and important oil concessions in Galicia. Presumably the alliance is aimed at both Germany and Russia.

It must strike Americans as clearly unwise and unfortunate that the new Polish state should be thus encouraged to launch into expensive and uncalled-for military preparation at a time when its most pressing duty lies in straightening out the economic and financial tangle that even now makes it a suppliant for alms at all foreign offices. The Polish estimates for the current year forecast an expenditure of a hundred billion marks, almost wholly for warlike purposes, when the maximum of revenue is placed at but twenty billion marks. The new alliance must entail obligations that will only hasten the bankruptcy of Poland and render its recovery possible only after years of grinding poverty.

Almost weekly during the past year we had news from Europe of contemplated and concluded alliances, military and economic, such as the Little Ententa in the Balkans, the Czech-Italian agreement and the Czecho-Polish agreement. A Franco-Turkish agreement is now among the new possibilities with the scrapping of the Sevres treaty. These understandings can have but one result: the drawing of sharp lines of division and the building up of barriers between European peoples at a time when the only hope of recovery and restoration depends upon the closest possible concord and co-operation.

If the statesmen of the Old World had set out with the deliberate purpose of promoting and perpetuating turmoil and misery, they could not have hit upon a policy more certainly leading to these results. The fruits of this policy are already seen in the ghastly exhibits of millions of starving children in Europe, and this will continue to be its fruitage as long as it is pursued.

And the very states now segregating Europe into hostile camps by agreements and alliances are the signatories of the solemn undertaking in Article 20 of the League of Nations convenant to refrain from just such engagements. If they thus contemptuously make "a scrap of paper" of the great document, they will reap the odium of imperial Germany in the category of faith-breaking nations.

MARION MOVES TO WASHINGTON.

Mr. Harding has graciously remembered his home town by appointing its citizens to the posts of private secretary to the President, Brigadier-General in the medical department and Comptroller of the Currency. Now if that celebrated Airedale is to receive its due as a presidential canine there may be a chance for Marion's leading dog doctor to become a Colonel in the veterinary corps.

The Kaiser says he tried to form a League of Nations in 1905. He tried it again in 1914, also, with no option to objectors.

DEFENDERS OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A party of 100 Kansans—exemplary citizens, we have no doubt—last Saturday escorted out of their county a former United States Senator, J. Ralph Burton, and several associates who were scheduled to address a meeting in Ellinwood in behalf of the Nonpartisan League. It was a typical demonstration of attempts by provincial guardians of our sacred institutions—the Constitution, the home and business-as-usual—to stamp out ideas by placing a stop-gap of violence upon their circulation.

The Nonpartisan League is the leading representative of rural radicalism. It is being opposed as a destroyer of the sacred institutions of the fathers, which, divested of its buncombe, means a disturber of things as they are. But, whatever the league may preach, so long as it keeps within the bounds of moral decency and government by law, it can perform no act so hateful to the principles of the Constitution as this violence to the persons and the rights of law-abiding citizens.

Even if no principle were involved, such tactics could be condemned for their stupidity alone. Their only effect, as shown time and time again, is to crystallize farmer sentiment against the towns and rally sympathy to the outraged.

Some of our Missouri Republicans have been so overcome by the nomination of Mr. Madison of Kansas City that their physicians may have to prescribe beer.

PANETELA.

NO, Luella,
Income taxes
Aren't subsiding
Possibly
Our expectations
Had not quite Enjoyed the light.
Maybe when
We see things better
Past the rosy
Dream of peace
It will not Surprise us greatly
If our taxes
Still increase.

Once upon a time,
Luella,
When the heart
Of man was light,
Someone evilly suggested
Working up
A little fight.
Possibly in opposition
Prudence said
It wouldn't pay;
But at any rate,
As ever,
Indiscretion
Had its day.

So we go,
My little girlie,
Through the ages
Of despair;
Each one shouldering
A burden
Far beyond
Its strength to bear.
Each one sorrowing
That folly
Is the destiny of man;
Each one making
Out its taxes
And remitting
As it can.

People did it,
Little girlie,
For the caliphs
Listen
And you hear
Them wailing
In the song
That Homer sings.
People did it
For Augustus,
Bonaparte
And Kaiser Bill,
Always answering
For folly
When they came
To pay the bill.

Thus we have it,
Sweet Luella;
Man was never Meant for bliss;
Never has
There been an era
Any different
Than this.
Taxes busted
The Egyptians,
Greeks and all
Who went before.
Wherefore let us
All be certain
Of not less
To pay but more.

Have you pictured in your mind the nimble-witted and roly-polled Gilbert Chesterton leisurely touring the United States, seeking what his humor may devour? Then you have missed it a mile. We have it from the gentleman's manager, importuned everywhere for some relaxation of the harsh code of business, that Mr. Chesterton is engaged in a strenuous lecture tour and cannot engage in any social amenities by the way. In other words, the man who poked all manner of fun at us because we are everlastingly after the money is over here chasing it himself to the exclusion of everything else. We dare say that is not the way in which Mr. Chesterton would like to see the United States, nor is it the way in which we would like to have him see it; but it serves the purpose of his manager, which is to exploit our interest in the man, and Mr. Chesterton falls for it because it will enable him to go home with a bag of gold bigger than anything Ali Baba found in the robbers' cave. Truth to tell, his state of mind during the proceeding cannot be very much unlike that of Ali Baba making off with some of that gold. We are the robbers of earth, and one by one the Ali Babas of our own time come with their mules ostensibly for wood. The wood in this case was contact and affiliation with us, but alas! he too has found the cave! The spectacle of him making off by the circuitous route which saw him in Duluth on Friday and Omaha on Monday beats anything that could have been felt by the appearance of Ali Baba beating his gold-laden mule back into town. We ask you to imagine it.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

THE GERMAN INDEMNITY.

From the London Spectator.

WE all want to make Germany pay, and it is absolutely just that she should pay up to the reasonable limit of her capacity; but with the exception of a few persons who have a passion for preferring the shadow to the substance, Englishmen do not want to make Germany pay in such a manner that the allies would be hit harder than Germany herself. There are several ways in which the allies might be badly hit by an unwise handling of the indemnity. It is not merely a question of a failure to garner the German tribute year by year. There is the much larger question of the quietude and, so far as it may be, the contentment of the whole world. Unless the people of all countries settle down with a will to reproduce the wealth which was dissipated by the war, there is no prospect of the allies being benefited by the German indemnity. Payments of the annual sum might be made with regularity, and yet owing to the crippled state of the markets and the general anxiety and discontent the allies would have lost more than they would have gained. As regards Germany herself, our policy should be to use every argument, financial or otherwise, in such a way that she will have no excuse to put into office a militaristic government. The present German Government is democratic in name, and, so far as we can judge, to a considerable extent also in action; it is most important to make it possible for such a government to survive, and also for them to be succeeded by a government of like complexion. We should never give German Republicans a handle for saying, "You squeezed us so hard that we could not carry on. We became impotent, and we naturally fell a prey to our enemies, who were always prowling round watching for their opportunity."

THE FAMILY IN RUSSIA.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THOUGH Mr. Martens has gone, his Soviet bureau in New York continues to send out Bolshevist propaganda. It has just issued a pamphlet on the "Marriage Laws of Soviet Russia," with a sophisticated introduction intended to sugar the bitter pill, represented in the attack on the family that these laws set up, by presenting the laws as model enactments of a higher civilization. Of course, there is nothing in the Soviet Government's insistence on a civil marriage ceremony that is different from what always has obtained here. Nor does the evil of the Soviet marriage laws lie in the family regulations which they have adopted, which are common to other civilized states, but in the peculiar Bolshevist principles which, while they seemingly legally establish the family under State protection, actually undermine it by legalizing all illicit relations, even these incurred matrimonially by those otherwise "married" according to the Soviet laws. This apologist for the Soviet laws, one A. G. Hoichberg, makes it clear that while the Soviet laws as to marriage had to meet certain bourgeoise prejudices as to the sanctity of the family, the Soviet Government wants all the world to know that these laws are "transitory," mere opportunism intended to meet "the necessities of each day," since, as he says, "the proletariat Government does not aim to make the domestic and civil codes of long duration. It does not desire to establish eternal codes." Hence, from the introduction, it is plain that those who believe in the simple family life and honorable wedlock in Russia are faced with the fact that the seeming concessions of the present in favor of the family as known to western civilization may be swept away day in favor of those radical attitudes toward the family and all human relationship that the Bolshevist leaders are known to hold and which their propagandists are expounding.

Daily Food Bill 19 Cents; Keeps Well and Happy

NEW YORK WOMAN SOLVES PROBLEM

Cheese, Bread, Cocoa and Spinach Main Items in "Hard Times" but Healthy Diet.

By Fay Stevenson.

NEW YORK, March 15.

THIS is the story of a woman who lives just around the corner from Broadway and the gay lights and only spends NINETEEN CENTS a day on her food bill.

No doubt when some of us get through paying our income tax we shall be obliged to live on that sum, or less, for several weeks.

Therefore I subwayed up to see this "wonderful woman," who is Mrs. Winifred Harper Cooley, former national president of the Associated Clubs of Domestic Science. At present she is lecturing in various public schools of our boroughs and telling people how they can live upon this small sum of money and really get all the nutritive food values necessary.

However, Mrs. Cooley does not advocate this diet for others. She merely points out how it "can" be done. She also declares that the diet thoroughly agrees with her and her plump arms and rounded cheeks are an excellent illustration of good nourishment.

Climbing up to her studio apartment at 70 West Thirty-sixth street, I secured the 19-cent menu, which consists of a week's marketing and reads:

¼ lbs. American cream cheese.	$ .59
Loaf of whole-wheat bread	.10
Spinach	.21
Apples and oranges	.25
Prepared cocoa	.18
Total	$1.33

Dividing this by the day you have 19 cents.

"But how do you proportion this amount of food for the week?" I asked. "Do you have a set menu?"

"I have a cup of cocoa for breakfast and a slice of rich whole-wheat bread," replied Mrs. Cooley. "For luncheon I eat some spinach and another slice of bread, and feel well nourished. Then, for dinner, I have a second cup of cocoa, a big slice of full cream cheese, which is equal to meat for producing energy and strength; another slice of bread and some fruit.

"Cocoa," continued Mrs. Cooley, "is an excellent substitute for whisky. I found, in fact, that my little diet was most successful, and after living for one week upon it I intend to try a second week. It has 34 per cent of fats and 35 per cent of water. The remaining percentage consists of ash, casein, nitrogen and other necessary elements."

And yet I must confess that instead of investing in a 19-cent daily menu, I went out and ate a perfectly good little porterhouse steak.

BOSTON BAKED BEANS

Half pound of salt pork.
Two teaspoons of salt.
Quarter cup New Orleans molasses.

Pick over and wash beans; cover with cold water and soak overnight. Drain, cover with fresh water and bring to the boiling point, drain again; scald the salt pork and cut in three pieces; put one in the bottom of the bean pot, then fill pot half full of beans, add another layer of pork, fill pot with beans and put the last slice of pork on top with rind up. Mix seasonings with one cup of boiling water and pour over the beans; add enough more boiling water to fill the pot. Cover and bake in a slow oven about 8 hours, adding more water as needed. Uncover beans during the last hour of cooking.

ECZEMA.

ALMOST everyone has had an unpleasant experience with eczema. A belief, very prevalent, to the effect that if eczema is quickly healed it is likely to be "driven in" the system is a gross mistake.

This idea is probably founded on the fact that eczema may result from some digestive trouble which, when corrected, clears up the skin condition. It is well in all cases of eczema to give special attention to the entire digestive tract, including the mouth, which should be kept sweet and clean and all food properly masticated. A simple laxative, which is at the same time an intestinal antiseptic, has an extremely beneficial effect upon the skin, because, of course, if the system is clogged with waste products the blood is bound to be in a very bad condition. An ideal laxative of this sort is calomel and soda. The combination is put up in pellet form of varying doses to suit the age of the patient.

Now in all cases of eczema this is the first requirement—to keep the whole digestive tract sweet and clean and, therefore, the blood in normal condition, avoiding at the same time such articles of diet as have a heating effect or that are know to disagree, for it frequently happens that an attack of eczema follows the ingestion of some particular article of diet.

There are persons, for instance, who cannot eat strawberries, oysters, eggs, etc., without immediately suffering from eczema in some form or another. It goes without saying that when a food has this effect it should be avoided.

Another precaution to observe is not to apply water to the eczematous surface while it is under treatment. In the acute stage a simple application of absorbent powder, such as talcum, rice or starch, with some oxide of zinc, or 1 per cent of boric acid or salicylic acid often repeated will answer the purpose and quickly effect a cure. If there should be some oozing the powder will form a kind of paste and protect the skin.

If the dry powder does not speedily relieve the condition a mild solution of subacetate of lead, or of aluminum (2 per cent) on soft linen, should be applied. This reduces the inflammation and the itching, and as soon as this is accomplished the use of the dry powder should be resumed.

UNCOMMON SENSE

By JOHN BLAKE.

YOU are a machine, and machines wear out. You have, of course, a decided advantage over man made machines, in that repairs are made automatically, and usually without cost. But that is true only up to a certain point.

After 40, though the mental part of the machinery ought to be better than ever, the physical part begins to wear out faster than it can be replaced.

That is the time when repairs cease to be altogether automatic. And if you do not take care to find out when they are needed, they will become very costly.

It is wise in making up your budget to make an allowance for repairs. This allowance ought to include enough money to have a doctor look you over once a year, and to provide longer holidays for rest than you have been getting.

Do not think that after 40 you can work the same length of time and do as efficient work in it as you did when you were 30.

You can make just as much money—probably more. For if you worked hard and wisely at 30 you will be drawing dividends now.

But if you are still 30 or under, or even 35, start the repair fund right away.

Take longer vacations than you have been taking. Get interests that will keep you busy, but restfully busy during the week ends.

A trip to Europe may look to you like a terrific expense, but if it saves your life, or prolongs it 10 years, it will be cheap.

The same thing may be said of a journey to any of the wonderful places in America that you have not seen.

Look on these as luxuries, and the cost will seem prohibitive. You will never take them. But look on them as necessary periods of repair and you will see that they are good investments.

It doesn't pay to break down at 50. Life isn't worth living after a breakdown. But it is better worth living at 50 than at 30 if your machinery is in good order, for you know better how to enjoy it.

Establish your repair fund early, and don't be afraid to use it. It will save doctor bills and hospital bills, and perhaps the worst thing of all, a long and miserable old age.

How the Cuts of Meat Looked to Mrs. Justmarried.

FULL MOON

By Maxwell Struthers Burt

THIRD INSTALLMENT.

"At that time," resumed Prendegast, "a snowshoe patrol came past here once a week on skis to Placer all during the winter—usually a Sergeant from the cavalry post above here. It was his custom to stop in at my place for the night. On that particular night it was very cold—five feet or so of snow; it was in January—and he was late. He came to my door about 11 o'clock and could not get in, although the cabin, so he said, was a blaze of light and someone was playing the piano. He was a wise soldier and broke in. I was playing the piano—softly—he said wildly—and in the next room was my wife, dying. She had shot herself, but how could I prove it? I did not even know she was dying. I had done the best I could for her. I thought to move her would be sure death. At that time the nearest doctor was a hundred and fifty miles away"——

Stuart licked his lips. "And, of course"—— he said.

Prendegast nodded his head gravely. "Exactly!" he agreed. "There was that story of Garnett, my partner, as well. They knew I was jealous of him, and three months before, as you know, we had ridden into a ford together that I knew and he didn't, and he had been drowned. So you see——! Well, they took my wife away from me, and she died, but she wouldn't tell the story; and they took my children away. They claimed that I fled and skied straight north through the bitter cold like a madman. At all events, I didn't come back here for five years. By that time they had forgotten. They do, in this part of the world." He shrugged his shoulders as if infinitely weary. "Even if I had had excuses," he said, "what would have been the use? But I think it is only fair to you to know beforehand what you have gotten into." His eyes became opaque again. "Tomorrow," he said, "you will leave here and no harm will be done."

"Only the fact of her lineage. I had to tell her that. One must face reality."

Stuart stood up and stretched to the limit of his lean height. "Would you excuse me for a moment?" he said.

He went through the house and into the dining room beyond. The girl was putting the finishing touches to the table. He walked up behind her and seized her arms and twisted her about and looked down into her startled eyes. "Your father has been talking to me," he said. "He has been trying to frighten me away. I love you—would you mind very much marrying me at once?"

She gave a choking sob, and he pressed her head down to his shoulder, and stroked it, as you would stroke the head of a hurt child. For a moment she lay in his arms utterly content, then she tried to struggle loose. "Don't!" she said brokenly. "Go away! It's no use! Even if you don't care who I am, I can't go with you." She raised a stricken face. "Please!" she begged. "It was all right until you came. You'll forget."

Stuart was overcome with the same hopelessness that had overtaken him that afternoon on the road. How could he tell this girl what her father really was—more than she already knew? How explain to her that he was a madman; possibly a murderer? His moment of indecision was answered in a totally unexpected manner. Two hands, lean and sinewy, encircling him, gently removed his arms from the girl's waist and turned him about. He looked into the blazing eyes of Prendegast.

For a moment the two men stared at each other in silence, and then Prendegast spoke. A vein in his temple swelled.

"I thought," he said, "I had told you enough. It would have been enough for the ordinary man, but you are a more obstinate fool than I had imagined. You idiot! Can't you understand? Do you think I came to a place like this to have my plans upset by such as you? Listen! God branded me when I was born, through no fault of mine, and he gave me, to make my hell even worse, I suppose, sensitive nerves and a mind beyond the ordinary. Then I was turned loose on a world that would not have me. So I came here and made a world of my own"—he gestured widely—"a world of my own, do you understand! It's mine! I walk here with by head up. Those I do not like cannot come in; those who refuse to abide by my rules, leave. For years I lived in loneliness, surrounded only by the creatures you have seen, and whom I have trained to my will, until at last there comes a human being who is willing to be the same. Do you think I will give her up? Margaret—?" He turned to the girl and held out his arms.

She hesitated and then came to him. Over her shoulder she said to Stuart, "I cannot help it—Understand! O please!—Understand!"

Prendegast released her and stepped threateningly toward Stuart. "Get out of here!" he said, pointing a long finger. "Get your horses and go! You'll find your revolver in the hall"—— He smiled, baring his teeth. "Unless you have cartridges in your pack, you're disarmed. There are none in your gun or belt. I took them out."

Stuart tried bewildered argument. "But look here! I'm not a beggar; I'm"—— Then a full realization of what he had just heard swept over him and he, too, grew cold with anger. "I will get my horses," he said, "and I will camp just outside your place. Tomorrow I will come back and discuss this thing reasonably. Meanwhile, I have an old pack mare that came originally from Nevill's. If I turn her loose she'll go back there straight as an arrow and take the other horses with her. In six hours Nevill will be here. So I'd try nothing out of the ordinary, Mr. Prendegast. I'm not Garnett, and this is considerably later than 20 years ago. I think your kingdom will have to be administered rationally."

He walked quietly out of the room, stopping in the hall for his empty revolver. The sun was setting when he opened the barn door, and it was not until an hour later that he had packed his belongings and was able to start down the winding road. The ranch house showed no signs of life as he passed it, but as he came to the first darkness of the trees someone called and the white figure of the girl ran to his side. "Did you understand?" she asked breathlessly.

"O, yes!" he answered indifferently. "I'll be back tomorrow."

"Go away!" she pleaded.

"Do you want me to?" he peered down at her.

She gave a little tortured gasp. "I think I shall die!" she said, as if to herself. She caught his stirrup leather and shook it. "Father is out of the house—I don't know where. Go away! Don't make him angry!"

He leaned over and released her hold. "I'll be back tomorrow," he said quietly, and rode on. He was not surprised when, half way down the shadowy wagon track, the soft ping of a .22 bullet sang through the air above his head. It was evident that there had been no intention of actually hitting him, otherwise a heavier caliber would have been used.

He grinned sardonically in the dusk. "Warning!" he said to himself. "He's really a dangerous fool after all! This is war!"

In the half-light of the approaching night a mountain lion stepped into view down the road and, on padded feet, disappeared into the trees on the further side.

"Jane!" said Stuart.

He made camp by a little stream just beyond the line of Prendegast's place. Then he fastened a headstall securely to Minnie's head and tied to it a sheet of paper on which he had written: "Am at Prendegast's. Hurry and get here. Trouble! Bad! Bring help! Stuart." He slapped Minnie on the flank. "Get along!" he said. "Nevill will probably be in bed, but someone will pick you up before tomorrow is far gone. Don't graze too much."

He cooked and ate his supper. When he had washed the dishes he carried his bed deep into the trees. In case Prendegast was looking for him this would puzzle him. After he had found the place he wanted he set off westward, in the direction of the lake. The least he could do would be to watch the cabin all night; there was no telling what a man of Prendegast's unstable equilibrium would do, even to a person he loved; besides, Stuart reflected, there might be a chance for him to steal back his cartridges. The moon came up, turning the forest to a place of magic light and darkness. Stuart kept to the shadow of the trees.

The ranch house, when he came to it, seemed sunk in sleep—held in an enchanted pool of silver and silence. Stuart took off his boots and stepped forward in his thick wool stockings. From the edge of the trees he watched for a few minutes before he crossed the meadow on noiseless feet and crept up along the porch to the front door. It was open, the moonlight streaming into the hall. Swathed in the misty illumination. Prendegast, stretched out on a divan, slept, and at his feet slept Jane. Stuart's heart stopped beating; the blood surged to his head; but a moment afterward he smiled—this was better than he had hoped; he would at least know where Prendegast was—that is, if he was actually asleep. He listened. In the silence arose the regular breathing of both the man and the beast. It should not be very difficult to find the place where Prendegast kept his cartridges. Stuart stepped forward. A board creaked and he froze into immobility. He slowly focused his gaze in the direction on the divan. Jane had lifted her head and was staring at him with eyes that gleamed like yellow coals. He waited, every muscle tense. She sighed and put her head down again between her paws.

It took Stuart only a second to pass the end of the divan and reach the table beyond. He swept the surface at a glance. There were no cartridges there. He started to open the drawer. A voice behind him, disinterested and cool, said: "Throw up your hands, Stuart! I'm going to kill you." He looked over his shoulder and saw Prendegast sitting up on the divan, the moonlight glistening on the barrel of a revolver.

Stuart jumped to one side, ducked, and leaped. Prendegast shot twice, and the next moment Stuart was on top of him. In the silence the house awoke to sound. The acrid smell of black powder was in Stuart's nostrils. He had time to be thankful that this at least was not an automatic that Prendegast was using. On the porch outside the magpie awoke to furious anxiety. "Yes! Yes!" he shrieked. "Get to hell out of here!"

Somewhere, ridiculously far out in the moonlight it seemed to Stuart, was the hand holding the revolver to the wrist of which, with his own left hand, he was clinging. If he could only keep it away from him! If he only could! Could he? He had imagined himself stronger than most men, but this writhing figure beneath him had a steel-like strength such as he had never before encountered. Very slowly the hand came down Stuart pushing against it, slowly, until the black muzzle of the revolver wavered against Stuart's shoulder Beyond that the hand could not come for it had reached a segment of the arc more favorable to Stuart's pressure. Stuart, out of a corner of one eye, watched the black muzzle. He tried to draw his shoulder down. The black muzzle spat fire. A numbing pain ran along his arm. He lifted himself to his feet with a gigantic effort and shook the other man loose. This was no longer an equal fight; he would have to get out of it. He tore the sleeve of his right arm loose from Prendegast's grasp and fled down the hall and through the back door. As he went, Prendegast fired twice and cried out: "Get him, you damn Jane! Get him! What use are you?"

The open space behind the house seemed to Stuart impossibly wide and bare; bad shot as Prendegast had already proven himself to be, he could not fail to hit even a running mark under such conditions. Half way to the trees, and to the right, was the barn; if he, Stuart, could make this, he could come out through the rear of the building and so reach in safety the forest beyond. He flung himself upon the stout timber door. It was locked by a heavy bolt on the outside. Stuart shot the bolt back, opened the door, and slammed it behind him. A bullet from Prendegast's revolver ripped the wood above him. In the warm darkness, heavy with the scent of horses and old hay, Stuart barred the door and ran across to the rear wall. He lit a match. He did not realize, until he did so, how covered his sleeve and hand were with blood. He felt suddenly very faint; and then he uttered an exclamation and strode over to a pile of sacking in one corner. Lying upon it, watching him with wide eyes, her mouth gagged with a silk handkerchief and her feet and hands tied, was the girl. The match went out. Stuart, with an oath, took out his knife and cut the rope and undid the handkerchief. "Can you stand up?" he asked.

"Yes, I think so," she answered faintly.

"We'll have to get out of here," he continued. "I've already lost all my advantage." He chuckled hysterically. "I was a damn fool," he said. "I've no cartridges, and somehow I couldn't realize until too late just how dangerous your father is. Where's the back door?"

Her voice reached him small and terrified. "There is no back door," she answered. "The walls are of solid log."

Stuart was silent for a moment. "Very well then," he said at length; "I've been a fool again. "We're trapped. Come here and we'll see what he's up to."

She followed him back to the door. Through a crack he looked out upon the moonlit open space and the house beyond. "Look!" he whispered and drew her nearer. Before the ranch-house door, Prendegast, a whip in his hand, was punishing Jane. "That's for not helping him with me," said Stuart. The girl gasped and drew back. Stuart looked again. The whip rose and fell with furious regularity. When Prendegast was done, he flung down the whip and disappeared into the house, returning a moment later with a rifle. Jane lay where he had left her.

Prendegast strode up to the barn door. He was evidently quite sure by now that Stuart was unarmed. He spoke quietly. "I will commence shooting," he said, "through the crack above the seventh log and then I will work down. Sooner or later I'll get you. There's no loft, nor any beam for you to hang to. I've plenty of ammunition." In the moonlight his great height, his long pointed beard, made him an allegorical figure of the wilderness.

Stuart drew the girl to him. "You'd better kiss me," he said. "I don't know but"—— He thrust her aside. "Look out!" he screamed through the crack in the door. "Look out!" He had seen the black shadow of a flying body, and the next moment Jane struck Prendegast between the shoulders.

When Nevill, four hours later, galloped up the winding wagon track with six other men with him, he found a white faced girl nursing a man delirious from a wound in his shoulder, and, in the open space behind the house, a dead man lying with his face to the moon.

Reflections of a Bachelor Girl

By Helen Rowland.

LIFE is a movie-drama, in which the most successful people are the woman who can register indifference, when she is in love, and the man who can register love, when he is indifferent.

Romance is just the froth on the soda water, flirtation just the bubble in the champagne, sentiment just the sparkle in the wine—but what would life be without the froth, the bubble and the sparkle?

A man is like an ostrich; so long as he can deceive himself, he dwells in the happy conviction that no woman on earth can see through him.

A woman's charms may "intoxicate" a man, before marriage; but he can no longer claim that she "drove him to drink" afterward, considering what a roundabout and expensive way he has to go to find it.

At 17, it requires all a girl's energy and self-control to look bored and cynical—when she is having the time of her life.

Every man loves a good woman—on theory; an intelligent woman—on principle; and a beautiful woman—on sight.

A woman has reached "the age of discretion," not when she knows a lot about life, but when she knows enough not to tell it.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Mrs. Buster Is Much Talked About.

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

You'll find when all is said and done
That gossip has respect for none.
—Peter Rabbit.

OF course, the news that there was a strange bear in the Green Forest soon spread. Peter Rabbit couldn't have kept his tongue still to save him if he had wanted to, and he didn't want to. It isn't often that Peter has such a chance to spread real news, and he made the most of this. He was so eager to be the first to carry the news through the Green Forest and over the Green Meadows that he almost forgot to eat, and when Peter forgets to eat he is very much excited, indeed.

At first no one would believe Peter. Blackey the Crow told him that he must have dreamed it. But no sooner had Peter started on to tell someone else than Blacky headed straight for that part of the Green Forest where Peter had seen Mrs. Buster. So did Reddy Fox and Old Man Coyote and all the others who could. They didn't believe Peter, but they wanted to be sure.

Of course, they found that Peter told the truth and at once there was the greatest excitement among the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows. There hadn't been such excitement since the day Buster Bear himself had been discovered there. And how the tongues did fly! Of course, Peter told all that he had learned from Buster, how the stranger was really Mrs. Buster, and that despite the brown coat she was really a Black Bear. The others found this just as hard to believe as had Peter.

"I don't believe it," declared Sammy Jay. "I don't believe it. Why should a Black Bear wear a brown coat? I don't believe it. Do you, Reddy Fox?"

Reddy looked up at Sammy Jay and grinned. "I won't say I believe it," he replied, "but I won't say I don't believe it. You see it is quite possible that Buster told the truth."

"No, I don't see!" retorted Sammy Jay obstinately. "You are a Red Fox. Did you ever see a brown Red Fox?"

"No," replied Reddy, "no, I can't say that I ever did. But have you forgotten that son of mine who had a black coat? If there can be a black Red Fox, why not a brown Black Bear?"

Sammy looked just as he felt—foolish. He had forgotten all about that black-coated son of Reddy's. "That's so," said he slowly. "Well, perhaps it is true that Mrs. Buster is a Black Bear. If she is I don't think much of her taste. Her coat isn't nearly as handsome as Buster's."

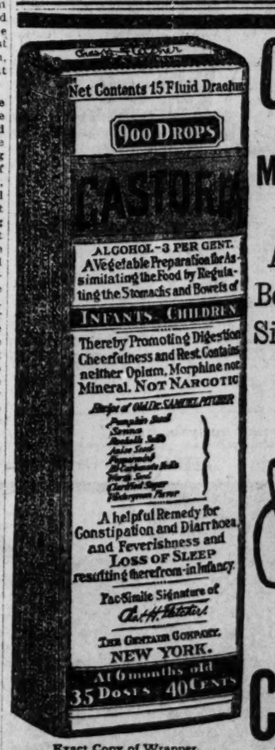

Blacky the Crow nodded in approval. "You said something then, Sammy," said he. "What anyone would want a black for brown for is beyond me."

"Probably she didn't have anything to say about it," remarked Reddy Fox dryly. "I've noticed that most folks take what Old Mother Nature gives them and say nothing. The main thing is Mrs. Buster is a Bear and that makes two Bears here in the Green Forest. That is one too many, to my way of thinking."

Timid little Whitefoot the Wood Mouse, peeping out of a little hole in a tall stump, nodded his head in agreement. "You said something then, Reddy Fox," he squeaked. "You certainly said something then. The question is, What are we going to do about it? We ought to drive her out of the Green Forest."

Everybody laughed. The idea of timid little Whitefoot doing anything to drive great big Mrs. Bear out of the Green Forest was funny. Shrewd, crafty Reddy Fox was the first to stop laughing. "Of course," said he slowly, "we can't drive her out, but if we really don't want her here we might frighten her out. I don't say it can be done, but it might be done. She wasn't invited here by any of us. I don't know of any one but Buster who wants her here. We might call a meeting and talk it over."

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

OLD AND NEW.

Whenever a statesman was stirred
To answer a colleague's attack
With a shorter and uglier word,
Each went to a gun store and had himself heeled,
Enlisted a friend for a second,
The better debater was reckoned.

There is force and directness in lead;
Its logic cannot be withstood;
A quarrel is settled for good.
We might have continued the duelling fad
As a means to promote legislation,
Except for the baleful effect that it had

We have learned to exert self-control.
The statesman who reached for his gun
Now reaches, instead, for his roll.
If a Congressman says that another one lies,
In his face the long-green will be shaken
"I'll bet you a thou' you're mistaken!"

For we who sit by and look on
Are sure that there isn't a chance
For pistols and coffee at dawn.
But though we still thrill as we read of the days
When the gun was an honor-assuager,
It's wiser to fight with a wager.

PRETTY DANGEROUS.

It's not the sleeping sickness that troubles our statesmen so much as the dreaming disease.

BY DEGREES.

Perhaps we had better not insist that Europe disarm till we can disarm our own gunmen.
